d) Competition

i. Robinsons Malls

RLC has two major competitors in its Commercial Centers Division—SM Prime Holdings, Inc. (SMPHI) and Ayala Land, Inc. (ALI). Each of these companies has certain distinct advantages over RLC, including SMPHI's considerably larger mall portfolio and ALI's access to prime real estate in the heart of Metro Manila. In terms of total assets and equity accounts as of September 30, 2025, the mall segment of SMPHI has ₱528.6 billion and ₱196.1 billion while the mall segment of ALI has ₱292.9 billion and ₱163.8 billion, respectively. There are a number of other players in the shopping mall business in the Philippines, but they are significantly smaller and, because of the high barriers to entry into the business (which include cost, branding, reputation, scale and access to prime real estate), RLC expects that it will continue to compete principally with these two major companies in this market sector for the foreseeable future. Shopping mall operators also face competition from specialty stores, general merchandise stores, discount stores, warehouse outlets, street markets and online stores.

RLC believes its strength is in its mixed-use, retail, commercial and residential developments. RLC operates on the basis of its flexibility in developing malls with different sizes depending on the retail appetite of the market per location. It is focused on balancing its core tenant mix and providing a more distinctive shopping mall experience to its loyal customers, as well as its ability to leverage the brand equity and drawing power of its affiliated companies in the retail trade business.

ii. Residential Division

RLC Residences

RLC Residences continues to develop beautiful, well-designed, high-quality homes catered to young professionals, starting and growing families under the BC1 segment looking for a home in the city that they can proudly call their own. Competitors such as Alveo Land, MEG, Filinvest Land, Inc. (FLI), SM Prime Holdings (SMPHI), and DMCI Homes. target the young professionals and starting families under this bracket. There are also a number of players who try to compete in this segment of the market with one or two projects. Projects under RLC Residences remain among the top-of-mind developments as a result of growing experienced sales and distribution networks and convenient locations. Projects are located within Central Business Districts or RLC's mixed-use development.

RLC Residences has numerous competitors in the middle-income segment. This is in part a function of the fact that, as compared to other business areas, RLC does not enjoy the same "early mover" advantage. Currently, they are companies like Avida Land (AL), FLI, SMPHI, and DMCI Homes. As of September 30, 2025, segment assets and equity accounts amounted to ₱85.6 billion and ₱46.1 billion, respectively, for the Real Estate Operations of FLI while segment assets and equity accounts of the Residential segment of SMPHI as of September 30, 2025 amounted to ₱380.9 billion and ₱169.8 billion, respectively. Based on public records and independent industry reports and its own market knowledge, the Company believes that it is among the top five middle-ranged condominium developers in the Philippines in terms of revenues from sales. The Company believes that it can successfully compete in this market segment on the basis of its brand name, technical expertise, financial standing and track record of successfully completed, quality projects.

The brand strives to compete with developers who have already established their names in tapping the elite market. RLC Residences aims to increase its share of this market segment and steer buyers of competitors such as Ayala Land Premier, Rockwell Land Corporation (ROCK), Century Properties Group, Inc. (CPGI) and Megaworld Corporation (MEG) to its developments. ROCK's Residential Development total assets and equity accounts as of September 30, 2025 amounted to ₱68.2 billion and ₱30.6 billion, respectively; CPGI's

Real Estate Development total assets and equity accounts as of September 30, 2025 amounted to ₱72.0 billion and ₱23.4 billion, respectively, while MEG's Real Estate segment assets and equity accounts as of September 30, 2025 amounted to ₱291.0 billion and ₱178.6 billion, respectively.

Recognizing the growing housing market in the Philippines, RLC continues to embark on building subdivisions through its RLC Residences brand. For families aspiring to own their first home or upgrade to a better abode and neighborhood, RLC Residences provides them themed, master-planned, secure and gated horizontal subdivisions in key urbanized cities nationwide ideal to start the good life. RLC Residences offers horizontal developments that caters to the affordable and mid-cost segment, as well as the premier market.

RLC Residences' competitors in these markets are: Ayala Land Inc., Filinvest Land Inc., Vista Land & Lifescapes, Inc., Aboitiz Land Inc. and Cebu Landmasters Inc. Also competing in the affordable segment are PHirst Park Homes, Inc. and and 8990 Holdings Inc.

RLC Residences has an established presence in key locations nationwide, with projects in Laoag, Tarlac, Puerto Princesa, Bacolod, and General Santos. It has also built a strong reputation in strategic areas through the development of several projects in Pampanga, Bulacan, Antipolo, Angono, Cavite, Batangas, Cebu, Cagayan de Oro, and Davao. RLC Residences is committed to provide green and sustainable communities with lifestyle amenities in response to the needs of the market.

The Company believes that its reliability to deliver and consistent quality products at an affordable price has contributed to its ability to generate sales and its overall success.

iii. Robinsons Offices

Robinsons Offices recognizes that competition in the office space market is driven by key factors such as location, accessibility, quality and reliability of design and equipment, the developer's reputation, availability of space, sustainability, and PEZA registration. Its primary competitors include Ayala Land Inc. (ALI), Megaworld, and SM. In terms of total assets and equity accounts as of September 30, 2025, the offices segment of ALI has ₱222.6 billion and ₱193.8 billion, respectively.

Robinsons Offices leverages its competitive edge through the strategic locations of its buildings, which are integrated into mixed-use developments near malls, residential communities, and public transportation hubs. These locations ensure accessibility and convenience, making them attractive to a diverse range of tenants, including companies in the IT-Business Process Management (IT-BPM) sector, corporate headquarters, and traditional office users.

Guided by a commitment to innovation, Robinsons Offices continues to redefine the future of workspaces by creating premium, accessible, future-ready, and sustainable office environments. The Company is dedicated to elevating workspace standards across its entire portfolio, striving to be the preferred office landlord. By delivering innovative, sustainable, and award-winning office developments, Robinsons Offices empowers businesses to thrive while continuously raising the bar for office spaces in the Philippines.

iv. Robinsons Hotels and Resorts

RLC competes in different markets for its hotels and resorts segments. Across all of its hotel formats, its main competitors in terms of number of rooms are: Ayala Land, Alliance Global Group Inc., SM Hotels and Conventions Corporation, Filinvest Land Inc and Double Dragon Corporation. Aside from these large hotel owners and developers, there is a growing number of small independent players and foreign entrants that increases the competitive landscape of hospitality in the country.

RLC continues to strengthen its market leadership through elevating its portfolio of hotel brands, enhancing its brand standards, and investing in strategic locations and its people. With RLC's longstanding expertise in developing and managing hotels, the Company is focused on scaling the business while improving standards leading up to world-class quality.

v. Robinsons Logistics and Industrial Facilities

Demand for logistics facilities continues to be strong. Under its RLX Logistics Facilities brand, RLX develops excellent quality logistics facilities in industrial centers of growth around the Philippines. The biggest competitors of RLC in the development of logistics facilities are SM Commercial Properties Group and Ayalaland Logistics Holdings Corp.

vi. Robinsons Destination Estates

RLC is an accomplished developer of integrated developments. RLC has developed four major mixed used developments in Metro Manila alone, namely, Robinsons Galleria, Robinsons Forum, Robinsons Manila, and Robinsons Magnolia. These projects are anchored by Robinsons Mall with components of Office and/or Residential and/or Hotel/Leisure. Furthermore, it continues to develop its destination estates namely Bridgetowne, Sierra Valley and Montclair. RDE remains focused on this fast-growing development format.

Major developers are still into integrated developments. Developers have been acquiring big parcels of land and incorporating different real estate components to attract investors and customers. The biggest competitors of RLC in integrated developments are Ayala Land, Inc., Megaworld Corp, Filinvest, Inc., Double Dragon Properties Corp., and SM Prime Holdings.

RDE will harness opportunities for synergies with RLC's other business units: Robinsons Malls, Residential, Robinsons Hotels and Resorts, and Robinsons Offices. RLC, having years of experience in these real estate components, will thus have a competitive advantage. With efficient master planning, innovative designs, and quality construction, RLC is committed to sustainable and future-proof communities.

e) Sources and Availability of Raw Materials and Suppliers

Construction and development of malls, high-rise office and condominium units as well as land and housing construction are awarded to various reputable construction firms subject to a bidding process and management's evaluation of the price and qualifications of and its relationship with the relevant contractor. Most of the materials used for construction are provided by the contractors themselves in accordance with the underlying agreements, although sometimes the Company will undertake to procure the construction materials when it believes that it has an advantage in doing so. The Company typically will require the contractor to bid for a project on an itemized basis, including separating the costs for project materials that it intends to charge the Company. If the Company believes that it is able to acquire any of these materials (such as cement or steel) at a more competitive cost than is being quoted to it, it may remove these materials from the project bid and enter into a separate purchase order for the materials itself, to reduce project costs.

f) Customers

RLC has a broad base of customers, comprised of both local and foreign individuals, and institutional clients. The Company is not dependent on a single or a few customers, the loss or any of which would have a material adverse effect on the business taken as a whole.

g) Employees and Labor

As of December 31, 2025, RLC and its subsidiaries have a total of 12,608 employees, including 4,145 permanent full-time managerial and support employees and approximately 8,463 contractual and agency employees, grouped by business divisions as follows:

Business	Permanent Employees	Contract Employees	Total Employees
Robinsons Malls	1,537	5,205	6,742
Robinsons Offices	197	879	1076
Residential Division	701	294	995
Robinsons Hotels and Resorts	1,668	1,974	3,642
Robinsons Logistics and Industrial Facilities	13	18	31
Robinsons Destination Estates	29	93	122
Total	4,145	8,463	12,608

The 4,145 permanent full-time managerial and support employees of RLC and its subsidiaries as of December 31, 2025 by function is as follows:

Function	No. of Permanent Employees
Operational	2,071
Administrative	1,306
Technical	768
Total	4,145

The Company foresees an increase in its manpower complement to 4,352 permanent employees in the ensuing twelve (12) months.

Some of the Robinsons Hotels and Resorts employees are covered by a collective bargaining agreement which will mature on September 30, 2030 for Holiday Inn and Suites Manila Galleria and on December 31, 2030 for Crowne Plaza Manila Galleria. The Company's other employees are not unionized or party to collective bargaining agreements with the Company.

Vacation leaves, sick leaves, 13th month pay and retirement benefits are provided to employees, among others, subject to company policies and procedures.

h) Industry Risk

The Company substantially conducts its business activities in the Philippines where majority of its assets are located.

Demand for and prevailing prices of shopping mall, office and warehouse leases, as well as the development of the Philippine hospitality sector are directly related to the strength of the Philippine domestic economy and the overall levels of business activity in the Philippines. The Philippine economy is projected to grow by approximately 5.0% to 6.0% in 2026, supported by stable domestic demand, resilient consumer spending, sustained remittances from Overseas Filipino Workers (OFWs), and continued strength in key sectors such as business process outsourcing.

Robinsons Malls is directly affected by level of consumption, demographic structure, social trends, changing spending patterns and consumer sentiments in the Philippines, which are in turn heavily influenced by economic, political and security conditions in the Philippines. The level of consumption is largely determined by the income levels of consumers which is supplemented by a large number of Overseas Filipino Workers (OFWs) and expatriate Filipinos employed in countries around the world. This exposes RLC to changes in the specific economies of the countries where OFWs are deployed, as well as fluctuations in remittance flows which may affect consumer spending and retail demand.

The office sector continues to face elevated vacancy rates, standing at approximately 19% to 20% as of late 2025 and early 2026 based on industry reports. However, there is optimism for gradual recovery as net take-up improves and new supply moderates. Industry experts project that vacancy rates will gradually taper down through 2026 and beyond as demand continues to recover. As businesses adapt to evolving workplace demands, RLC remains focused on attracting quality tenants by providing premium office spaces that meet the highest standards of safety, functionality and sustainability. The Information Technology-Business Process Management (IT-BPM) outsourcing sector remains one of the key drivers for office space demand which fuels the performance and profitability of Robinsons Offices. The growth of the IT-BPM sector continues to be supported by the availability of Information and Communications Technology (ICT) hubs across the country which provide sufficient labor supply and upgraded talent ecosystem, strong ICT infrastructure and service capabilities, competitive cost structure and overall business environment supported by sound macroeconomic fundamentals and geopolitical stability.

Robinsons Hotels and Resorts, on the other hand, is anchored on the development of Philippine tourism which is contingent on the rate of response of the Philippine government to address infrastructure challenges across the country. The industry is likewise dependent on the continued recovery of foreign tourist arrivals to the country, which was severely impacted after the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. The tourism sector is expected to continue its recovery trajectory in 2026, supported by improving international arrivals, sustained domestic travel, and additional hotel room supply coming onstream.

On the development side of the Company's business, RLC is mainly engaged in domestic residential development. The property market has been cyclical where property values have been affected by confidence in the economy as well as the interest rate environment and other macroeconomic conditions.

Global pandemics (such as the COVID-19 outbreak) and economic/political uncertainties in the Philippines may have adverse effects on consumer spending habits, construction costs, availability of labor and materials and other factors affecting the Company and its businesses. Notably, global health outbreaks can also have a potential material impact on the tourism and hospitality sector as well as the demand for shopping mall spaces given travel restrictions and social-distancing protocols. Significant expenditures associated with investment in real estate, such as real estate taxes, maintenance costs and debt payments, generally cannot be correspondingly reduced if changes in the Philippine property market or the Philippine economy cause a decrease in revenues from the Company's properties. Because majority of RLC's businesses are in the Philippines, reduced levels of economic growth, adverse changes in the country's political or security situation, or weaker performance of the country's property development market generally may materially adversely affect RLC's financial performance, position and profitability.

RLC operates in a highly competitive industry. The Company's future growth and development is dependent, in large part, on the availability and affordability of large tracts of land suitable for development. As the Company and its competitors attempt to locate sites for development, it may become more difficult to locate parcels of suitable size in locations and at prices acceptable to the Company, particularly in Metro Manila and other urban areas. To the extent that the Company is unable to acquire suitable land at acceptable prices, its growth prospects could be limited and its business and results of operations could be adversely affected.

A number of other commercial center and residential developers and real estate services companies, some with greater financial and other resources and more attractive land banks than the Company, compete with RLC in various aspects of its business. Competition from other real estate developers and real estate services companies may adversely affect RLC's ability to develop and sell its properties or attract and retain tenants, and continued development by these and other market participants could result in saturation of the market for commercial and residential real estate.

All of these properties are fully owned by the Company and none of which are subject to any mortgage, lien or any form of encumbrance. The Company also enters into joint venture arrangements with landowners in order to optimize their capital resources. In line with this, mall operators must secure the required mayor's permit or municipal license before operating. In addition, no mall shall be made operational without complying first with the provisions of the fire code and other applicable local ordinances. Furthermore, shopping malls with food establishments must obtain a sanitary permit from the Department of Health. It is also compulsory for shopping malls discharging commercial wastewater to apply for a wastewater discharge permit from the DENR and to pay the fee incidental to the permit.

As a tourism-related establishment, shopping malls may obtain accreditation from the Department of Tourism. A shopping mall can only be accredited upon conformity with the minimum physical, staff and service requirements promulgated by the Department of Tourism.

For the shopping malls owned by the Company, RLC has ensured that it is compliant with all of the above regulations.

b) Residential Condominium and Housing and Land Projects

Presidential Decree No. 957 (The Subdivision and Condominium Buyers' Protective Decree) as amended, is the principal statute which regulates the development and sale of real property as part of a condominium project or subdivision. The law covers subdivision projects and all areas included therein for residential, commercial, industrial and recreational purposes as well as condominium projects for residential or commercial purposes. It also sets out standards for lower density developments.

Republic Act No. 4726 (The Condominium Act), on the other hand, is the primary law governing condominiums. The law covers the legal definition of a condominium, the rights of a unit owner, and the rules governing transfers, conveyances and partitions in condominiums.

The Department of Human Settlements and Urban Development (DHSUD) is the administrative agency of the Government which, together with local government units, enforces these laws and has jurisdiction to regulate the real estate trade and business. Subdivision or condominium units may be sold or offered for sale only after a license to sell (LTS) has been issued by the DHSUD. The LTS may be issued only against a performance bond posted to guarantee the completion of the construction of the subdivision or condominium project and compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

All subdivision and condominium plans are subject to approval by the relevant Local Government Unit (LGU) in which the project is situated and by the DHSUD. The development of subdivision and condominium projects can commence only after the DHSUD has issued a development permit. Approval of such plans is conditional on, among other things, the developer's financial, technical and administrative capabilities. Alterations of approved plans which affect significant areas of the project, such as infrastructure and public facilities, also require the prior approval of the LGU and DHSUD.

Owners of or dealers in real estate projects are required to obtain licenses to sell before making sales or other dispositions of lots or real estate projects. Republic Act No. 9646 (The Real Estate Service Act of the Philippines) provides that real estate consultants, appraisers, assessors and brokers must pass the requisite exams and be duly registered and licensed by the Professional Regulation Commission (PRC), while real estate salespersons, or those who act for a real estate broker to facilitate a real estate transaction, only need to be accredited by the PRC.

Project permits and the LTS may be suspended, cancelled or revoked by the DHSUD by itself or upon a verified complaint from an interested party for reasons such as non-delivery of title to fully paid buyers or deviation from approved plans. A license or permit to sell may only be suspended, cancelled or revoked after notice to the developer has been served and all parties have been given an opportunity to be heard in compliance with the DHSUD's rules of procedure and other applicable laws.

Residential subdivision developments must comply with applicable laws and standards regarding the suitability of the site, road access, necessary community facilities, open spaces, water supply, the sewage disposal system, electrical supply, lot sizes, the length of the housing blocks and house construction. Under current regulations, a developer of a residential subdivision is required to reserve at least 30% of the gross land area of such subdivision for open space for common uses, which include roads and recreational facilities. A developer of a commercial subdivision is required to reserve at least 3.5% of the gross project area for parking and pedestrian malls, but the minimum parking area requirement may be further increased by ordinances promulgated by LGUs.

Republic Act No. 7279 (Urban Development and Housing Act of 1992), as amended by Republic Act No. 10884, requires developers of proposed subdivision projects to develop an area for socialized housing equivalent to at least 15% of the total subdivision area or total subdivision project cost and at least 5% of condominium area or project cost, at the option of the developer, in accordance with the standards set by the DHSUD. Alternatively, the developer may opt to buy socialized housing bonds issued by various accredited government agencies or enter into joint venture arrangements with other developers engaged in socialized housing development. The Company has benefited from providing low-income housing or projects of such types which are financially assisted by the government. These policies and programs may be modified or discontinued in the future.

The Government may also adopt regulations which may have the effect of increasing the cost of doing business for real estate developers. Under R.A. No. 10884, income derived by domestic corporations from the development and sale of socialized housing is exempt from project related income taxes, capital gains tax on raw lands used for the project, value-added tax for the project contractor concerned, transfer tax for both raw completed projects, and donor's tax for lands certified by the LGUs to have been donated for socialized housing purposes. Under the current Investment Priorities Plan issued by the Board of Investments, mass housing projects including development and fabrication of housing components, are eligible for government incentives subject to certain policies and guidelines. In the future, since the sale of socialized housing units comprise a portion of homes sold by the Company, any changes in the tax treatment of income derived from the sale of socialized housing units may affect the effective rate of taxation of the Company.

c) Hotels

To encourage inbound investments and economic growth, the Philippine Board of Investments (BOI) as operated by the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI), provides tax incentive packages to eligible businesses operating in the Philippines. Enterprises that provide tourism-related services fall under the eligible industries for these incentives.

All hotels and resorts operated by the Company are compliant with the Hotel Code and registered with the Board of Investments.

Since the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic in 2021, the Philippine hospitality industry has been subjected to various implementing rules and regulations set by the government's Inter-Agency Task Force (IATF) and Department of Tourism. These guidelines are regularly updated according to the requirements of community quarantine classifications intended to manage and curb the pandemic. As the country eases out of the pandemic, government restrictions on mobility and travel requirements have generally been lifted.

d) Zoning and Land Use

Under the agrarian reform law currently in effect in the Philippines and the regulations issued thereunder by the DAR, land classified for agricultural purposes as of or after 15 June 1988, cannot be converted to non-agricultural use without the prior approval of DAR.

Land use may be also limited by zoning ordinances enacted by local government units. Once enacted, land use may be restricted in accordance with a comprehensive land use plan approved by the relevant local government unit. Lands may be classified under zoning ordinances as commercial, industrial, residential or agricultural. While a procedure for change of allowed land use is available, this process may be lengthy and cumbersome.

e) Special Economic Zone

The Philippine Economic Zone Authority ("PEZA") is a government corporation that operates, administers and manages designated special economic zones ("Ecozones") around the country. Ecozones, which are generally created by proclamation of the President of the Philippines, are areas earmarked by the government for development into balanced agricultural, industrial, commercial, and tourist/recreational regions.

An Ecozone may contain any or all of the following: industrial estates, export processing zones, free trade zones, and tourist/recreational centers. PEZA registered enterprises locating in an Ecozone are entitled to fiscal and non-fiscal incentives such as income tax holidays and duty-free importation of equipment, machinery and raw materials.

Information technology ("IT") enterprises offering IT services (such as call centers, and business process outsourcing using electronic commerce) are entitled to fiscal and non-fiscal incentives if they are PEZA-registered locators in a PEZA-registered IT Park, IT Building, or Ecozone. An IT Park is an area which has been developed into a complex capable of providing infrastructures and other support facilities required by IT enterprises, as well as amenities required by professionals and workers involved in IT enterprises, or easy access to such amenities. An IT Building is an edifice, a portion or the whole of which, provides such infrastructure, facilities and amenities.

PEZA requirements for the registration of an IT Park or IT Building differ depending on whether it is located in or outside Metro Manila. These PEZA requirements include clearances or certifications issued by the city or municipal legislative council, the DAR, the National Water Resources Board, and the DENR.

The Company actively seeks PEZA registration of its buildings, as this provides significant benefits to the Company's tenants. PEZA registration provides significant tax incentives to those of the Company's customers that are PEZA-registered (they can, for example, avail themselves of income tax incentives such as income tax holidays or 5% gross income taxation), thereby making tenancy in the Company's PEZA-registered buildings potentially more attractive to them. As of calendar year 2023, a number of RLC malls and office buildings are PEZA-registered.

f) Effect of Existing or Probable Governmental Regulations on the Business

The existing regulatory and environmental/governmental regulations mentioned under "items 5a-e" as well as possible governmental regulations on the various business segments may affect the Company's profitability through possible reduction in revenues.

The aggregate cost of compliance with environmental laws covering all business segments including waste management, among others, amounted to ₱87.26 million, ₱106.95 million and ₱141.13 million in calendar years 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

g) Effect of COVID-19 on the Business

The COVID-19 pandemic, which was declared a global health emergency in early 2020, led to unprecedented disruptions across industries worldwide, including the Philippines. In response, the Philippine government implemented various quarantine measures, restricting business operations, public gatherings, and transportation. These restrictions significantly impacted economic activity, forcing businesses to recalibrate their strategies to adapt to evolving market conditions.

As the situation progressed, the Company continually adjusted its business model to align with shifting economic conditions and government directives. The accelerated adoption of digital solutions, operational efficiencies, and business continuity plans enabled the Group to navigate the challenges posed by the pandemic while maintaining full compliance with national and local regulations.

By 2024, the direct effects of COVID-19 on business operations had largely diminished, with the Philippine economy demonstrating resilience and stability. The Group's commercial centers, hotels, and retail operations have fully recovered, benefiting from increased consumer activity, a resurgence in domestic tourism, and the return of international travel. Office properties and industrial facilities remained stable, with sustained demand supporting growth. Construction activities have also resumed at full capacity, reflecting renewed investor confidence and market optimism.

While the pandemic accelerated structural shifts in business operations, including digital transformation and evolving consumer preferences, the Company's diversified portfolio and adaptive strategies positioned it well for sustained growth in the post-pandemic era. The company remains committed to operational excellence, market responsiveness, and long-term value creation for stakeholders.

RLC generated total gross revenues of ₱48.52 billion for calendar year 2025, an increase of 13% from ₱42.88 billion the previous year primarily driven by the strong performance of the Company's investment and development portfolios. As a result, EBIT and EBITDA increased by 11% and 10% as well to ₱19.62 billion and ₱25.70 billion, respectively. Consolidated net income improved by 5% versus the same period last year, totaling ₱16.17 billion for the full year. Meanwhile, net income attributable to equity shareholders of the parent entity increased by 2% to ₱13.47 billion. The modest growth in net income was mainly due to last year's non-core gains from the reclassification of the Company's investment in GoTyme and insurance as well as the temporary reduction in RLC's ownership in RCR from April to August 2024. Without the impact of the non-core gains, net income attributable to equity shareholders of the parent entity will result to a 9% growth, in line with EBIT increase.

Rental income increased by ₱2.04 billion or by 10% to ₱22.71 billion due to increase in the revenues of Robinsons Malls and Robinsons Offices. Robinsons Malls' increase in rental income was supported by higher tenants sales, increased foot traffic and contribution from newly opened malls. Robinsons Offices' improved performance was was supported by rental growth across its high-quality office developments in strategic locations as well as the contributions from newly opened offices.

Real estate sales increased by ₱3.82 billion or by 59% to ₱10.33 billion mainly due to the revenue recognition from prior year sales that reached the equity threshold and recognition of lease-to-own sales of ready-for-occupancy units.

Other revenues under Real Estate Operations decreased by ₱0.68 billion or by 8% mainly from lower earnings from residential joint ventures.

Revenues from Hotel Operations increased by ₱0.50 billion or by 8% to ₱6.50 billion driven by strong performance across all brands, particularly international partnerships and Fili Hotel and Nustar Hotel in 2025, RLC's own Filipino branded 5-star hotels.

Under Cost of Real Estate Operations, cost of rental services increased by 6% to ₱6.10 billion due to higher depreciation brought by newly opened mall and hotel properties and repairs and maintenance of existing properties. Cost of real estate sales is higher by 64% to ₱5.19 billion due to higher realized sales. Other costs of real estate operations increased by 12% due to higher utilities cost and contracted services.

Cost of Hotel Operations increased by 10% to ₱5.49 billion, aligned with its revenue growth.

General and administrative expenses slightly increased by 3% to ₱6.04 billion due to higher commission expense and salaries and wages year-on-year.

Interest expense slightly decreased by 1% to ₱2.20 billion resulting from settlement of matured loans in 2025, partially offset by higher accretion of interest on outstanding lease liabilities. Foreign exchange changed from a gain of ₱28 million to a loss of ₱5 million primarily attributable to movements in foreign exchange rates during the period. Other income - net decreased from ₱0.73 billion last year to ₱1.00 million this year mainly due to the one-time gain from the reclassification of the Company's investment in GoTyme and gain from insurance claims recognized in 2024.

As of December 31, 2025, total assets of the Group stood at ₱275.00 billion, an increase of 5% from ₱261.83 billion the previous year.

Cash and cash equivalents increased by 4% to ₱10.97 billion coming from the result of operations during the calendar year 2025, proceeds from the property-for-share swap, offset by capital expenditures and payment of maturing loans including interests during the year and payment of cash dividends and acquisition of treasury stock.

Receivables (current and noncurrent) increased by 13% to ₱29.99 billion mainly due to increase in installment contracts receivables resulting from additional sales reaching the equity threshold and lease-to-own sales.

Subdivision land, condominium and residential units for sale is almost flat versus last year, as higher realized cost of sales offset the additional expenditures incurred during the period.

Other current assets decreased by 21% to ₱3.61 billion from ₱4.55 billion last year mainly due to the completion of the sale of investment in GoTyme shares in 2025.

Investment properties-net is almost flat versus last year at ₱143.43 billion due to almost the same level of depreciation and additional capital expenditure during the year. On the other hand, property and equipment-net increased by 22% versus last year to ₱23.97 billion mainly due to construction activities for completed and upcoming hotel projects during the period, net of depreciation during the year.

Investments in joint ventures increased by 20% to ₱11.21 billion from ₱9.33 billion last year due to share in net income of joint ventures during the year.

Other noncurrent assets increased by 119% to ₱9.32 billion from ₱4.25 billion last year due to additional advances to land owners for committed land acquisitions.

Accounts payable and accrued expenses increased by 9% to ₱23.81 billion due to additional capital expenditures and timing of payment of expenses.

Contract liabilities, deposits and other current liabilities (current and noncurrent) increased by 7% to ₱23.42 billion. This mainly includes deposits from lessees and real estate buyers.

Income tax payable decreased by 27% to ₱0.07 billion mainly due to lower effective tax rate this year versus last year.

Loans payable (current and noncurrent) posted a net decrease of 26% to ₱39.53 billion due to the settlement of term loans with maturities in 2025 totaling ₱13.80 billion. This resulted to a debt-to-equity ratio of 23% as of December 31, 2025.

Deferred tax liabilities - net is higher by 6% or by ₱0.21 billion due to the recognition of additional taxable temporary differences during the period.

Equity attributable to shareholders of the Parent Company as of December 31, 2025 stood at ₱175.53 billion. It grew by 13% from ₱155.86 billion last year from the earnings in 2025 amounting to ₱13.47 billion and additional equity reserves from net changes in non-controlling interest of ₱10.08 billion, reduced by the payment of cash dividends of ₱3.60 billion, and repurchase of shares valued at ₱0.30 billion under the Company's share buyback program which was launched in November 2021.

RLC generated total gross revenues of ₱42.88 billion for calendar year 2024, an increase of 2% from ₱42.02 billion the previous year primarily driven by the strong performance of the Company's investment portfolio offset by the lower realized revenues of the residential division. As a result, both EBIT and EBITDA increased by 2% as well to ₱17.61 billion and ₱23.32 billion, respectively. Consolidated net income improved by 15% versus the same period last year, totaling ₱15.34 billion for the full year. Meanwhile, net income attributable to equity shareholders of the parent entity increased by 10% to ₱13.21 billion. This growth was mainly driven by a one-time gain from the reclassification of the Company's investment in GoTyme and the temporary reduction in RLC's ownership in RCR from April to August. After the SEC approved the property-for-share swap in September 2024, RLC's ownership in RCR reverted to 66%. Even without the impact of the reclassification and decrease in ownership, net income still showed an increase of 2%, in line with EBIT growth.

Robinsons Malls, accounting for 41% of total company revenues, generated revenues of ₱17.96 billion in 2024 marking an 11% increase versus last year. This was supported by higher tenants sales, increased foot traffic and contribution from new mall. Amusement revenues increased by 38% due to further re-opening of cinemas during 2024 and improved consumer spending. Meanwhile, EBITDA rose by 14% to ₱10.61 billion while EBIT is higher by 23% to ₱7.17 billion year-on-year.

Robinsons Offices posted an 8% increase in revenues to ₱7.95 billion in 2024 and contributed 19% to consolidated revenues. This improved performance is supported by rental growth across its high-quality office developments in strategic locations. EBITDA and EBIT growth in 2024 are flat compared to last year at ₱6.40 billion and ₱5.26 billion, respectively.

Contributing 20% to consolidated revenues, RLC Residences generated realized revenues of ₱8.78 billion in 2024, including ₱2.63 billion from equity share in joint venture projects. EBITDA and EBIT ended at ₱2.92 billion and ₱2.80 billion, respectively.

Robinsons Hotels and Resorts maintained its growth momentum in 2024, with revenues rising 31% versus last year to ₱6.00 billion, accounting for 14% of consolidated revenues. This was driven by strong performance across all brands, particularly international partnerships and Fili Hotel, RLC's own Filipino branded 5-star hotel coupled with strong food and beverage revenues in 2024. EBITDA grew 61% to ₱1.80 billion; while EBIT more than doubled to ₱0.98 billion or a 127% increase versus last year.

Robinsons Logistics and Industrial Facilities recorded a 33% increase in revenues versus last year to ₱0.92 billion, supported by sustained demand for industrial and warehouse spaces. In 2024, EBITDA and EBIT grew 35% and 38% to ₱0.86 billion and ₱0.67 billion, respectively, compared to the previous year.

In 2024, Robinsons Destination Estates recorded realized revenues of ₱1.22 billion from the deferred sale of parcels of land to joint venture entities, a 5% growth versus 2023. EBITDA and EBIT were up by 6% in 2024 compared to last year, amounting to ₱0.71 billion and ₱0.70 billion, respectively.

Cost of real estate sales is lower by 33% to ₱3.17 billion due to lower realized sales. Cost of amusement services increased by 34% from the previous year to ₱0.46 billion, as a function of higher amusement revenues. Cost of hotel operations increased by 21% to ₱5.01 billion, aligned with its robust revenue growth.

General and administrative expenses increased by 14% to ₱5.86 billion from ₱5.16 billion last year due to higher advertising and promotions, salaries and wages and taxes and licenses, partially offset by decrease in commission, among others.

Other income (losses) decreased from (₱2.11 billion) last year to (₱0.93 billion) this year mainly due to the one-time gain from the reclassification of the Company's investment in GoTyme, share in net loss of a joint venture in 2023 which is not present in 2024 as a result of the reclassification, and higher interest income, partially offset by increase in interest expense on loans.

Cash and cash equivalents increased by 84% to ₱10.54 billion coming from the result of operations during the calendar year 2024, proceeds from the property-for-share swap, new loans availed, offset by capital expenditures and payment of maturing loans including interests during the year and payment of cash dividends.

Receivables (current and noncurrent) increased by 10% to ₱26.52 billion mainly due to increase in installment contract receivables resulting from additional sales reaching the equity threshold and also due to higher accrued rent receivables as a result of higher rental revenue recognized upon application of the straight-lining provisions of PFRS 16.

Subdivision land, condominium and residential units for sale increased by 14% to ₱40.56 billion mainly due additional cost incurred on all ongoing projects.

Other current assets increased by 9% to ₱4.55 billion from ₱4.18 billion last year mainly due to the reclassification of investment in GoTyme, partially reduced by the release from escrow of cash held for land acquisitions and application of advances to lot owners to land acquisitions.

Total accounts payable and accrued expenses increased by 13% to ₱21.75 billion due to additional capital expenditures and timing of payment of expenses.

Loans payable (current and noncurrent) posted a net decrease of 1% to ₱53.22 billion mainly due to the net effect of availment of long-term loans and settlement of term loans with maturities in 2024. This resulted to a debt-to-equity ratio of 34% as of December 31, 2024.

RLC generated total gross revenues of ₱42.02 billion for calendar year 2023, a decrease of 8% from ₱45.50 billion the previous year mainly due to a high base in 2022 on account of the recognition of revenues from CDXY's Phase 2. EBIT and EBITDA continue to improve coming in for a 23% increase to ₱17.34 billion and 18% increase to ₱22.82 billion, respectively. This translated to a record consolidated net income of ₱13.37 billion, 20% higher versus the same period last year. Meanwhile, net income attributable to equity shareholders of the parent entity rose by 24% to ₱12.06 billion.

Robinsons Malls accounted for 38% of total company revenues to close at ₱16.21 billion in 2023, 24% higher versus previous year driven by sustained strength of consumer spending and robust retail sales and on the back of higher occupancy. Amusement revenues increased significantly by 79% due to re-opening of more cinemas during calendar year 2023. Meanwhile, EBITDA increased by 41% to ₱9.28 billion while EBIT ballooned by 94% to ₱5.85 billion year-on-year. Robinsons Malls continues to assert itself as the second largest mall operator in the country highlighted by its 54 lifestyle centers.

Robinsons Offices sustained its upward trajectory in 2023 with a 4% growth from the previous year, posting revenues at ₱7.36 billion and contributed 18% to consolidated revenues. This steady performance is primarily driven by the sustained occupancy of majority of its portfolio, which consists of 31 quality assets in strategic locations. EBITDA increased by 3% to ₱6.38 billion behind cost efficiencies while EBIT growth is flat at ₱5.26 billion due to the full year depreciation of offices completed in 2022.

RLC Residences posted realized revenues of ₱12.01 billion in 2023, contributing 28% to consolidated revenues. The robust performance was driven by higher collections and faster completion of the Company's residential projects coupled with significant contribution from its joint venture equity earnings. EBITDA and EBIT surged by 35% and 36% to ₱4.72 billion and ₱4.63 billion, respectively.

With the complete lifting of travel restrictions, resurgence of domestic tourism, and re-opening of international borders, Robinsons Hotels and Resorts' revenues almost doubled versus last year to ₱4.56 billion, accounting for 11% of consolidated revenues. Higher average room rates, increased food and beverage sales, and the revival of Meetings, Incentives, Conferences and Exhibitions (MICE) events positioned RLC's hospitality business on a trajectory for solid financial performance in 2023. EBITDA climbed 303% to ₱1.12 billion; while EBIT rose by 293% to ₱0.43 billion.

Robinsons Logistics and Industrial Facilities continues to make strides in its pursuit of becoming a market leader in the industrial and logistics sector. Industrial leasing revenues accelerated by 24% versus last year to ₱0.69 billion in 2023 driven by the full-year contribution of new industrial facilities. EBITDA and EBIT escalated 32% and 38% to end at ₱0.63 billion and ₱0.48 billion, respectively.

Robinsons Destination Estates (formerly Integrated Developments Division) realized revenues registered at ₱1.16 billion in 2023 from a portion of the deferred gain on the sale of parcels of land to joint venture entities, an 80% growth versus the previous year. EBITDA and EBIT amounted to ₱0.67 billion during the period.

Cost of real estate sales is lower by 66% to ₱4.75 billion since last year includes Phase 2 of CDXY. Cost of amusement services notably increased by 66% from the previous year to ₱0.34 billion, also as a function of significantly higher amusement revenues. Cost of hotel operations increased by 62% to ₱4.13 billion due to higher level of operations with the resurgence of tourism and also due to newly opened hotel in 2023.

General and administrative expenses increased by 19% to ₱5.16 billion from ₱4.35 billion last year due to increase in advertising and promotions, salaries and wages, and commission, among others.

Other income (losses) increased from (₱1.05 billion) last year to (₱2.11 billion) this year mainly due to higher interest expense, lower gain from foreign exchange which mainly relates to foreign currency denominated transactions of the Company's foreign subsidiary and higher share in net loss of a joint venture.

Materiality Process

RLC conducted a materiality review to update our list of material topics from the previous year. We identified our actual and potential, positive and negative impacts for the year 2025 across economic, environmental, and social topics. This was based on Company activities for the year, industry benchmarking, a review of material topics from the previous year, and consultation of the reporting standards of the Sustainability Accounting Standards Board (SASB). We also considered factors that could impact the business performance of RLC itself. This list was our basis for determining RLC's material topics for the year.

Our previous list of material topics was based on our prior materiality assessment in 2019, involving a series of workshops and discussions with key persons in our company as well as a cross-section of our stakeholders. This process helped widen our business perspective and enabled us to set approaches to improve our performance in both financial and non-financial aspects.

The following specific steps were undertaken in the previous materiality assessment, which set the foundations for our current list of topics:

1. Understanding our sustainability context through societal needs. This allowed us to identify which impacts are most material from the societal point of view.
2. Stakeholder engagement through regular meetings, surveys, interviews and focus group discussions. This helped us validate and enhance our material topics, putting emphasis on those most important to our stakeholders.
3. Assessing key topics, risks, and opportunities. We looked at the entire value chain of our different property types in both construction and operations, identifying sustainability topics that we should monitor and continually improve on. We considered the impacts of our activities, relevant risks and opportunities, and the capitals we rely on to sustain and grow our business. We identified focus areas by looking into the aspects for which we are best positioned to effect positive change.
4. Measuring performance and defining management approaches. In 2019, we obtained baseline data (2018) as a basis for measuring our performance on each of our material topics. Following the GRI Standards and consolidation guidance, we ensured that the metrics used were correct, and the data collected were accurate and comparable. We did an analysis of data gaps in each performance area and set up a procedure to systematically collect more data to better measure our sustainability performance. We also defined management approaches that will help us improve our performance in these areas.

We also referred to the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) to see how our impacts to the environment, economy, and society are linked to delivering on specific SDG targets.

Materiality is an iterative process for us. We will continue to review how we impact the environment and society, how we measure our performance in these impact areas, and how we can better communicate these to our stakeholders.

Important Note: The discussion of impacts, risks, opportunities, and management approaches may be made for groups of related topics instead of per individual topic. This makes the disclosure on management approach more focused and less repetitive.

Economic Performance and Procurement Practices

Impacts
In terms of economic performance, RLC reported PHP48.5 billion in total revenues, growing 13% from the previous year. The Company attributed its growth to the positive contributions each business unit made due to a fully recovered economy and high consumer spending. RLC's sustained profitability highlights the resilience of its strategic initiative amidst challenging market conditions. In 2025, about 82% or PHP39.6 billion of our revenue flowed back to society, through our major stakeholders, suppliers, employees, providers of capital, and the government. Our contribution to the economy is evaluated by our role in stimulating growth in the sectors in which we operate, including job creation, tourism, infrastructure development, foreign investment, and overall GDP

51% or PHP24.8 billion of the generated economic value was distributed to our suppliers in the form of payments. RLC continues to foster long-lasting partnerships with its communities, by actively promoting and supporting local suppliers that help local businesses to grow and expand, which in return, will have a beneficial impact on the overall Philippine economy.

By supporting commercial activities within and around its properties, RLC contributes to local and national economic development. Certain features, such as LEED certification, attract multinational companies to regional locations, boosting job opportunities in the area. RLC has played a pivotal role in generating employment opportunities across various sectors, including construction, property management, and retail industries. Furthermore, over 8,000 businesses were accommodated by our assets, including malls, office buildings, and hotels and resorts, contributing to the generation of over 133,000 employment opportunities.

As of 2025, RLC itself employed 3,627 employees. In the same year, 6% or PHP3.1 billion of the Company's generated economic value was allocated to salaries and wages.

Meanwhile, 5% or PHP2.4 billion of our generated economic value went to the government through tax payments, while 19% or PHP9.3 billion was distributed as dividends to our shareholders.

Lastly, through Robinsons Land Foundation Inc. (RLFI or RLove), RLC pursued its mission to assist the sustainable development of communities by investing in diverse programs and services with a specific emphasis on child welfare and education, health and nutrition, community development, and emergency response. In 2025, over PHP 5.9 million was directed to these programs, which are detailed under the Local Communities topic below.

19% of the total economic value was retained to finance ongoing and upcoming projects, ensuring the continuous growth of the Company.

Risks

Since 50% of our revenue flows directly towards our suppliers, our supply chain still represents the biggest risk of inequitable flow of economic value. Therefore, any unfair practice dealt with suppliers can constitute a risk to our capacity to flow value to society equitably.

In addition, the opening of RLC malls may divert customers from existing local businesses, reducing their incomes. To mitigate the impacts of this, RLC conducts assessments and offers economic opportunities to those affected, such as employment opportunities or space to locate in the mall.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks

Ensuring equitable flow of value:

To safeguard the proper flow of economic value to all our stakeholders, we continue to maintain the highest standards of corporate governance, including anti-corruption, in all our transactions.

We pay fair prices to all our stakeholders to ensure equitable distribution of economic value. Year-on-year, we closely monitor the total economic value distribution as a percentage of our revenue. Over the past five years, an average of about 80% of our revenues has flowed back to the economy. The retained value is strategically reinvested to propel future growth.

Fostering equitable distribution of economic opportunities:

RLC implements ethical sourcing policies that choose suppliers who show a dedication to fair labor practices, environmental sustainability, and social responsibility. By cultivating strong relationships with suppliers and promoting ethical business practices throughout their supply chains, companies can mitigate the risk of inequitable flow to suppliers and ensure the long-term sustainability of their businesses.

RLC's supplier relationship management program was established to promote fairness, transparency, and ethical practices in all its dealings with suppliers. The Company highly appreciates the contributions made by its suppliers and is actively committed to cultivating long-term partnerships with them. RLC recognizes that its suppliers play a critical role in its operations and success, and the Company is dedicated to fulfilling its responsibilities and obligations as a socially responsible and sustainable business partner.

Furthermore, RLC also partners with local suppliers for various projects. RLC recognizes that engaging with local sources can create a mutually beneficial scenario for both the Company and the local communities, fostering long-term relationships and contributing to the welfare of all parties involved. This provides locals with access to economic opportunities wherever we are located. We give priority to sourcing goods and services locally, if suppliers who meet our minimum standards are available in the locality. We only source in Metro Manila when qualified suppliers do not exist in local provincial areas.

Ensuring equitable access to our products:

Our malls and offices enable businesses to grow and flourish by providing the right locations that afford them and their clients a space to transact their businesses. We ensure that we accommodate both local merchants and organizations, promoting the growth of both local businesses and foreign brands.

Ensuring fair compensation to our employees:

To maintain our competitiveness in the market, we measure our compensation packages against the industry standards in the Philippines, while ensuring that our workers have social safety nets in the event of an emergency and are paid at least the minimum wage in compliance with national and local laws. Further details on our approach to fair employment can be found under the Employee Management topic.

Opportunities & Management Approach
RLC implements anti-corruption policies and codes of business ethics to ensure the application of proper and current control mechanisms across all our business operations. We also continue to engage with third-party providers such as SGV & Co. to implement best practices on anti-corruption and bribery prevention. This commitment results in enhanced transparency and fairness for all stakeholders involved.

In terms of materials sourcing, there is an opportunity to craft more robust sustainable material selection guidelines in the future, which will form part of the requirements from suppliers to promote product quality, fairness, and sustainability. This would produce positive changes in our supply chain and encourage other suppliers to also adopt similar sustainable practices.

We also see an opportunity to re-evaluate our network to identify any underrepresented local suppliers or materials we can incorporate in the business, such as micro, small, and medium enterprises (MSMEs). This would expand our network of suppliers and provide us with broader options for various kinds of sustainable materials.

Climate related risks and opportunities
Being a real estate company, we recognize that climate-related risks and opportunities are material to our organization. In previous years, we have engaged with Deloitte to start a Climate Resiliency Project. The project provided RLC with guidance in identifying the climate risks of our properties, and formulating recommendations to address these risks moving forward. The TCFD[1] framework was used for this process, and will be used for the different succeeding phases. A climate resilience assessment was also conducted at the Giga Tower in our Bridgetowne Complex, covering four major components including Baseline Assessment, Climate Hazard Characterization, Vulnerability Assessment, and TCFD Report Writing. In 2025, following the TCFD workshop and framework, RLC has started adopting the IFRS[2] standards assessing its risks with its financial implications. Through an engagement with our consultant, SGV and our mother company, JG Summit, we are targeting to include this framework in our 2026 report. In terms of opportunities, RLC has switched to renewable energy in several of our properties and has taken steps to enhance energy efficiency across our projects. We also continue to strive towards green building certifications, which set standards for climate-friendlier and resource-efficient developments. These initiatives are further discussed under the Energy and Emissions topics. We have recognized both the environmental and financial benefits of these efforts, and as such, are exploring further opportunities such as partnerships with climate funding organizations.

Anti-Corruption

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected
Corruption undermines our ability to equitably flow value to our key stakeholders, i.e., suppliers, employees, government, and providers of capital. Risks can exist in key areas such as procurement and those functions that directly interface with the government.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks
The Company is committed to promoting transparency and fairness to all stakeholders. The Board sets the tone and makes a stand against corrupt practices by adopting an anti-corruption policy and program. Some of the Company's Anti-Corruption programs are embodied in the Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, Conflict of Interest, and Offenses Subject to Disciplinary Action (OSDA), among others. The same are disseminated to all employees across the Company through training sessions to embed them in the Company's culture. New employees are oriented regarding policies and procedures related to Business Conduct and Ethics and similar policies. All employees are given periodic reminders. Further, all concerned employees are required to comply with the Annual Self-Disclosure Activity on an annual basis. On September 18, 2025, Gokongwei Group hosted a specialized Corporate Governance training for its directors and officers. The four-hour training session, "Corporate Governance in the Age of AI: Navigating Opportunities and Risks for a Future-Ready Gokongwei Group," focused on equipping leadership with the strategic oversight necessary to navigate the evolving artificial intelligence (AI) landscape.

The following Business Conduct & Ethics Policies are in place:
● Conflict of Interest - The Company's Code of Business Conduct and Conflict of Interest Policy require employees to make a conscious effort to avoid conflict of interest situations so that his judgment and discretion are not influenced by considerations of personal gain or benefit. A conflict of interest may also occur because of the actions, employment, or investments of an immediate family member of an employee. ● Conduct of Business and Fair Dealings – The Company's employees who recommend, endorse, or approve the procurement or sale of goods and services should make a conscious effort to avoid any conflict-of-interest situation in transactions that they are involved in. ● Receipt of Gifts from Third Parties – The Company discourages the acceptance of gifts. However, gifts like advertising novelties may be given or accepted during the Christmas season. There is no restriction in the value of the gift accepted. However, an accepted gift with an estimated value of over 2,000.00 PhP must be disclosed to the Conflicts of Interest Committee. ● Compliance with Laws and Regulations - The Company ensures that all transactions comply with relevant laws and regulations. Any deficiencies are immediately rectified. ● Respect for Trade Secrets/Use of Non-public Information - The Company has policies that ensure proper and authorized disclosure of confidential information. Disclosures of material information to the public can only be done after the disclosure to SEC and PSE by the Company's authorized officers. ● Use of Company Funds, Assets and Information - Employees are required to safeguard the Company resources and assets with honesty and integrity. Employees must ensure that these assets are efficiently, effectively, and responsibly utilized. ● Employment and Labor Laws and Policies - The Company ensures the observance, strict implementation and compliance with Philippine employment, labor laws and policies with regard to recruitment, employment, retention and benefits of the employees. The minimum notice period regarding operational changes ranges from three to six months, depending on the proponent of change. ● Whistleblowing – The stakeholders may discuss or disclose in writing any concern regarding potential violation of the Code of Business Conduct with the Conflicts of Interest Committee. Reports or disclosures can be made in writing or by email. All information received in connection with the reports or disclosures shall be strictly confidential and shall not be disclosed to any person without prior consent of CICOM. The Company commits to protect those who report in good faith from retaliation, harassment and even informal pressures. It will take the necessary and appropriate action to do so in enforcing the policy. Violation of any provision of the Code of Business Conduct as determined through due process may result in disciplinary action, including dismissal and reimbursement for any loss to the Company that results from the employee's action. If appropriate, a violation may result in legal action against the employee or referral to the appropriate government authorities.

Opportunities and Management Approach
We recognize opportunities to evaluate the effectiveness of the implementation of our anti-corruption policy. There may also be better ways to engage our employees on this topic.

Energy and Reduction of Energy Consumption

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected
While RLC is working towards transitioning to renewable energy sources, the majority of the power consumed by our properties and operations comes from grid electricity and other petroleum-based products. In the Philippines, grid electricity is still generated from the burning of fossil fuels, emitting greenhouse gases (GHG) that contribute to climate change and global warming. Diesel, gasoline, and liquefied petroleum gas (LPG) are used for our company vehicles and standby generators, likewise resulting in GHG emissions. The combustion of fossil fuels also produces air pollutants such as nitrogen oxides (NOx) and sulfur oxides (SOx), which may contribute to health problems in exposed communities. On the other hand, RLC's efforts to reduce our consumption of non-renewable energy have also resulted in savings in energy costs and property dues, creating positive impacts for both the Company and our tenants.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks
RLC has attained several green building certifications, such as the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) and Excellence in Design for Greater Efficiencies (EDGE), and has committed to having all subsequent projects certified. In 2025, six office buildings and two residential properties achieved green building certifications. This relates to reductions in energy consumption because a major requirement for green buildings is the use of energy-efficient systems, such as LED lighting and variable refrigerant flow (VRF) air conditioning. All of our offices, including older buildings, have likewise fully transitioned to LED lights. We are also continuing to upgrade our chillers to more energy-efficient models. In particular, for 2024, the optimization of heat exchangers in NUSTAR, one of our resort properties, significantly decreased power consumption and costs by about 34% and 37% respectively. In addition, RLC has a number of initiatives utilizing and promoting renewable energy, to reduce our own and our guests' reliance on and consumption of fossil fuels. This includes the installation of rooftop solar panels, purchase of renewable energies to power some of our buildings, provision of solar-powered charging stations for electric vehicles (EVs) at malls and offices, and free EV shuttle service for employees. These will be discussed further under the Air Emissions topic.

We are currently improving our data gathering processes to accurately measure changes in energy consumption across operations. This will facilitate the tracking of energy intensity and any reductions in consumption resulting from conservation and efficiency initiatives.

Opportunities and Management Approach
Seeing the favorable effect of our solar panel installations on our sustainability performance in the past decade, RLC plans to partner with JGSHI's energy arm, Merbau. It will handle the installation of rooftop solar panels in our malls, and will cover part, if not the entirety, of the cost. RLC will then purchase renewable energy from Merbau. In 2025, RLC has installed additional solar panels across four malls—Robinsons Tuguegarao, Robinsons Galleria South, Robinsons Valencia, and Robinsons Antipolo—and two hotels, Summit Hotel Naga and the Go Hotels/Summit Hotel complex in General Santos. Furthermore, RLC recognizes the need to improve the completeness of energy data collection among its business units to facilitate analysis.

Water Consumption

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected
RLC consumes water for its regular operations in property management and the construction of new developments. All buildings and spaces need to ensure a steady water supply to cater to customers, personnel, and tenants, and to maintain clean and workable areas. In particular, hotels and resorts consume the highest amounts of water due to frequent use of amenities like pools and showers. RLC sources a portion of its water from underground, creating risks of resource depletion and reservoir contamination, which would negatively affect nearby communities and industries. RLC sources the majority of its water from third party providers.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks

To manage our impacts on local water supplies, water conservation measures are implemented and promoted across our business units. Rainwater collection systems have been installed in certain RLC malls and residential properties, which provide water for non-potable uses such as cleaning and irrigation. Some malls also have facilities to treat and recycle wastewater. During construction phases, water is conserved through rationing for masonry and testing activities. To promote the efficient use of water in our hotels and resorts, we check for leaks regularly, invest in water-efficiency fixtures, and treat water hardness to reduce the amount of water needed for washing and rinsing. Meanwhile, we have changed the plumbing fixtures in our office air conditioning systems to boost their water efficiency. Across our properties, we also remind and educate guests, tenants, customers, and personnel on water conservation.

Opportunities and Management Approach
RLC believes that water conservation and treatment are the key opportunities that can be explored. With new technology developing every day, the capacity in which rainwater can be harvested, treated and repurposed represents a significant opportunity to manage water consumption and discharge. Water catchments and water impounding areas are possible measures to recharge the aquifer and reduce the impact of groundwater extraction. For future developments, installation of indirect heat exchangers can potentially save on maintenance costs, by protecting pipes from scaling which naturally conserves water resources as well.

[2] 2023 and 2024 data has been restated as a result of improved tracking and calculation for better accuracy.

Materials

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected

RLC is heavily reliant on the use of construction materials such as cement, rebars and glass to build malls, houses, offices, paved roads in subdivisions, mixed-use developments, and townships. These materials are non-renewable and carbon intensive. The mining of raw minerals to produce them also causes pollution and negative impacts to biodiversity. Unchecked usage of these materials impacts all stakeholders in general, by reducing their availability for future generations and potentially affecting the pricing of other resources indirectly.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks
We make sure to comply with regulations and standards related to the use of materials during our construction, repair, and renovation projects. Adhering to these standards provides a basic measure of protection for stakeholders, such as local suppliers, contracted workers, customers, and guests. Recognizing that monitoring is the key to managing the use of these materials, we are currently improving our data collection and consolidation processes for this topic.

Opportunities and Management Approach
The main cost of constructing properties comes from the materials used to build them. Reducing material use is a good way to lower cost, but to maintain the structural integrity of our buildings, we see opportunities to improve and analyze our material efficiency, design and construction systems through improved use of environmentally friendly and recycled materials. Working with contractors to continuously improve the overall design of our buildings and infrastructures, while also ensuring sustainable construction practices, will create a more optimized and eco-friendly use of raw materials without any trade-offs in durability and quality.

Ecosystems and biodiversity

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected
The conversion of natural landscapes to developed areas, including clearing and construction processes, may result in significant habitat loss, pollution, and alterations in biodiversity populations and ecosystem services. Aside from the direct effect on biodiversity, these changes may harm the health and quality of life of local communities. In contrast, fostering a healthy community of native species can greatly benefit local areas by strengthening the ecosystem services provided, such as soil stability and percolation. Using native plants in our properties' green spaces can support wildlife including beneficial insects, pollinators, and native birds.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks
Although RLC does not have operations within or adjacent to biodiversity-rich areas, we strive to support local ecosystems by using land responsibly and promoting native biodiversity in our green open spaces. To minimize disruptions to ecological balance in our project sites, we also factor in pollution, noise, and floodwater management in property development. We engage with green-certified contractors and consultants, regularly assessing current construction methodologies and ensuring compliance with the requirements and policies of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR).

Opportunities and Management Approach
RLC aims to continue the use of endemic species in our landscaping, particularly in our malls. We will integrate green, open spaces into the design of new malls, and continue to identify unused land areas that may be repurposed to promote public well-being in our existing malls.

Greenhouse Gas (GHG) Emissions

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected
As mentioned, our air emissions, including GHG emissions, are produced from our use of diesel, gasoline, LPG, and grid electricity for our regular operations. In addition, pollutants such as NOx, SOx, and ODS are produced from the combustion of diesel oil in standby generators. These are only used to supply energy on the spot as necessary, such as when there are power outages or the sudden need for additional electricity. Since these emissions contribute to climate change and global warming, this indirectly affects all our stakeholders and the wider public.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks
Since 2015, RLC has committed its efforts to the continuous installation of solar panels in our malls. RLC has invested PHP1.816 billion to install 111,440 solar panels in 33 malls. To date, these 33 malls have saved a total of 1.948 billion pesos in electricity costs and avoided a total of 156,000 metric tonnes of GHG emissions that is equivalent to planting 2.589M trees. We aim to continue the expansion of our solar power facilities and partnerships to reduce electricity consumption from fuel-based generators. As of October 26, 2025, all twelve of our office buildings, The Residences at The Westin Manila, Crowne Plaza Manila, and three of our malls — Robinsons Magnolia Expansion, Cybergate Cebu, and Robinsons Dumaguete — source 100% of their electricity from RE suppliers. This not only reduces our Scope 2 emissions, but our Scope 3 emissions as well, since it provides RE instead of grid electricity to our tenants and customers. Based on our decarbonization roadmap, solar installation and RE supply sourcing alone will not be enough to reach net-zero by 2050; hence, we will be looking into carbon offsetting in the future. Part of the Company's emissions also come from diesel, gas, and LPG use (scope 1). There is no clear alternative yet for these resources; however, educating our tenants, customers, and employees in responsible usage of these carbon-emitting sources continues to be a committed effort for RLC. For our scope 3 emissions reporting, we are looking into reporting other indirect sources aside from energy consumed by our tenants. We also support EVs by providing solar-powered charging stations at our malls and offices, in partnership with various organizations. In the coming year, we are looking to increase the number of charging stations in our malls, from our current count of 10 stations. We also offer an EV shuttle service for employees between our Robinsons Galleria and Bridgetowne properties, in collaboration with Global Electric Transport (GET). By enabling and adopting EVs powered by RE, we reduce air emissions, including GHG emissions, associated with the combustion of petroleum fuels in conventional engines.

Air Pollutants

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected
In our operations, the major source of air pollutants is from properties that have standby generators. Since they are standby power supplies only, their use is limited only in times of power interruptions, which has become very minimal in recent years. Unlike bunker C fuel, the generating sets are fueled by diesel oil, which could easily be burnt without the release of soot. Importantly, the air to fuel ratio is optimized during the operation of the generating power units. The impact of operating the generating sets on air quality is expected to be tolerable and will not cause a significant adverse impact to the environment or people.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks
We ensure that we comply with DENR clean air standards. Our generator sets are tested twice a year by third-party consultants to ensure satisfactory performance and continued compliance. We make sure that mitigating measures are properly implemented in all the air pollution control systems (APCS), and ensure the proper and regular monitoring and maintenance of generator sets and air pollution control facilities such as mufflers, exhausts, and air conditioning systems filters.

Opportunities and Management Approach
We have not identified material opportunities to manage other air pollutants, since these are minimal amounts resulting only from the usage of generators as necessary.

Solid and Hazardous Wastes

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected
Solid waste from RLC's facilities is collected by accredited haulers and transported to the closest landfills for disposal. We recognize gaps in this system because we are unable to fully monitor how much of the waste is being collected from our facilities and is being recycled versus how much ends up in landfills. Even with proper handling, this contributes to the sheer amount of solid waste in landfills, where the breakdown, dispersal or leakage of materials poses pollution risks to the natural environment and surrounding communities.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks

RLC ensures that our solid waste undergoes regular and proper handling and disposal. Waste haulers are assessed for their capabilities and compliance with DENR standards, including whether destination landfills are legally operated. Materials recovery facilities are present in our properties, with people designated to manage and operate these in accordance with DENR standards. Housekeeping staff are trained to handle and manage waste. Hazardous wastes are stored safely in a separate area before they are treated and transported by DENR-accredited organizations. These practices help minimize the negative environmental and health-related effects of our solid waste.

We also have a number of waste management programs focused on recycling solid waste, particularly in our shopping malls, which we envision to become recycling hubs. These include the segregation of waste at the source, collection of plastic bottles, upcycling of used chopsticks into furniture, transfer of surplus food to communities, and in-house processing of food waste for compost and liquid fertilizers for landscaping. Reverse vending machines engage mallgoers to actively participate in plastic bottle recycling. Under our rapidly growing program From Waste to Worth, guidelines and processes for waste management are also shared with our mall concessionaires. Several of these initiatives are done in partnership with other organizations, strengthening RLC's business relationships in the field of sustainability.

In our hotels business, R Water shines as a waste reduction initiative that also elevates the experience of our guests. Instead of single-use plastic bottles, reusable glass bottles are used to provide water to guests, produced at our in-house bottling facility at Holiday Inn Manila Galleria. Handled by a dedicated team, bottled water is delivered to three pilot hotel properties. To date, this initiative has produced 200,000 glass bottles of water, significantly reducing plastic waste. In 2025, our hotels also partnered with our sister company Universal Robina Corporation (URC) for the collection and processing of eggshell waste as feed for its farms.

Opportunities and Management Approach
With increasing awareness on the issue of marine litter, we see an opportunity to be part of the solution and position our properties to have the best waste management system in the country. We are currently improving our waste management system by working with our merchants to replace non-recyclables with recyclables to reduce total residual wastes that are more difficult to manage. We are linking our recyclers to our waste collectors to ensure proper recycling of our waste. We also plan on expanding our waste management programs to more properties, such as implementing chopsticks recycling in more shopping malls. Further initiatives such as in-house bokashi composting are also being explored. We will innovate on waste flows by providing training and learning opportunities to both our employees and customers. Moving forward, these plans give us many opportunities to collaborate with our stakeholders.

Effluents

Total volume of water discharges	3,119,001.79	3,409,127.48	3,474,229.23

[1] 2023 and 2024 data has been restated as a result of improved tracking and calculation for better accuracy.

Effluents

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected
Improper treatment of effluents and irresponsible discharge into water bodies pose risks to the health and safety of local communities and biodiversity. Not maximizing the use of recycled, treated wastewater also means greater amounts of freshwater withdrawn.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks
Effluents are relevant in all our properties. By design, all our commercial, office, and hotels have been fitted with facilities to ensure that wastewater is properly treated prior to discharge, in line with national effluent standards. Malls have updated water discharge permits from the DENR.

Environmental Compliance

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected
Being a real-estate business, environmental considerations are critical to RLC. Certain decisions and choices such as where and how buildings are constructed, what materials were used, and what permits have been acquired, influence how we affect the environment and may expose the Company to non-compliance risks. With the scarcity of environmental resources and the industry's impact on nature, RLC ensures that we comply with the environmental laws set in place to regulate industry activities. This will not only be good for the environment but will also minimize overall costs and damage to our reputation.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks

Compliance with environmental laws is fundamental to our operations. We have a designated unit that ensures our facilities and all aspects of our operations are compliant with relevant laws, including air and water quality standards.

Opportunities and Management Approach
We plan to step up our internal capability building and improve our systems to ensure all activities remain compliant with regulations. We will invest in training and monitoring activities to correct any non-compliance issues in our operations, facilitating good results in our audits from government and third-party consultants.

Employee Hiring and Benefits, Diversity and Equal Opportunity

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected
Our policy and practice in hiring determines our ability to foster equal distribution of opportunities across diverse sets of people. For example, setting a policy on gender equality or hiring people coming from vulnerable groups will determine how much opportunity we are able to distribute to the male and female population or vulnerable groups given their nuanced needs and circumstances. Hence, we take our hiring policy seriously to provide everyone with a level playing field to access the employment opportunities that we create through our business. The benefits we provide our employees deliver a lasting effect on our employees' quality of life. For example, providing health care coverage to our employees determines their resilience to medical emergencies, which is key to maintaining quality of life. Employees who enjoy a good quality of life will tend to be more engaged and productive in the workplace, which impacts our business positively.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks
We hire based on capability and alignment with the requirements of the job. In our hiring process, we do not discriminate against any person in terms of gender, ethnicity, age, and other circumstances. We apply an anticipatory hiring strategy looking at our needs in the next three to five years based on our long-term business strategy, running an intake program to hire early on and better prepare our new hires even before the actual needs arise. This has resulted in a well-prepared talent pipeline that ensures a seamless workforce transition, reducing hiring gaps and enabling new hires to contribute effectively as business needs arise.

In addition, RLC continues to prioritize local hiring in our areas of operation. We recognize that local hiring can offer numerous advantages, including job creation and support for the local economy. This demonstrates commitment to the area, developing a sense of trust and goodwill with our neighbors and increasing employee diversity which can lead to a more inclusive and collaborative workplace.

The gender diversity of our employees is about 54% female and 46% male; we are continuously aiming for equal gender representation among our employees. We support the development of all our employees regardless of gender, providing women equal opportunities as men to succeed in the workplace. This was recognized in 2022 by the Bloomberg Gender Equality Index, which awarded RLC for our high level of performance and disclosure across five pillars: Female Leadership and Talent Pipeline; Equal pay and Gender Pay Parity; Inclusive Culture; Anti-Sexual Harassment Policies; and Pro-Women Brand. In particular, RLC scored high in Female Leadership and Talent Pipeline or equal representation and opportunities in the workplace and Anti-Sexual Harassment Policies.

We benchmark our benefit structure with the industry standards and adjust accordingly to stay within the industry average. On top of government-mandated benefits, we provide other benefits as part of our engagement initiatives such as healthcare coverage (HMOs), life insurance, medical allowance, rice subsidy, bereavement assistance, discounts to our products, and access to affordable emergency loans. For this, we also take advantage of our business ecosystem in the JGSHI Group by linking our employees to Robinsons Bank for access to affordable loans tailor-fitted for our employees.

We also promote inclusivity and support vulnerable groups outside of our Company through our Mall for All initiative, which will be further discussed under Local Communities.

Opportunities and Management Approach
RLC recognizes an opportunity to improve its benefits structure to better respond to the actual needs of its employees. This will entail an assessment of availment rates across different benefit types. Since a frequently cited reason for worker attrition at RLC has been better opportunities elsewhere, employee benefits and engagement represents a significant topic for RLC's business performance. The management aims to improve by enhancing training and workshops, increasing mentorship and guidance from supervisors, having more discussions with employees and managers on employees' career growth, and reviewing our benefits and total rewards policy. Retaining employees is critical to our long-term success in the real estate industry, ensuring customer satisfaction, increased sales, satisfied coworkers, and effective succession planning as well as organizational knowledge and learning.

Employee Training and Development

The level of training hours is an important driver to employee growth and development. RLC believes that employee trainings impact the overall growth of the employees as professionals. Highly trained and highly engaged employees are more productive, which also benefits the Company. This year about 17,384 and 13,392 training hours were provided to female and male employees, respectively. We will continue to make trainings more equally accessible and attractive across genders.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks

RLC provides employees with accessible training opportunities which encourages the participation of employees even outside of Metro Manila offices. Topics covered by the training sessions include customer service, communication, coaching, leadership, finance, negotiation, project management, and technical training courses for positions in engineering and operations.

We adopt a centralized learning framework that is anchored on the Core Values of the organization. RLC follows a curriculum consistent with the standards of the JGSHI group of companies, which are categorized into internal learning courses as follows:

1. Core Development Programs enhance the soft skills of employees. This includes programs on customer service, communication, and professional image.
2. Management Development Programs aim to provide a strong leadership and coaching culture in the organization, hence programs aimed to develop these competencies fall under this.
3. Executive Development Programs target high potential and high performing leaders. This covers programs on problem solving, negotiation, finance, and strategic communication.
4. Functional Training Programs. There are Functional Training Programs that are customized per department that address the gaps of different functions. These programs include development plans for Engineering, Leasing, Marketing, Construction Management, and Operations. There is a continuous development of in-house SMEs (subject matter experts) who continue to impart learning on the job to their colleagues via share and learn sessions that allow for sharing of best practices while learning new technology and trends at the same time.

RLC promotes the development of employees by continuously providing relevant and timely training programs anchored on the training needs of the Company and the employees.

Standardization of practices also greatly aids new hires in better learning their work environment and protocols, evidenced by the recent publication of an Operations Manual for malls. This resulted in a smoother experience and time savings for both new and experienced personnel, and increased customer satisfaction due to better-trained staff and consistent service.

Opportunities and Management Approach
We continue to anticipate new skills and capabilities needed by our employees to help us prepare for the future in terms of new technologies and industry practices in real estate. For example, we are continually on the look-out for new and better technologies and practices in managing malls, offices, residences, and hotels or in the design and construction of different property formats. Being continually informed on new industry developments enables us to take leadership in the market.

[1] In general, we consult our employees on any new policy that affects them. Based on our corporate governance policies, we afford ample time for employees to provide input and feedback before we put policies in effect. In 2025, the topics of our consultations included Early Retirement, Leave Entitlement, Dependents' HMO (policy on Hierarchy), Uniform, and Non-Regularization of Probationary Employees.

Labor – Management Relations

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected
Good labor-management relations create a healthy workplace, where employees are empowered to raise their concerns to the management. This helps the management find ways to refine its policies and systems that improve workplace conditions in both construction and in operations, particularly in our malls and hotels and resorts. This creates a safe, participative working environment for employees and other stakeholders in these spaces. Conversely, poor labor-management relations grossly affect performance and inherently has high reputational risk, especially when actions are taken beyond close-door dialogues.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks
RLC strictly observes employment and labor laws and policies related to recruitment, retention, and benefits, and implements an open-door policy. Employees are empowered to provide feedback and raise concerns with their immediate superiors, management, and/or the Human Resources department. This is done through employee engagement surveys and get-together activities. Digital tools such as video meetings and group chats are utilized to frequently update employees of changes at work. The minimum notice period regarding significant operational changes ranges from three to six months, dependent on the proponent of the change. We conduct annual pulse surveys to assess the impression of the employees towards the Company and its work environment. This covers the areas of employee engagement, collaboration, communication, company leadership, customer focus, personal career growth and development potential, job enablement, pay and benefits, performance and accountability, strategic alignment, and work process.

Opportunities and Management Approach
We continually look for better ways to solicit feedback from our employees through formal and informal feedback sessions.

Workplace Conditions, Labor Standards, and Human Rights

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected
Compliance to labor laws and human rights standards, as well as safe operation and accident prevention are fundamentals to running a good business. Threats to the rights, health, and safety of our employees impact our productivity, employee retention, and employee engagement. More importantly, it impacts the wellbeing and quality of life of our employees. Risks to health and safety are greater in construction sites than in operations.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks
To maintain a safe work environment, RLC upholds several policies including those on occupational health, drug-free workplaces, disease control and prevention, data privacy, flexible work arrangements, mental health and wellness, and the Magna Carta for Women. RLC also complies with Philippine laws on human and labor rights across all our operations. Internal audits are conducted periodically to monitor the implementation of these policies and any related risks across our business units, and the findings from these are discussed with the top management. This structure protects the wellbeing and quality of life of employees, which in turn benefits their productivity and engagement in RLC. RLC protects the physical safety of employees and workers through an occupational health and safety (OHS) management system. Health and safety risks are regularly assessed to identify ways to eliminate or minimize incidents. The Company complies with government policies on safety, such as the Fire Code of the Philippines and the safety, health, and welfare standards of the Department of Labor and Employment. We collaborate with contractors to build a culture of safety in construction and operations. In-house audits and inspections are done by property engineers and operations personnel, who receive regular OHS training alongside security personnel. Documentations for this are done by engineering and security, and validated by the RLC EHS Team. In addition, all properties and facilities of RLC have clinics catering to employees and workers.

Opportunities and Management Approach
We continue to work with our contractors to build a culture of safety in all our construction projects and operations. More frequent and deliberate activities can be done to educate and remind our employees on safety standards and protocols to strengthen our safety culture and make safety a second nature to our employees not just in the workplace but even in their homes.

Supply Chain Management

RLC has a supplier accreditation policy. Pertinent portions are presented in the table below.

Topic	Reference in the supplier policy
Environmental performance	As stipulated in Supplier Accreditation Policy,…"All interested suppliers shall submit the accomplished Supplier Accreditation Application Form (SAAF) together with the required accreditation documents." Required documents include all pertinent government permits per supplier type, e.g. Mayor's Permit, Environmental Permits, Philhealth, SSS, Pag-Ibig.*
Forced labor

Human rights
Bribery and corruption	As stipulated in Supplier Accreditation Policy, "…without the written consent of the company, directly or indirectly offers or gives any benefit or compensation in cash or otherwise, to a company employee because of the employee's association, engagement or duties with the company."

Supply Chain Management

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected
About 50% of our revenue flows to our suppliers, who carry out most of the activities in our value chain, from construction to property management. Hence, the impact of our suppliers to the environment, society, and economy represents a significant portion of the impacts along our value chain. Good performance and compliance protect the rights and wellbeing of stakeholders up the value chain, such as the employees, local communities, and local environment of our suppliers. Hence, their impacts affect essentially all our stakeholders, and their success in delivering their output determines our own success.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks
Ethical sourcing policies are in place to select suppliers that show dedication to fair labor practices, environmental sustainability, and social responsibility. Through our Supplier Accreditation Policy, RLC requires suppliers to submit legal documents and government permits, including environmental permits and compliance with state benefit systems. The policy explicitly prohibits bribery and corruption, and ensures that all our suppliers meet the minimum standards to deliver quality output for us. Through our accreditation process, we assess their capability and compliance to all relevant laws and regulations. Our supplier accreditation process is as follows: 1. Application - All suppliers intending to do business with any BU must apply for accreditation through the submission of an accomplished Supplier Accreditation Application (SAA) together with the required documents. SAA contains the basic information about the supplier's company, organization, products or services offered and other relevant information necessary to evaluate the supplier's overall competencies. 2. Appraisal - RLC shall appraise all suppliers applying for accreditation using a rating system for both the Company and the product or service. The Rating System for each accreditation criteria may vary by commodity group. The supplier must meet at least 75% to be recommended for accreditation approval. 3. Accreditation Approval – Approval will be done by the corporate supplier accreditation team of RLC. On top of the accreditation process, the following processes are being done to assess the performance of suppliers. 1. Maintenance – All accredited suppliers shall be included and maintained in the supplier information database. 2. Review and Evaluation – on a periodic basis, a complete reassessment of the supplier's performance like the initial accreditation process will be conducted based on key performance metrics. Any supplier that fails to comply with minimum standards go through the following recourse: 1) Suspension, 2) Debarment, 3) Appeal Process, and 4) Reinstatement if the supplier is able to comply with our minimum standards.

Opportunities and Management Approach
We are reviewing our supplier accreditation policy to include more relevant environment, social, and economic criteria, to ensure that our sustainability standards and practices are also applied to our suppliers.

Relationship with Communities

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected
Our impacts on the local community can be positive or negative, ranging from physical risks to social and economic risks. For example, physical or economic displacement can occur due to the establishment of our properties in the local area, affecting the quality of life of residents. Negative impacts in the community could have significant impacts on our reputation and social license to operate. Conversely, delivering positive benefits to the community enables us to build stronger partnerships, such as local sourcing of goods and talents, in addition to the direct benefits provided such as safe and useful spaces, access to goods and services, and community engagement activities.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks
Our social/community impact assessment and risk management process is a mandatory process that guides sustainability-related risk management and integrates a risk register into operating plans. As part of that process, exploration, production and major projects are examined against the physical, social and political settings of our operations. Local concerns may influence the potential importance of these stakeholders and environmental matters including long-term risks and cumulative impacts. Risks are identified and described by a diverse group of subject matter experts in each business unit and project. To help business units in community assessment and affairs, a System Management Approach is developed: 1. Impact and Risk Assessment - Identification of potential and likely risks within a particular community, and the process of prioritizing those risks. The community risk assessment process can be as complex and detailed as local resources permit. This produces basic information that can be used effectively for intervention and enhancement projects. 2. Mapping Stakeholders and Prioritizing Risks - Identification of the people who are related to and will be affected by the project. This will help us in developing strategies to effectively engage these stakeholders. During this process, a risk register is also developed, considering long-term and short-term timeframes, and also looking at the probability and severity of the risks. 3. Addressing the Risk - A structured and coherent approach to managing the identified and ranked or prioritized risk. 4. Engage Stakeholders - Communication and collaboration on strategies and action plans in addressing risks and impacts of the project.

5. Measure and Monitor - Tracking and assessing actions to ensure ongoing adequacy and effectiveness of the management system.

Overall, incorporating community affairs strategy into business brings transformative power through business excellence. Our philosophy is based on the idea that corporate success and social welfare are interdependent. A business needs a healthy, educated workforce, sustainable resources, and adept government to prosper and compete effectively. Also, for society to thrive, profitable and competitive business must be developed and supported to create income, wealth, tax revenues and opportunities for engaged social development.

Opportunities and Management Approach
RLC continues to cascade the Community Assessment tool to be used during the different phases of development; from business development, construction and operations of projects and properties. Done properly, commercial development can improve a local community in more ways than one, by adjusting, innovating, and continuously improving systems, services and products being put out by the Company. Engagement and transparent disclosure of how we minimize and mitigate risks associated with construction and operations is a top business priority and key concern of our stakeholders. Thus, there are also opportunities to enhance our regular communication and reporting.

Customer Management - Health and Safety, Customer Privacy and Data Security

Impacts and Risks: Where it occurs, RLC's involvement, stakeholders affected
Customer management is fundamental to corporate success and sustainability. Our ability to keep our customers satisfied is at the core of our performance. Ensuring their health and safety in the use of our products, and protecting their information, are ways to deliver customer satisfaction. Our inability to protect these aspects would result in potential harm to our customers, whether physical or digital. In addition, it would pose a significant risk to our own business viability in both the short-and-long term horizons.

Management Approach for Impacts and Risks
Customer Satisfaction. We conduct periodic market research to gauge customer preferences and build the right products and services to meet their expectations, needs, and capabilities. Our customer satisfaction surveys tell us whether the products and services as designed have indeed met their requirements. We strive to provide a comfortable customer experience at all times; for example, we have instituted guest services in our malls to provide customers with power banks, umbrellas, pet strollers, and kiddie carts as needed. We continually iterate and improve our performance through our customer feedback processes. Health and Safety. From the design and construction of properties to their operation, RLC takes measures to reduce health and safety risks to both employees and customers. Structural threats are minimized by meeting the highest building standards, and risks of slippage and fall are regularly assessed and audited. Customer Privacy and Data Security. All personal information collected during customer interactions is handled in accordance with the Data Privacy Act of 2012. The contact details of our Data Protection Office are visible on our company website and various privacy notices, where data privacy inquiries and complaints may be addressed. The Company and our Data Protection Officer (DPO) are registered with the National Privacy Commission (NPC). Moreover, our DPO is an active member of the Data Privacy Council of the NPC as the Sectoral Representative for Real Estate.

To protect customer data as well as all our other confidential information, we have implemented a strong security policy, and put in place advanced network security protection and monitoring processes in the following aspects of our data management system:

- Secured Email System. RLC uses advanced security protection through Microsoft Office 365 as our employees' corporate email provider. It offers URL filtering, and the screening of attachments and links to protect users from malware, spam and phishing.
- End-point Security Protection. RLC installed CrowdStrike Endpoint Protection as the last layer of defense against malware, ransomware, spam and phishing.
- Security protection of RLC's edge network. RLC uses strong firewall rules as a network gateway to only allow authorized and specific ports to pass through. It also includes advanced URL filtering, DNS security, AI-driven security threat prevention, and secured VPN connections among its remote sites.
- Disallowed the use of external storage by employees.
- We have a corporate information security team that performs Security Vulnerability Assessment and Penetration Testing (SVAPT) on a regular and on-demand basis, especially before a new website launch.

Opportunities and Management Approach
We continually assess our customer management and our customers' experience journey, finding ways to better meet their expectations. We maintain various communication channels and facilitate meaningful interactions with our customers and stakeholders. This allows us to better address their needs and strengthen our relationships with them, while improving our systems in the process. The information and feedback we receive are processed through the appropriate business units, ensuring feedback is addressed immediately and incorporated into our business strategies. Beyond customer satisfaction, we intend to measure the real economic and social value we contribute to our customers and their stakeholders, such as how our malls are able to increase their access to market through increased foot traffic to our malls, and how our products enable them to grow as they locate in our properties. A more systematized measurement of economic and social value will enable us to optimize our products for increased value to the customers we serve, and to society in general.

Product or Service Contribution to UN SDGs

Key products and services and their contribution to sustainable development.

Key Products and Services	Societal Value / Contribution to UN SDGs	Potential Negative Impact of Contribution	Management Approach to Negative Impact
Office Space	SDG 8 (Decent Work and Economic Growth): We provide a suitable location where businesses can operate and grow, contributing to job creation and increased economic activity in the areas where we are located. In 2025, our offices had a total of 890,000 m^2 of gross leasable area.	Apart from the actual and potential impacts identified above for our regular operations, including resource use, waste generation, and displacement, we see no further material negative impacts of this product.	Management approaches described above (efficiency initiatives, RE, waste management programs, community assessment strategy)
Mall Space	SDG 8 (Decent Work and Economic Growth) & SDG 9 (Industry, Innovation, and Infrastructure): We provide a space where our customers (merchants) benefit from the foot traffic to the malls. It allows foreign and local enterprises to access key markets and scale their businesses. People around our locations can access quality products that meet their needs from food, medicine, clothing, and other needs that improve their quality of life. In 2025, our malls had a total of 1,694,000 m^2 of gross floor area. SDG 7 (Affordable and Clean Energy) & SDG 13 (Climate Action)	Existing businesses in the local area could be negatively affected through reduced customers. Increased consumerism could reduce the savings of citizens. Our operations may also cause traffic congestion that reduces the productivity of the population.	When we enter a location, we map which local enterprises could be negatively affected by our entry. We assess the impact and, as mentioned above, provide opportunities for the affected parties to locate in our mall, or for their household members to be given employment opportunities.

	24 of our malls are fitted with solar panels that meet a significant part of their power requirement, helping to mainstream renewable energy and providing tenants with access to such.
Hotel Rooms	SDG 8 (Decent Work and Economic Growth): We provide affordable, quality accommodation options for tourists who contribute economic value to the local areas where we operate. People who travel for business are also able to access quality rooms that meet their budget. In 2025, RLC had 4,463 hotel rooms under our Local and International Brands.	Apart from the actual and potential impacts identified above for our regular operations, including resource use, waste generation, and displacement, we see no further material negative impacts of this product.	Management approaches described above (efficiency initiatives, RE, waste management programs, community assessment strategy)
Vertical and Horizontal Residential Products	SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities): We help families achieve their dreams of owning a decent, safe home. Based on our understanding of the needs of our customers, we build residences that meet those needs, wherever they are financially. This supports them in achieving economic freedom. In 2025, RLC had a total of 4,031 residential units.	Apart from the actual and potential impacts identified above for our regular operations, including resource use, waste generation, displacement, and land conversion, we see no further material negative impacts of this product. Master planned mixed-use developments and townships	SDG 11 (Sustainable Cities and Communities) & SDG 8 (Decent Work and Economic Growth) Our master planned properties are designed to foster resilience, mobility, security, connectivity, and comfort. With a well-designed combination of office space, commercial and residential areas, we create an urban environment that supports economic growth in a manner that protects the environment and puts people's needs at the heart of it. The compact communities we build provide a variety of amenities and accessible goods and services to residents, members of the local community, and employees of the businesses located with us. By design, the townships also reduce the need to travel by car, promote walkability, and provide benefits in terms of air quality and health. With efficient master-planning, innovative designs, and quality construction, our townships aim to raise the standard of mixed-use developments in the country. A. Company Background

Robinsons Land Corporation is a corporation organized under the laws of the Philippines. As of December 31, 2025, 65.91% of Robinsons Land Corporation's common shares are held by JG Summit Holdings, Inc. and 33.70% are held publicly, of which 17.73% are held by foreign owners

RLC is one of the Philippines' leading real estate developers in terms of revenues, number of projects and total project size. It is engaged in the construction and operation of lifestyle commercial centers, offices, hotels and industrial facilities and the development of mixed-use properties, residential buildings, as well as land and residential housing developments, including socialized housing projects located in key cities and other urban areas nationwide. RLC adopts a diversified business model, with both an "investment" component, in which it develops, owns and operates commercial real estate projects (principally lifestyle commercial centers, office buildings, hotels and industrial facilities); and a "development" component, in which RLC develops real estate projects for sale (principally residential condominiums, serviced lots, house and lot packages and commercial lots).

RLC's operations are divided into its five (5) business divisions:

- The Commercial Centers Division develops, leases and manages lifestyle commercial centers or shopping malls throughout the Philippines. As of December 31, 2025, RLC operates 57 shopping malls, comprising 10 malls in Metro Manila and 47 malls in other urban areas throughout the Philippines, with additional new malls for completion this year. As of December 31, 2025, RLC has transferred twenty-one mall developments to RCR.

- The Residential Division develops and sells residential developments for sale/pre-sale. RLC's Residential Division has 134 residential developments as of December 31, 2025. It currently has several projects in various stages for future development that are scheduled for completion in the next five (5) years.

- The Office Buildings Division develops office buildings for lease. As of December 31, 2025, this division had completed 34 office developments, located in Quezon City, CBDs in Pasig City, Makati City and Taguig City, Mandaluyong City, Cebu City, Ilocos Norte, Tarlac City, Naga City, Davao City, Bacolod City, and Iloilo City. It has a robust pipeline consisting of new offices for completion this year. RLC transferred fifteen (15) office developments and leased two (2) office buildings to RCR.

- The Hotels and Resorts Division has a diverse portfolio covering the following brand segments: upscale international deluxe hotels, mid-market boutique city hotels, essential service value hotels, and most recently, the luxury resort category. As of December 31, 2025, RLC has 27 hotels and resorts for a total of more than 4,000 rooms in strategic metropolitan and urbanized locations consisting of 13 Go Hotels, 8 Summit Hotels, 4 international deluxe brands, Fili Hotel, and Nustar Hotel.

- The Industrial and Integrated Developments Division focuses on mixed-use developments and master planned communities. These developments incorporate different property formats such as residences, work places, commercial centers, logistics facilities and other institutional developments into a single setting. In 2019, this division launched its first 32-hectare estate named "Bridgetowne" which connects the cities of Pasig and Quezon. It is also completing the development of its 18-hectare "Sierra Valley" estate in Rizal and "Montclair", a 229-hectare development in Porac, Pampanga. The division shall continue to embark on strategic land bank acquisitions to add to its growing number of township developments. Another key role of this division is the development of industrial facilities. As of December 31, 2025, RLC has 15 industrial facilities with plans to expand in terms of net leasable area and geographic location.

III. PROCEEDS RECEIVED BY THE SPONSOR

RLC received net proceeds of approximately ₱6.92 billion (net of taxes and fees attributable to the sale of RCR shares). This Reinvestment Plan covers different projects lined-up for RLC. RLC will disburse the ₱6.92 billion or the amount RLC is required to reinvest from the net proceeds of the sale of RCR shares to any of the projects mentioned herein within two (2) years from receipt of such proceeds.

The entire proceeds will be used by RLC in accordance with this Reinvestment Plan. Pending the disbursement of such proceeds, RLC may invest the net proceeds in short-term liquid investments including but not limited to short-term government securities, bank deposits and money market placements which are expected to earn interest at prevailing market rates, withdrawable on demand and without holding restrictions prior to any fund withdrawals.

IV. REINVESTMENT PLAN

The foregoing discussion represents a best estimate of the use of proceeds based on RLC's current plans and anticipated expenditures. In the event it is necessary to effect changes in RLC's reinvestment plan by reason of force majeure, market conditions and other similar circumstances, RLC will carefully evaluate the situation and may reallocate the proceeds for future investments or other uses, and/or hold such funds in investments, whichever is in the best interest of RLC and its shareholders taken as a whole. RLC's cost estimates may also change as these plans are developed further, and actual costs may be different from budgeted costs. For these reasons, timing and actual use of the net proceeds may vary from the foregoing discussion and RLC's management may find it necessary or advisable to alter its plans.

Procedures and Findings

We have performed the procedures described below, which were agreed upon with the Company in the terms of the engagement dated June 25, 2025, on the Subject Matter. We report our findings below:

1. We obtained the Quarterly Progress Report on the application of proceeds from the block sale of the Company's shares in RL Commercial REIT, Inc. for the period from October 1, 2025 to December 31, 2025 (the "Schedule") and mathematically checked the accuracy of the Schedule. 3. We obtained the list of disbursements for the period from October 1, 2025 to December 31, 2025 (the "Disbursement Schedule") and checked its mathematical accuracy. No exceptions noted.

4. We compared the disbursements in the Schedule to the total amount of disbursements indicated in the Disbursement Schedule for the period from October 1, 2025 to December 31, 2025. We noted that the Company disbursed a total of ₱1,745,208,783 for the period from October 1, 2025 to December 31, 2025, both in the Schedule and the Disbursement Schedule. No exceptions noted.

5. On a sampling basis, we traced the amount and date of the disbursements amounting to ₱1.0 million and above to the supporting documents such as billing statements, invoices, official receipts and bank statements, and agree the amounts to the accounting records. No exceptions noted.

6. On a sampling basis, we inquired of the nature of disbursements amounting to ₱1.0 million and above in the Schedule for the period from October 1, 2025 to December 31, 2025. We inspected whether the disbursements reflected in the Schedule were classified consistently according to their nature based on the schedule of planned use of proceeds. No exceptions noted.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with Philippine Standards on Auditing (PSAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants in the Philippines (Code of Ethics), as applicable to the audits of the financial statements of public interest entities, together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to the audits of financial statements of public interest entities in the Philippines. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. For the matter below, our description of how our audit addressed the matter is provided in that context.

We have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, our audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to our assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements. The results of our audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for our audit opinion on the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Revenue Recognition from Real Estate Sales

The Group's revenue recognition process, policies and procedures are significant to our audit because these involve application of significant judgment and estimation in the following areas: (1) assessment of the probability that the entity will collect the consideration from the buyer; (2) determination of the transaction price; (3) application of the input method as the measure of progress in determining real estate revenue; and (4) estimation of the total project cost.

In evaluating whether collectability of the amount of consideration is probable, the Group considers the significance of the buyer's initial payments in relation to the total contract price (or buyer's equity). Collectability is also assessed by considering factors such as history with the buyer, and age and pricing of the property. Management regularly evaluates the historical sales cancellations and back-outs if it would still support its current threshold of buyer's equity before commencing revenue recognition.

In determining the transaction price, the Group considers whether the selling price of the real estate property includes significant financing component.

In measuring the progress of its performance obligation over time, the Group uses the input method. Under this method, progress is measured based on actual costs incurred relative to the estimated total project costs. In the estimation of total project costs, the Group requires technical determination by the Group's specialists (project engineers) to estimate all the inputs involved in the construction and development of the projects to include materials, labor and other costs directly related to the construction of the projects.

The disclosures related to the real estate revenue are included in Note 21 to the consolidated financial statements.

Audit Response

We obtained an understanding of the Group's real estate revenue recognition process, policies and procedures.

For the buyer's equity, we evaluated management's basis of the buyer's equity by comparing this to the historical analysis of sales cancellations from buyers with accumulated payments above the collection threshold.

For the determination of the transaction price, we obtained an understanding of the Group's process in the determination of the population of contracts with customers related to real estate sale and election of available practical expedient. We obtained the financing component calculation of the management which includes an analysis whether the financing component of the Group's contract with customers is significant. We selected sample contracts from the sales contract database and traced these selected contracts to the calculation prepared by management. For selected contracts, we traced the underlying data and assumptions used in the financing component calculation such as contract price, cash discount, payment scheme, payment amortization table and percentage of completion to the contract provision and the actual and projected percentage of completion schedule. We also recomputed the financing component for each sample selected.

For the application of the input method in determining real estate revenue, we obtained an understanding of the Group's processes for determining the percentage of completion (POC), including the cost accumulation process, and determining and updating the total estimated costs, and performed tests of the relevant controls on these processes. We assessed the competence, capabilities and objectivity of the project engineers by reference to their qualifications, experience and reporting responsibilities. For selected projects, we traced the accumulated costs to the supporting documents such as purchase order, billings and invoices of contractors and other documents evidencing receipt of materials and services from suppliers and contractors. For the estimation of total project costs, we obtained an understanding of the Group's budgeting and project close-out process and, on a sampling basis, performed test of details (price and quantity) for the inputs for each of the major project development workstream. We also performed tests of subsequent changes to the budget by tracing to the relevant documents such as capital fulfillment plan, capital expenditure requests and related executive committee approvals. We performed look-back analysis for both ongoing and fully completed projects in current and prior years and performed inquiries with the project engineers to understand the basis of the revisions to the budget. We visited selected project sites, made relevant inquiries with project engineers and correlated our observations with reported project accomplishment. We performed test computation of the POC calculation of management.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the SEC Form 20 IS (Definitive Information Statement), SEC Form 17-A and Annual Report for the year ended December 31, 2025, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The SEC Form 20 IS (Definitive Information Statement), SEC Form 17-A and Annual Report for the year ended December 31, 2025 are expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we will not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audits of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audits, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with PFRS Accounting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with PSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with PSAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

- Plan and perform the group audit to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group as a basis for forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and review of the audit work performed for purposes of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

As a result, equity interest of the Parent Company in RCR changed from 63.87% to 57.23%. The impact on the Equity Reserve amounted to an additional ₱5,149 million (see Note 19).

On August 13, 2025, the Parent Company entered into the fourth property-for-share swap transaction with RCR through the execution of a Deed of Assignment for the infusion of nine (9) commercial assets with a total appraised value of ₱30,675 million in exchange for 3,834,357,500 primary common shares of RCR at a price of ₱8.00 per share. The fair value of the property was determined by an independent SEC-accredited appraiser. This resulted in an increase of the Parent Company's equity interest in RCR to 65.62%. The impact on the Equity Reserve reflected a decrease of ₱1,595 million arising from reallocation based on the net assets of RCR (see Note19).

On September 22, 2025, the Parent Company sold a total of 1,000,000,000 common shares in RCR at a transaction price of ₱7.75 per share. Total proceeds, net of transaction costs, amounted to ₱7,659 million. As a result of the sale, the equity interest of the Parent Company in RCR was reduced to 60.51%. The impact on the Equity Reserve amounted to an additional ₱6,523 million (see Note 2).

3. Changes in Accounting Policies

The accounting policies adopted are consistent with those of the previous financial year, except for the adoption of amendments starting January 1, 2025. Except as otherwise indicated, the adoption of these amendments did not have any significant impact on the consolidated financial statements.

- Amendments to PAS 21*, Lack of exchangeability*

  The amendments specify how an entity should assess whether a currency is exchangeable and how it should determine a spot exchange rate when exchangeability is lacking. Earlier adoption is permitted and that fact must be disclosed. When applying the amendments, an entity cannot restate comparative information.

Standards Issued but not yet Effective
The Group did not early adopt the following new standards, amendments and improvements to PFRS Accounting Standards that have been approved but are not yet effective. The Group does not expect these changes to have a significant impact on its consolidated financial statements unless otherwise indicated. The Group intends to adopt the following pronouncements when they become effective.

Effective beginning on or after January 1, 2026

- Amendments to Illustrative Examples on PFRS 7, PFRS 18, Philippine Accounting Standards (PAS) 1, PAS 8, PAS 26 and PAS 37, Disclosures about Uncertainties in the Financial Statements

4. Summary of Material Accounting Policies

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from Contracts with Customers
The Group derives its real estate revenue from the sale of vertical and horizontal real estate projects. Revenue from contracts with customers is recognized when control of the goods or services are transferred to the customer at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. Except for the provisioning of water and electricity in its leasing portfolio wherein it is acting as agent, the Group has generally concluded that it is the principal in its revenue arrangements.

The disclosures of significant accounting judgments, estimates and assumptions relating to revenue from contracts with customers are provided in Note 5.

The following specific recognition criteria must also be met before revenue is recognized:

Real estate sales - Philippines Operations - Performance obligation is satisfied over time. The Group derives its real estate revenue from sale of lots, house and lot and condominium units. Revenue from the sale of these real estate projects under pre-completion stage are recognized over time during the construction period (or percentage of completion) since based on the terms and conditions of its contract with the buyers, the Group's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

In measuring the progress of its performance obligation over time, the Group uses input method. Input method recognizes revenue on the basis of the entity's efforts or inputs to the satisfaction of a performance obligation. Progress is measured based on actual resources consumed such as materials, labor hours expended and actual overhead incurred relative to the total expected inputs to the satisfaction of that performance obligation, or the total estimated development costs of the real estate project. The Group uses the cost accumulated by the accounting department to determine the actual resources used. Input method excludes the effects of any inputs that do not depict the entity's performance in transferring control of goods or services to the customer.

Estimated development costs of the real estate project include costs of land, land development, building costs, professional fees, payments for permits and licenses. Revisions in estimated development costs brought about by increases in projected costs in excess of the original budgeted amounts, form part of total project costs on a prospective basis.

Any excess of collections over the total of recognized trade receivables and installment contract receivables is included in the "contract liabilities" account in the liabilities section of the consolidated statement of financial position.

The Group determines whether a contract contains a significant financing component on an individual real estate contract by considering (1) the difference, if any, between the amount of promised considerations and the cash selling price of the promised goods or services; and (2) the effect of the expected length of time between when the entity transfers the promised goods or services to the customer and when the customer pays for those goods or services, and the prevailing effective interest rate (EIR). The Group applied practical expedient by not adjusting the effect of financing component when the period when the entity transfers a promised good or service to a customer and when the customer pays for that good or service will be one year or less. For every individual real estate contract, the Group determines whether its transaction price on sale of real estate recognized over time includes a significant financing component based on defined qualitative and quantitative metrics.

The calculation of financing component in a transaction price is based on various inputs such as transaction price, cash discount, payment scheme, payment amortization table, discount rate, percentage of completion to the contract provision and projected percentage of completion schedule.

Real estate sales - Philippines Operations - Performance obligation is satisfied at a point in time. The Group also derives real estate revenue from sale of parcels of raw land and developed land. Revenue from the sale of these parcels of raw land are recognized at a point in time (i.e. upon transfer of control to the buyer) since based on the terms and conditions of its contract with the buyers, the Group's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use but the Group does not have an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date. The Group is only entitled to payment upon delivery of the land to the buyer and if the contract is terminated, the Group has to return all payments made by the buyer.

Rental income. The Group leases its commercial real estate properties, including logistics and industrial facilities, to others through operating leases. Rental income on leased properties is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term and may include contingent rents based on a certain percentage of the gross revenue of the tenants, as provided under the terms of the lease contract. Contingent rents are recognized as revenue in the period in which they are earned.

Rental income is not recognized when the Group waives its right to collect rent and other charges under a lease concession. This is recognized as a rent concession and reported as a variable payment in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income.

Amusement income. Revenue is recognized upon rendering of services or at a point in time.

Revenue from hotel operations. Revenue from hotel operations is recognized as services are rendered or over time, and when food and beverage are served. Revenue from banquets and other special events is recognized as the events take place or over time. Rental income on leased areas of the hotel is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Revenue from food and beverage is recognized when these are served. Other income from transport, laundry, valet and other related hotel services is recognized when services are rendered.

Interest income
Interest income is recognized as the interest accrues using the effective interest rate (EIR) method.

Other income. Other income is recognized when earned.

The contract for the commercial spaces leased out by the Group to its tenants includes the right to charge for electricity usage, water usage, air-conditioning charges and Common Usage Service Area (CUSA) like maintenance, janitorial and security services.

For electricity and water usage, the Group determined that it is acting as an agent for the benefit of the lessees because the promise of the Group to the lessees is to arrange for the electricity and water supply to be provided by utility companies. The utility and service companies, and not the Group, are primarily responsible for the provisioning of the utilities while the Group administers the leased spaces and coordinates with the utility and service companies to ensure that lessees have access to these utilities.

For the provision of CUSA and air-conditioning of the buildings, the existing lease contracts establishes the Group to act as a principal because it retains the right to direct the service provider of maintenance, janitorial and security to the leased premises, and air-conditioning, respectively. The right to the services mentioned never transfers to the lessees and the Group has the discretion to add a minimal fee to the CUSA and air-conditioning charges.

Cost Recognition

Cost of Real Estate Sales. The Group recognizes costs relating to satisfied performance obligations as these are incurred taking into consideration the contract fulfillment assets such as land and connection fees. These include costs of land, land development costs, building costs, professional fees, and permits and licenses. These costs are allocated to the saleable area, with the portion allocable to the sold area being recognized as costs of sales while the portion allocable to the unsold area being recognized as part of real estate inventories.

Contract costs include all direct materials and labor costs and those indirect costs related to contract performance. Expected losses on contracts are recognized immediately when it is probable that the total contract costs will exceed total contract revenue. Changes in contract performance, contract conditions and estimated profitability, including those arising from contract penalty provisions, warranties, contingencies, cost constructions, and final contract settlements which may result in revisions to estimated costs and gross margins are recognized in the year in which the changes are determined.

Contract liabilities. A contract liability is the obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer. If a customer pays consideration before the Group transfers goods or services to the customer, a contract liability is recognized when the payment is made or the payment is due (whichever is earlier). Contract liabilities are recognized as revenue when the Group performs under the contract. The contract liabilities also include payments received by the Group from the customers for which revenue recognition has not yet commenced.

Marketing fees and management fees. Marketing fees and management fees from administration and property management are recognized as expense when services are incurred.

Costs to obtain contract. The incremental costs of obtaining a contract with a customer are recognized as an asset if the Group expects to recover them. The Group has determined that commissions paid to brokers and marketing agents on the sale of pre-completed real estate units are deferred when recovery is reasonably expected and are charged to expense in the period in which the related revenue is recognized as earned. Costs incurred prior to obtaining contract with customer are not capitalized but are expensed as incurred.

Cost of hotel operations (part of cost in the consolidated statement of income). Cost of hotel operations pertains to expenses incurred in relation to sale of goods and rendering of services. These are recognized when a decrease in future economic benefits related to a decrease in an asset or an increase of a liability has arisen that can be measured reliably. These are recognized when incurred and measured at the amount paid or payable.

Contract fulfillment assets. Contract fulfillment costs are divided into: (i) costs that give rise to an asset; and (ii) costs that are expensed as incurred. When determining the appropriate accounting treatment for such costs, the Group firstly considers any other applicable standards. If those standards preclude capitalization of a particular cost, then an asset is not recognized under PFRS 15.

If other standards are not applicable to contract fulfillment costs, the Group applies the following criteria which, if met, result in capitalization: (i) the costs directly relate to a contract or to a specifically identifiable anticipated contract; (ii) the costs generate or enhance resources of the entity that will be used in satisfying (or in continuing to satisfy) performance obligations in the future; and (iii) the costs are expected to be recovered. The assessment of this criteria requires the application of judgment, in particular when considering if costs generate or enhance resources to be used to satisfy future performance obligations and whether costs are expected to be recoverable.

The Group's contract fulfillment assets pertain to connection fees.

Amortization, de-recognition and impairment of capitalized costs to obtain a contract. Following the pattern of real estate revenue recognition, the Group amortizes capitalized costs to obtain a contract to cost of sales over the expected construction period using percentage of completion. The amortization is included within general and administrative expenses. A capitalized cost to obtain a contract is derecognized either when it is disposed of or when no further economic benefits are expected to flow from its use or disposal.

At each reporting date, the Group determines whether there is an indication that cost to obtain a contract maybe impaired. If such indication exists, the Group makes an estimate by comparing the carrying amount of the assets to the remaining amount of consideration that the Group expects to receive less the costs that relate to providing services under the relevant contract. In determining the estimated amount of consideration, the Group uses the same principles as it does to determine the contract transaction price, except that any constraints used to reduce the transaction price will be removed for the impairment test.

Where the relevant costs or specific performance obligations are demonstrating marginal profitability or other indicators of impairment, judgment is required in ascertaining whether or not the future economic benefits from these contracts are sufficient to recover these assets. In performing this impairment assessment, management is required to make an assessment of the costs to complete the contract. The ability to accurately forecast such costs involves estimates around cost savings to be achieved over time, anticipated profitability of the contract, as well as future performance against any contract-specific performance indicators that could trigger variable consideration, or service credits. Where a contract is anticipated to make a loss, these judgments are also relevant in determining whether or not an onerous contract provision is required and how this is to be measured.

Costs and General and Administrative Expense. Costs and general and administrative expenses are recognized in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income when decrease in future economic benefit related to a decrease in an asset or an increase in a liability has arisen that can be measured reliably.

Costs and expenses are recognized in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income:

- On the basis of a direct association between the costs incurred and the earning of specific items of income;
- On the basis of systematic and rational allocation procedures when economic benefits are expected to arise over several accounting periods and the association can only be broadly or indirectly determined; or

- Immediately when expenditure produces no future economic benefits or when, and to the extent that, future economic benefits do not qualify or cease to qualify, for recognition in the consolidated statement of financial position as an asset.

Direct operating expenses and general and administrative expenses are recognized as they are incurred.

Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction, or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale, are capitalized as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.

Interest and other financing costs incurred during the construction period on borrowings used to finance property development are capitalized as part of "Property and equipment" and "Investment properties" accounts in the Group's consolidated statement of financial position. Capitalization of borrowing costs commences when the activities to prepare the asset are in progress and expenditures and borrowing costs are being incurred. Capitalization of borrowing costs ceases when substantially all the activities necessary to prepare the asset for its intended use are complete. If the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its recoverable amount, an impairment loss is recorded.

Capitalized borrowing cost is based on applicable weighted average borrowing rate for those coming from general borrowings.

All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period they occur and is recorded under "Interest expense."

Debt Issue Costs

Transaction costs incurred in connection with the availment of long-term debt are deferred and amortized using EIR method over the term of the related loans.

Leases

The Group assesses whether a contract is, or contains a lease, at the inception of a contract. This assessment involves the exercise of judgment about whether it depends on a specified asset, whether the Group obtains substantially all the economic benefits from the use of the asset, whether the Group has the right to direct the use of the asset.

Group as Lessee

Except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets, the Group recognizes a right-of-use (ROU) asset and a corresponding lease liability with respect to all lease agreements in which it is the lessee.

ROU assets. The Group recognizes ROU assets at the commencement date of the lease (i.e., the date the underlying asset is available for use). ROU assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities. The cost of ROU assets includes the amount of lease liabilities recognized, initial direct costs incurred, lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received, and any estimated costs to be incurred in dismantling and removing the underlying asset, restoring the site on which it is located or restoring the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease, unless those costs are incurred to produce inventories. Unless the Group is reasonably certain to obtain ownership of the leased asset at the end of the lease term, the recognized ROU assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of its estimated useful life and the remaining lease term of up to approximately 28 years. ROU assets are subject to impairment. Refer to the accounting policies in impairment of nonfinancial assets section.

Lease liabilities. At the commencement date of the lease, the Group recognizes lease liabilities measured at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees. The lease payments also include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Group and payments of penalties for terminating a lease, if the lease term reflected the Group exercising the option to terminate. The variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognized as expense in the period on which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses the incremental borrowing rate at the commencement date if the interest rate implicit to the lease is not readily determinable. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is remeasured if there is a modification, a change in the lease term, a change in the in-substance fixed lease payments or a change in the assessment to purchase the underlying asset.

Short-term leases. The Group applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to its short-term leases of office space (i.e., those leases that have a lease term of twelve (12) months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option). Lease payments on short-term leases are recognized as expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Group as Lessor

Operating leases. Leases where the Group does not transfer substantially all the risks and benefits of ownership of the assets are classified as operating leases. Lease payments received are recognized as income in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating operating leases are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognized over the lease term on the same basis as the rental income. Contingent rents are recognized as revenue in the period in which they are earned. The Group accounts for a modification to an operating lease as a new lease from the effective date of the modification considering any prepaid or accrued lease payments relating to the original lease as part of the lease payments for the new lease.

Finance leases. Leases in which the Group, as a lessor, transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an underlying asset to the lessee are classified as finance leases. At the commencement date, the finance lease is accounted for as a sale of underlying asset. The Group shall recognize the following:

- Revenue at an amount equal to the net investment in the lease. The net investment in the lease being the fair value of the underlying asset, or if lower, the present value of the lease payments accruing to the lessor, discounted using market rate of interest.
- Cost of sale being the cost, or carrying amount if different, of the underlying asset less the present value of the unguaranteed residual value; and
- Selling profit or loss (being the difference between revenue and the cost of sale) in accordance with the Group's policy for outright sales to which PFRS 15 applies. The lessor shall recognize selling profit or loss on a finance lease at the commencement date, regardless of whether the lessor transfers the underlying asset as described in PFRS 15.

Initial direct costs incurred in obtaining a finance lease are excluded from the initial measurement of the net investment in the lease. After the lease commencement, finance income is recognized over the lease term, based on a pattern reflecting a constant periodic rate of return on the remaining balance of the net investment in the lease. Lease payments received from the lessee are allocated between the finance income and a reduction to the net investment in the lease.

Fair Value Measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible to the Group.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Group uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the consolidated financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 - Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable
- Level 3 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the consolidated financial statements at fair value on a recurring basis, the Group determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

External valuers are involved for valuation of significant assets, such as investment properties. Involvement of external valuers is decided upon annually by the Group. Selection criteria include market knowledge, reputation, independence and whether professional standards are maintained.

The Group, in conjunction with the external valuers, also compares each of the changes in the fair value of each asset with relevant external sources to determine whether the change is reasonable.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Group has determined classes of assets on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

Financial Instruments

Financial Assets

Initial recognition and measurement. Financial assets are classified, at initial recognition, as subsequently measured at amortized cost, FVOCI, and fair value through profit or loss (FVPL).

The classification of financial assets at initial recognition depends on the financial asset's contractual cash flow characteristics and the Group's business model for managing them. With the exception of trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component or for which the Group has applied the practical expedient, the Group initially measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at FVPL, transaction costs. Trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component or for which the Group has applied the practical expedient are measured at the transaction price determined under PFRS 15. Refer to the accounting policies in section "Revenue from contracts with customers".

In order for a financial asset to be classified and measured at amortized cost or FVOCI, it needs to give rise to cash flows that are "solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI)" on the principal amount outstanding. This assessment is referred to as the SPPI test and is performed at an instrument level.

The Group's business model for managing financial assets refers to how it manages its financial assets in order to generate cash flows. The business model determines whether cash flows will result from collecting contractual cash flows, selling the financial assets, or both.

Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the marketplace (regular way trades) are recognized on the trade date, i.e., the date that the Group commits to purchase or sell the asset.

Subsequent measurement. For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in four categories:

- Financial assets at amortized cost (debt instruments)
- Financial assets at FVOCI with recycling of cumulative gains and losses (debt instruments)
- Financial assets designated at FVOCI with no recycling of cumulative gains and losses upon derecognition (equity instruments)
- Financial assets at FVTPL

As at December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Group has no financial assets at FVOCI (debt instruments) and financial assets at FVTPL.

Financial assets at amortized cost (debt instruments)
This category is the most relevant to the Group. The Group measures financial assets at amortized cost if both of the following conditions are met:

- The financial asset is held within a business model with the objective to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and

- The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are SPPI on the principal amount outstanding

Financial assets at amortized cost are subsequently measured using the EIR method and are subject to impairment. Interest income and impairment losses on reversals are recognized in the consolidated statement of income. Gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss when the asset is derecognized, modified or impaired.

As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, this category includes cash and cash equivalents, receivables, restricted cash, included under "Other current assets" account, and refundable utility deposits, included under "Other current and noncurrent assets" account.

Financial assets designated at FVOCI (equity instruments)
Upon initial recognition, the Group can elect to classify irrevocably its equity investments as equity instruments designated at FVOCI when they meet the definition of equity under PAS 32, Financial Instruments: Presentation, and are not held for trading. The classification is determined on an instrument-by-instrument basis.

Gains and losses on these financial assets are never recycled to profit or loss. Dividends are recognized as other income in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income when the right of payment has been established, except when the Group benefits from such proceeds as a recovery of part of the cost of the financial asset, in which case, such gains are recorded in OCI. Equity instruments designated at FVOCI are not subject to impairment assessment.

As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, this category includes investment in equity instruments of affiliates under the common control of the ultimate parent company (included under "Other noncurrent assets" account).

In 2024, the financial assets at FVOCI includes the equity shares of GoTyme Bank. As a result of the reduction in ownership and loss of significant influence, the Group accounted its retained interest in GoTyme Bank at FVOCI. This reclassification resulted in a gain of ₱730 million, which represents the difference between the fair value and carrying amount of the investment (Notes 21 and 31). Subsequently, in August 2024, the Company sold its remaining shares in GoTyme Bank to JG Summit Capital Services, Inc. Following this transaction, the investment was reclassified to Non-Current Asset Held for Sale included under "Other current assets" account (Note 10).

Derecognition. A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognized (i.e., removed from the consolidated statement of financial position) when:

- The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or
- The Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and either (a) the Group has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Group has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset

When the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a 'pass-through' arrangement, it evaluates if, and to what extent, it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Group continues to recognize the transferred asset to the extent of its continuing involvement. In that case, the Group also recognizes an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Group has retained.

Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Group could be required to repay.

Modification of financial assets. The Group derecognizes a financial asset when the terms and conditions have been renegotiated to the extent that, substantially, it becomes a new asset, with the difference between its carrying amount and the fair value of the new asset recognized as a derecognition gain or loss in profit or loss, to the extent that an impairment loss has not already been recorded.

When the contractual cash flows of a financial asset are renegotiated or otherwise modified and the renegotiation or modification does not result in the derecognition of that financial asset, the Group recalculates the gross carrying amount of the financial asset as the present value of the renegotiated or modified contractual cash flows discounted at the original EIR (or credit-adjusted EIR for purchased or originated credit-impaired financial assets) and recognizes a modification gain or loss in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income.

Impairment of financial assets. The Group recognizes an allowance for expected credit losses (ECLs) for all debt instruments not held at FVPL. ECLs are based on the difference between the contractual cash flows due in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Group expects to receive, discounted at an approximation of the original effective interest rate. The expected cash flows will include cash flows from the sale of collateral held or other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms.

ECLs are recognized in two stages. For credit exposures for which there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, ECLs are provided for credit losses that result from default events that are possible within the next 12-months (a 12-month ECL). For those credit exposures for which there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, a loss allowance is required for credit losses expected over the remaining life of the exposure, irrespective of the timing of the default (a lifetime ECL).

For trade receivables, the Group applies a simplified approach in calculating ECLs. Therefore, the Group does not track changes in credit risk, but instead recognizes a loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date. The Group has established a provision matrix for rental and accrued rent receivables and receivables from hotel operations and a vintage analysis for installment contract receivables that is based on its historical credit loss experience, adjusted for forward-looking factors specific to the debtors and the economic environment.

For cash and cash equivalents, the Group applies the low credit risk simplification. The investments are considered to be low credit risk investments as the counterparties have investment grade ratings. It is the Group's policy to measure ECLs on such instruments on a 12-month basis based on available probabilities of defaults and loss given defaults. The Group uses the ratings published by a reputable rating agency to determine if the counterparty has investment grade rating. If there are no available ratings, the Group determines the ratings by reference to a comparable bank.

For other financial assets such as receivables from affiliated companies and utility deposits, ECLs are recognized in two stages. For credit exposures for which there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, ECLs are provided for credit losses that result from default events that are possible within the next 12-months (a 12-month ECL). For those credit exposures for which there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition a loss allowance is required for credit losses expected over the remaining life of the exposure, irrespective of the timing of the default (a lifetime ECL).

The Group considers a debt investment security to have low credit risk when its credit risk rating is equivalent to the globally understood definition of 'investment grade'.

The key inputs in the model include the Group's definition of default and historical data of three years for the origination, maturity date and default date.

Determining the stage for impairment. At each reporting date, the Group assesses whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk for financial assets since initial recognition by comparing the risk of default occurring over the expected life between the reporting date and the date of initial recognition. The Group considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort for this purpose. This includes quantitative and qualitative information and forward-looking analysis.

The Group considers a financial asset in default when contractual payments are 90 days past due. However, in certain cases, the Group may also consider a financial asset to be in default when internal or external information indicates that the Group is unlikely to receive the outstanding contractual amounts in full before taking into account any credit enhancements held by the Group.

An exposure will migrate through the ECL stages as asset quality deteriorates. If, in a subsequent period, asset quality improves and also reverses any previously assessed significant increase in credit risk since origination, then the loss allowance measurement reverts from lifetime ECL to 12-months ECL.

Write-off of financial assets. A financial asset is written off when there is no reasonable expectation of recovering the contractual cash flows (e.g., when the debtor has been placed under liquidation or has entered into bankruptcy proceedings, or when the Group has effectively exhausted all collection efforts).

Financial Liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement. Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at FVPL, loans and borrowings, payables, or as derivatives designated as hedging instruments in an effective hedge, as appropriate.

All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

Directly attributable transaction costs are documentary stamp tax, underwriting and selling fees, regulatory filing fee and other fees.

Subsequent measurement. The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

Loans and borrowings. This is the category most relevant to the Group. After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognized as well as through the EIR amortization process.

Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included as finance costs in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income.

As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, this category includes accounts payable and accrued expenses (except statutory liabilities), short-term loans, loans payable, and payable to affiliated companies and deposits from lessees, which are both included under "Deposits and other current and noncurrent liabilities" account.

Derecognition. A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income.

Offsetting of Financial Instruments
Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the consolidated statement of financial position if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Subdivision Land, Condominium and Residential Units for Sale (or Real Estate Inventories)
Subdivision land, condominium and residential units for sale in the ordinary course of business are carried at the lower of cost and net realizable value (NRV).

Cost includes land costs, costs incurred for development and improvement of the properties (i.e., planning and design costs, costs of site preparation, contractor's fees and other professional fees, property transfer taxes, construction overheads and other related costs). It also includes the cost of land use right (see Note 9).

Real estate inventories that are leased out at market rates to earn revenues to partly cover for expenses on the condition that the intent to sell in the ordinary course of business has not changed are accounted and presented as inventory. The rent income from inventories that are leased out is included in other income in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income.

NRV is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less cost of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

The cost of inventory recognized in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income is determined with reference to the specific costs incurred on the property sold and an allocation of any non-specific costs based on the relative size of the property sold.

Real estate sales cancellations are accounted for as modification of the contract (i.e., from non-cancellable to being cancellable). Revenue from sale of real estate and cost of real estate sales previously recognized shall be reversed in the period of cancellation and the real estate inventories shall be reinstated at cost. Income from forfeitures, except accounts covered by Maceda Law, is presented as "Others" under "Real estate operations" in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

Unrealized Land Costs. Unrealized land costs represent the portion of gross profit arising from the sale of land and development rights by the Parent Company to its joint ventures, which remains unrealized as of reporting date because the related inventories have not yet been sold by the joint ventures to third parties. These amounts are eliminated in accordance with PAS 28 and form part of the carrying value of inventories under PAS 2.

The transfers from unrealized land costs to "Subdivision Land, Condominium and Residential Units for Sale" represent the realization of previously deferred gross profit upon the sale of the underlying inventory by the joint ventures to third parties. Accordingly, the recognition of such amounts is aligned with the timing of the external sale by the joint ventures.

Other Assets

Other assets mainly include advances to contractors and suppliers, advances to land owners, prepaid expenses and assets held for sale.

Advances to contractors and suppliers, advances to lot owners. These are carried at cost less impairment losses, if any.

Prepaid expenses. These pertain to resources controlled by the Group as a result of past events and from which future economic benefits are expected to flow to the Group. With the exception of commission from residential sales, which is amortized using the percentage of completion, other prepaid expenses are amortized over the period of coverage.

Assets held for sale. These are classified as assets held for sale when their carrying value will be recovered principally through a sale transaction rather than through continued use (see Note 10). For an asset to be classified as held for sale:

- it must be available for immediate sale in its present condition, subject only to terms that are usual and customary for sales of such assets;
- its sale must be highly probable; and
- it must genuinely be sold, not abandoned.

At initial recognition, the carrying amount of the asset is measured at the lower of the carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell. Subsequent to initial recognitions, assets held for sale are measured at the lower of carrying amount and fair value less cost to sell. Fair value less cost to sell is the estimated selling price, less estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

In determining the recoverability of the assets held for sale, management considers whether those assets' selling price has declined. Also, management considers whether the estimated cost to sell to be incurred have increased. The excess of the carrying amount over the fair value less cost to sell or any impairment loss is recognized in the statement of comprehensive income.

Any subsequent increase in fair value less costs to sell of an asset held for sale up to the cumulative impairment loss previously recognized is recognized in the statement of comprehensive income.

Assets classified as held for sale are not subject to depreciation. Management believes that the carrying amounts will be recovered principally through a sale transaction.

An extension of the period required to complete the sale does not preclude an asset from being classified as held for sale if the delay is caused by events or circumstances beyond the control of the Group and there is sufficient evidence that the Group remains committed to its plan to sell the assets.

When there are changes to a plan of sale and the criteria are no longer met, the classification of the asset an asset held for sale ceases.

Deposits from lessees. These are measured initially at fair value. After initial recognition, customers' deposits are subsequently measured at amortized cost using EIR method.

The difference between the cash received and its fair value is deferred (included in the "Deposits and other liabilities" in the consolidated statement of financial position) and amortized on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Non-refundable deposits that are applicable against costs of services incurred or goods delivered are measured at fair value.

Loss of Control of a Subsidiary

If a parent company loses control of a subsidiary that constitutes a business in a transaction that is not a downstream transaction and the retained interest is an investment in an associate or joint venture, the retained interest is remeasured at its fair value, and this fair value becomes the cost on initial recognition of the investment in an associate or joint venture.

To apply the equity method from the date control is lost, the Parent Company remeasures all the identifiable assets and liabilities underlying the investment at their fair values, i.e., the Parent Company performs a new purchase price allocation.

Any excess of the entity's share of the net fair value of the investee's identifiable assets and liabilities over the cost of the investment is included as other income in the period in which the investment is acquired and is included in the carrying amount of the investment.

The Group determined that it has control over its subsidiaries by considering, among others, its power over the investee, exposure or rights to variable returns from its involvement with the investee, and the ability to use its power over the investee to affect its returns. The following were also considered:

- The contractual arrangement with the other vote holders of the investee
- Rights arising from other contractual agreements
- The Group's voting rights and potential voting rights

A change in ownership interest in a subsidiary, without a loss of control, is accounted for as an equity transaction (see Notes 2 and 19).

Investments in Associate and Joint Ventures

Investments associates and in joint ventures (investee companies) are accounted for using the equity method of accounting.

Upon loss of significant influence or joint control over the investee companies, the Group measures and recognizes any retaining investment at its fair value. Any difference between the carrying amount of the investee companies upon loss of significant influence or joint control, and the fair value of the retaining investment and proceeds from disposal is recognized in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income. Likewise, a gain or a loss on dilution is recognized in the consolidated statement of income when the Group does not participate in capital infusion and effectively foregoes its pre-emptive right and loses significant influence or joint control over the investee companies.

In 2024, the Group recognized fair value gain on investment in associate reclassified to FVOCI amounting to ₱730 million (see Note 10).

Interest in Joint Operation

The Group recognize in relation to its interest in a joint operation its assets, including its share of any assets held jointly; liabilities, including its share of any liabilities incurred jointly; revenue from the sale of its share of the output arising from the joint operation; share of the revenue from the sale of the output by the joint operation; and expenses, including its share of any expenses incurred jointly.

The financial statements of the joint operation are prepared for the same reporting period as the Group. Where necessary, adjustments are made to bring the accounting policies in line with those of the Group.

Investment Properties

Investment properties - Land, Land Improvements, Buildings and Improvements and Construction in Progress. Investment properties consist of properties that are held to earn rentals or for capital appreciation or both, and that are not occupied by the companies consolidated into the Group. Investment properties, except for land, are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment in value. Land is carried at cost less any impairment in value. The carrying amount includes the cost of replacing part of an existing investment property at the time that cost is incurred if the recognition criteria are met and excludes the cost of day-to-day servicing of an investment property.

Investment properties are depreciated and amortized using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives (EUL) as follows:

	Years
Buildings	20 - 40
Building improvements	10
Land improvements	10

The useful life and depreciation method are reviewed periodically to ensure that the period and method of depreciation are consistent with the expected pattern of economic benefits from items of investment properties.

Construction-in-progress (CIP) is stated at cost. This includes cost of construction and other direct costs. Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the construction of investment properties are capitalized during the construction period. CIP is not depreciated until such time as the relevant assets are in the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management.

Expenditures incurred after the investment property has been put in operation, such as repairs and maintenance costs, are normally charged against income in the period in which the costs are incurred.

Investment properties are derecognized when either they have been disposed of or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefit is expected from its disposal. Any gain or loss on the retirement or disposal of an investment property is recognized in the profit and loss in the period of retirement or disposal.

Transfers are made to investment property when, and only when, there is a change in use, evidenced by the end of owner occupation, commencement of an operating lease to another party. Transfers are made from investment property when, and only when, there is a change in use, evidenced by commencement of owner occupation or commencement of development with a view to sell. Transfers between investment properties, owner-occupied property and inventories do not change the carrying amount of the property transferred and they do not change the cost of the property for measurement or disclosure purposes.

Investment Properties - Land held for future development. Land held for future development consists of raw land held by the Group which will be developed into investment properties in the future. Land held for future development is carried at cost less any impairment in value. Transfers are made to investment properties when there is commencement of construction of commercial centers or office building on the land property. Transfers are made from land held for future development to either property and equipment or subdivision land, condominium and residential units for sale when, and only when, there is change in use, as evidenced by owner occupation or upon commencement of real estate development with a view to sell.

Land held for future development are derecognized when either they have been disposed of or when the land is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefit is expected from its disposal. Any gain or loss on the retirement or disposal of land held for future development is recognized in the profit and loss in the period of retirement or disposal.

Fair value disclosure. The Group discloses the fair values of its investment properties in accordance with PAS 40. The Group engages independent valuation specialist to assess the fair values of investment properties. The Group's investment properties consist of land and building pertaining to land properties, retail (malls), office properties and industrial facilities. These are valued by reference to market-based evidence using comparable prices adjusted for specific market factors such as nature, location and condition of the property and income approach by reference to the value of income, cash flow or cost saving generated by the asset.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment in value. The cost of an item of property and equipment includes its purchase price and any cost attributable in bringing the asset to the intended location and working condition. Cost also includes interest and other charges on borrowed funds used to finance the construction of property and equipment to the extent incurred during the period of construction and installation.

Expenditures incurred after the fixed assets have been put into operation, such as repairs and maintenance, are normally charged to expenses in the period in which the costs are incurred.

In situations where it can be clearly demonstrated that the expenditures have resulted in an increase in the future economic benefits expected to be obtained from the use of an item of property and equipment beyond its originally assessed standard of performance, the expenditures are capitalized as an additional cost of property and equipment.

Depreciation commences once the assets are available for use and is calculated on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of over the EUL as follow:

	Years
Buildings	20 - 40
Building improvements	10
Land improvements	5
Theater furniture and equipment	5
IT Equipment	3
Other equipment	2.5

Assets under construction are transferred to a specific category of property and equipment when the construction and other related activities necessary to prepare the property and equipment for their intended use are completed and the property and equipment are available for service. Other equipment includes china, glassware, silver and linen on stock used in hotel operations.

The useful life and depreciation method are reviewed and adjusted, if appropriate, at each financial year-end to ensure that the period and method of depreciation are consistent with the expected pattern of economic benefits from items of property and equipment.

An item of property and equipment is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in profit and loss in the period the asset is derecognized.

Impairment of Nonfinancial Assets

The Group assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that the Group's investment properties, property and equipment, right-of-use assets, investment in joint ventures and other nonfinancial assets may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the Group makes an estimate of the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is calculated as the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's fair value less cost to sell and its value in use and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or group of assets. Where the carrying amount of an asset exceeds the recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessment of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. Impairment losses of continuing operations are recognized in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income in those expense categories consistent with the unction of the impaired asset.

An assessment is made at each reporting date as to whether there is any indication that previously recognized impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If any such indication exists, the Group makes an estimate of recoverable amount. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. If that is the case, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the recoverable amount. That increased amount cannot exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognized for the assets in prior periods, such reversal is recognized in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income.

The following criteria are also applied in assessing the impairment of specific assets.

Investments in joint ventures. After application of the equity method, the Group determines whether it is necessary to recognize any additional impairment loss with respect to the Group's net investment in the investee companies. The Group determines at each reporting date whether there is any objective evidence that the investment in joint ventures is impaired. If this is the case, the Group calculates the amount of impairment as being the difference between the recoverable amount and the carrying value of the investee companies and recognizes the difference in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income. An asset's recoverable amount is calculated as the higher of the asset's or CGU's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use. In assessing value in use, the Group estimates its future cash flows using key assumptions and the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessment of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

Equity

Capital stock is measured at par value for all shares issued. When the Group issues more than one capital stock, a separate account is maintained for each class of stock and the number of shares issued.

When the shares are sold at premium, the difference between the proceeds at the par value is credited to "Additional paid-in capital" account. Direct costs incurred related to equity issuance are chargeable to "Additional paid-in capital" account. If additional paid-in capital is not sufficient, the excess is charged against retained earnings.

Retained earnings represent accumulated earnings of the Group less dividends declared. The individual accumulated retained earnings of the subsidiaries are available for dividend distribution when they are declared by the subsidiaries as approved by their respective BOD. The amount of retained earnings to the extent of the cost of treasury shares are not available for dividend declaration.

Treasury Stock

Own equity instruments which are acquired (treasury stock) are recognized at cost and deducted from equity. No gain or loss is recognized in the profit and loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Parent Company's own equity instruments. Any difference between the carrying amount and the consideration, if reissued, is recognized in additional paid-in capital. Voting rights related to treasury shares are nullified for the Group and no dividends are allocated to them respectively. When the shares are retired, the capital stock account is reduced by its par value and the excess of cost over par value upon retirement is debited to additional paid-in capital when the shares were issued and to retained earnings for the remaining balance.

Equity Reserves

Equity reserve pertains to the difference between the consideration paid and the carrying value of the non-controlling interest acquired. Upon disposal of the related investment, the other equity reserve is transferred to retained earnings.

Changes in a parent's ownership interest in a subsidiary that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions (i.e., transactions with owners in their capacity as owners). In such circumstances, the carrying amounts of the controlling and non-controlling interests shall be adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interests in the subsidiary. Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid shall be recognized directly in equity and included under "Equity reserves" account in the equity sections of the consolidated financial statements.

On sale and disposal of properties involving entities under common control, any difference between consideration received and costs shall be recognized directly in equity and included under "Equity reserves" account in the equity section of consolidated of financial position. The related impact to the non-controlling interest is also considered.

Income Taxes

Current income tax. Current income tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amounts are those that are enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date in the countries where the Group operates and generates taxable income.

Deferred income tax. Deferred income tax is provided using the liability method on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date. Deferred income tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- When the deferred income tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss
- In respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and interests in joint arrangements, when the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred income tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences, the carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred income tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilized, except:

- When the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss
- In respect of deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and interests in joint arrangements, deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent that it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized

The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable income will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilized. Unrecognized deferred income tax assets are reassessed at each reporting date and are recognized to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable income will allow all as part of the deferred tax and to be recovered. The Group does not recognize deferred income tax assets that will reverse during the income tax holiday (ITH).

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred income tax relating to items recognized outside profit or loss is recognized outside profit or loss. Deferred income tax items are recognized in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

Deferred income tax assets and deferred income tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

Pension Expense

The Group has a noncontributory defined benefit plan. The net defined benefit liability or asset is the aggregate of the present value of the defined benefit liability at the end of the reporting period reduced by the fair value of plan assets (if any), adjusted for any effect of limiting a net defined benefit asset to the asset ceiling. The asset ceiling is the present value of any economic benefits available in the form of refunds from the plan or reductions in future contributions to the plan.

The cost of providing benefits under the defined benefit plan is actuarially determined using the projected unit credit method.

Defined benefit costs comprise the following:

- Service costs
- Net interest on the net defined benefit liability or asset
- Remeasurements of net defined benefit liability or asset

Service costs which include current service costs, past service costs and gains or losses on non-routine settlements are recognized as expense in profit or loss. Past service costs are recognized when plan amendment or curtailment occurs. These amounts are calculated periodically by independent qualified actuary.

Net interest on the net defined benefit liability or asset is the change during the period in the net defined benefit liability or asset that arises from the passage of time which is determined by applying the discount rate based on government bonds to the net defined benefit liability or asset. Net interest on the net defined benefit liability or asset is recognized as expense or income in profit or loss.

Remeasurements comprising actuarial gains and losses, return on plan assets and any change in the effect of the asset ceiling (excluding net interest on defined benefit liability) are recognized immediately in OCI in the period in which they arise. Remeasurements are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods.

Plan assets are assets that are held by a long-term employee benefit fund or qualifying insurance policies. Plan assets are not available to the creditors of the Group, nor can they be paid directly to the Group. Fair value of plan assets is based on market price information. When no market price is available, the fair value of plan assets is estimated by discounting expected future cash flows using a discount rate that reflects both the risk associated with the plan assets and the maturity or expected disposal date of those assets (or, if they have no maturity, the expected period until the settlement of the related liabilities). If the fair value of the plan assets is higher than the present value of the defined benefit liability, the measurement of the resulting defined benefit asset is limited to the present value of economic benefits available in the form of refunds from the plan or reductions in future contributions to the plan.

The Group's right to be reimbursed of some or all of the expenditure required to settle a defined benefit liability is recognized as a separate asset at fair value when and only when reimbursement is virtually certain.

Termination benefit. Termination benefits are employee benefits provided in exchange for the termination of an employee's employment as a result of either an entity's decision to terminate an employee's employment before the normal retirement date or an employee's decision to accept an offer of benefits in exchange for the termination of employment.

A liability and expense for a termination benefit is recognized at the earlier of when the entity can no longer withdraw the offer of those benefits and when the entity recognizes related restructuring costs. Initial recognition and subsequent changes to termination benefits are measured in accordance with the nature of the employee benefit, as either post-employment benefits, short-term employee benefits, or other long-term employee benefits.

Foreign Currency Transactions and Translations

Transactions and balances. Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded by the Group's entities at their respective functional currency spot rates at the date the transaction first qualifies for recognition. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency spot rates of exchange at the reporting date. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions.

Translation for consolidation. On consolidation, the assets and liabilities of foreign operations are translated into Philippine Peso at the rate of exchange prevailing at the reporting date and their statements of profit or loss are translated at exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. The exchange differences arising on translation for consolidation are recognized in the cumulative translation adjustment (CTA) in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income. On disposal of a foreign operation, when the standard permits, the component of OCI relating to that particular foreign operation is reclassified to profit or loss.

Earnings Per Share (EPS)

Basic EPS is calculated by dividing net income attributable to equity holders of the Parent Company by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year. Diluted EPS is computed by dividing net income attributable to equity holders of the Parent Company by the weighted average number of common shares issued and outstanding during the period after giving effect to assumed conversion of potential common shares. Calculation of dilutive EPS considers the potential ordinary shares of subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures that have dilutive effect on the basic EPS of the Parent Company. The calculation of diluted earnings per share does not assume conversion, exercise, or other issue of potential common shares that would have an antidilutive effect on earnings per share.

Operating Segment

The Group's operating businesses are organized and managed separately according to the nature of the products and services provided, with each segment representing a strategic business unit that offers different products and services and serves different markets. Financial information on business segments is presented in Note 6 to the consolidated financial statements.

Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Where the Group expects a provision to be reimbursed, the reimbursement is recognized as a separate asset but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. Where discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as an interest expense. Provisions are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate.

Contingencies

Contingent liabilities are not recognized in the consolidated financial statements but are disclosed unless the possibility of an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote. Contingent assets are not recognized in the consolidated financial statements but are disclosed when an inflow of economic benefits is probable. However, when the realization of income is virtually certain, the related asset is not a contingent asset and will be recognized.

Events After the Reporting Date
Post year-end events that provide additional information about the Group's financial position at the reporting date (adjusting events) are reflected in the consolidated financial statements. Post year-end events that are not adjusting events are disclosed in the consolidated financial statements when material.

5. Significant Accounting Judgments and Estimates

The preparation of the accompanying consolidated financial statements is in conformity with PFRS Accounting Standards. The estimates and assumptions used in the accompanying consolidated financial statements are based upon management's evaluation of relevant facts and circumstances as of the date of the consolidated financial statements. Future events may occur which will cause the assumptions used in arriving at the estimates to change. The effects of any change in judgments and estimates are reflected in the consolidated financial statements, as they become reasonably determinable. Actual results could differ from such estimates.

Judgments and estimates are continuously evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

Judgments
In the process of applying the Group's accounting policies, management has made the following judgments, apart from those involving estimations, which has the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the consolidated financial statements.

Existence of a contract. The Group's primary document for a contract with a customer is a signed contract to sell. It has determined, however, that in cases wherein contract to sell are not signed by both parties, the combination of its other duly executed and signed documentation such as reservation agreement, official receipts, buyer's computation sheets and invoices, would contain all the criteria to qualify as contract with the customer under PFRS 15.

In addition, part of the assessment process of the Group before revenue recognition is to assess the probability that the Group will collect the consideration to which it will be entitled in exchange for the real estate property that will be transferred to the customer. In evaluating whether collectability of an amount of consideration is probable, an entity considers the significance of the customer's initial payments in relation to the total contract price. Collectability is also assessed by considering factors such as past history with the customer, age and pricing of the property. Management regularly evaluates the historical cancellations and back-outs if it would still support its current threshold of customers' equity before commencing revenue recognition.

Revenue recognition method and measure of progress. For the revenue from real estate sales in the Philippines, the Group concluded that revenue is to be recognized over time because: (a) the Group's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use and; (b) the Group has an enforceable right for performance completed to date. The promised property is specifically identified in the contract and the contractual restriction on the Group's ability to direct the promised property for another use is substantive. This is because the property promised to the customer is not interchangeable with other properties without breaching the contract and without incurring significant costs that otherwise would not have been incurred in relation to that contract. In addition, under the current legal framework, the customer is contractually obliged to make payments to the developer up to the performance completed to date. In addition, the Group requires a certain percentage of buyer's payments of total selling price (buyer's equity), to be collected as one of the criteria in order to initiate revenue recognition. Reaching this level of collection is an indication of buyer's continuing commitment and the probability that economic benefits will flow to the Group. The Group considers that the initial and continuing investments by the buyer of about 10% on projects that are under development and construction demonstrate the buyer's commitment to pay. For certain inventories that have been fully completed and ready for occupancy, outright investment of the buyer of about 5% demonstrates the buyer's commitment to pay.

The Group has determined that input method used in measuring the progress of the performance obligation faithfully depicts the Group's performance in transferring control of real estate development to the customers.

Determining transaction price of sale of real estate. The Group determines whether a contract contains a significant financing component on an individual real estate contract by considering (1) the difference, if any, between the amount of promised considerations and the cash selling price of the promised goods or services; and (2) the effect of the expected length of time between when the entity transfers the promised goods or services to the customer and when the customer pays for those goods or services and the prevailing effective interest rate (EIR). The Group applied practical expedient by not adjusting the effect of financing component when the period when the entity transfers a promised good or service to a customer and when the customer pays for that good or service will be one year or less. For every individual real estate contracts, the Group determines whether its transaction price on sale of real estate recognized over time include a significant financing component based on defined qualitative and quantitative metrics.

Effective January 1, 2024, the Group adopted the PIC Q&A No. 2018-12-D. The Group followed the allowed modified retrospective approach allowing it to adjust the beginning balance of equity / retained earnings in 2024. The adjustment on the 2024 beginning balance of equity / retained earnings is an increase of ₱410 million. As at December 31, 2025, and 2024, the Group assessed that the overall impact of the requirement of PIC Q&A No. 2018-12-D pertaining to significant financing component is not material to the consolidated financial statements.

Revenue and cost recognition. The Group's real estate sales is recognized overtime and the percentage-of-completion is determined using input method measured principally based on total actual cost of resources consumed such as materials, labor hours and actual overhead incurred over the total expected project development cost. Actual costs also include incurred costs but not yet billed which are estimated by the project engineers. Expected project development costs include costs of land, land development, building costs, professional fees, depreciation of equipment directly used in the construction, payments for permits and licenses. Revisions in estimated development costs brought about by increases in projected costs in excess of the original budgeted amounts, form part of total project costs on a prospective basis and is allocated between costs of sales and real estate inventories.

Principal versus agent considerations. The contract for the mall retail spaces and office spaces leased out by the Group to its lessees includes the right to charge for the electricity usage, water usage, air conditioning charges and CUSA like maintenance, janitorial and security services.

For the electricity and water usage, the Group determined that it is acting as an agent for the benefit of the lessees because the promise of the Group to the lessees is to arrange for the electricity and water supply to be provided by utility companies. The utility and service companies, and not the Group, are primarily responsible for the provisioning of the utilities while the Group administers for a minimal fee, the leased spaces and coordinates with the utility and service companies to ensure that lessees have access to these utilities.

For the provision of CUSA and air-conditioning of the buildings, the existing lease contract establishes the Group to act as a principal because it retains the right to direct the service provider of maintenance, janitorial and security to the leased premises, and air-conditioning, respectively. The right to the services mentioned never transfers to the lessees and the Group has the discretion to add a nominal fee to the CUSA and air-conditioning charges.

Provision for expected credit losses. The Group applied the following judgments that significantly affect its assessment of expected credit losses for its financial assets:

Definition of default and credit-impaired financial assets. The Group defines a financial instrument as in default, which is fully aligned with the definition of credit-impaired, when it meets one or more of the following criteria:

Quantitative criteria - for installment contract receivables, the customer receives a notice of cancellation and does not continue the payments.

Qualitative criteria - the customer meets 'unlikeliness to pay' criteria, which indicates the customer is in significant financial difficulty. These are instances where:

a. The customer is experiencing financial difficulty or is insolvent
b. The customer is in breach of financial covenant(s)
c. An active market for that financial asset has disappeared because of financial difficulties
d. Concessions have been granted by the Group, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the customer's financial difficulty
e. It is becoming probable that the customer will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganization

The criteria above have been applied to the financial instruments held by the Group and are consistent with the definition of default used for internal credit risk management purposes. The default definition has been applied consistently to model the Probability of Default (PD), Loss Given Default (LGD) and Exposure at Default (EAD) throughout the Group's expected loss calculation.

Incorporation of forward-looking information. The Group incorporates forward-looking information into both its assessment of whether the credit risk of an instrument has increased significantly since its initial recognition and its measurement of ECL.

To do this, the Group considers a range of relevant forward-looking macro-economic assumptions for the determination of unbiased general industry adjustments and any related specific industry adjustments that support the calculation of ECLs. Based on the Group's evaluation and assessment and after taking into consideration external actual and forecast information, the Group formulates a 'base case' view of the future direction of relevant economic variables as well as a representative range of other possible forecast scenarios. This process involves developing two or more additional economic scenarios and considering the relative probabilities of each outcome. External information includes economic data and forecasts published by governmental bodies, monetary authorities and selected private-sector and academic institutions.

The base case represents a most-likely outcome and is aligned with information used by the Group for other purposes such as strategic planning and budgeting. The other scenarios represent more optimistic and more pessimistic outcomes. Periodically, the Group carries out stress testing of more extreme shocks to calibrate its determination of these other representative scenarios.

The Group has identified and documented key drivers of credit risk and credit losses of each portfolio of financial instruments and, using an analysis of historical data, has estimated relationships between macro-economic variables and credit risk and credit losses.

Joint Control. The Parent Company entered into various joint ventures with Shang Properties, Inc., Hong Kong Land Group, DMCI Project Developers, Inc. and Double Dragon Properties Corp. The Parent Company considers that it has joint control over these arrangements since decisions about the relevant activities of the joint ventures require unanimous consent of the parties as provided for in the joint venture agreements and shareholders' agreements.

Determining whether it is reasonably certain that a renewal and termination option will be exercised – Group as a lessee. The Group has several lease contracts that include renewal and termination options. The Group applies judgment in evaluating whether it is reasonably certain to exercise the option to renew or terminate the lease. That is, it considers all relevant factors that create an economic incentive for it to exercise the renewal or termination. After the commencement date, the Group reassesses the lease term if there is a significant event or change in circumstances that is within its control and affects its ability to exercise (or not to exercise) the option to renew or terminate (e.g., a change in business strategy).

The Group determines the lease term as the non-cancellable term of the lease, together with any periods covered by an option to renew the lease if it is reasonably certain to be exercised, or any periods covered by an option to terminate the lease, if it is reasonably certain not to be exercised.

The Group did not include the option to renew nor the option to terminate the lease in the lease term as the Group assessed that it is not reasonably certain that these options will be exercised.

Operating lease commitments - Group as lessor. The Group has entered into commercial, office and industrial property leases on its investment properties portfolio. Based on an evaluation of the terms and conditions of the arrangements, the Group has determined that it retains all the significant risks and rewards of ownership of these properties and accounts for them as operating leases. In determining significant risks and benefits of ownership, the Group considered, among others, the significance of the lease term as compared with the EUL of the related asset.

A number of the Group's operating lease contracts are accounted for as noncancellable operating leases and the rest are cancellable. In determining whether a lease contract is cancellable or not, the Group considers, among others, the significance of the penalty, including the economic consequence to the lessee (see Note 34).

Finance lease commitments - Group as lessor. The Group has entered into property leases on some of its real estate condominium unit property portfolio. The Group has determined, based on an evaluation of the terms and conditions of the arrangements, particularly the bargain purchase option and minimum lease payments that the Group has transferred all the significant risks and rewards of ownership of these properties to the lessee and accounts for them as finance leases (see Note 34).

Distinction among real estate inventories, land held for future development and investment properties
The Group determines whether a property will be classified as real estate inventories, land held for future development and investment properties. In making this judgment, the Group considers whether the property will be sold in the normal operating cycle (Real estate inventories), whether it will be retained as part of the Group's strategic land banking activities for development or sale in the medium or long-term (Land held for future development) or whether it will be held to earn rentals or for capital appreciation (Investment properties). For land properties, the Group considers the purpose for which the land was acquired.

Contingencies. The Group is currently involved in various legal proceedings in the ordinary course of business. The estimate of the probable costs for the resolution of these claims has been developed in consultation with the internal and external counsel handling the defense on these matters and is based upon an analysis and judgment of potential results by the management. The Group currently does not believe these proceedings will have a material effect on the Group's financial position. It is possible, that future results of operations could be materially affected by changes in the judgment or in the effectiveness of the strategies relating to these proceedings (see Note 34).

Judgments made in determining taxable profit (tax loss), tax bases, unused tax losses, unused tax credits and tax rates applying paragraph 122 of PAS 1, Presentation of Financial Statements. Upon adoption of the Interpretation, the Group has assessed whether it has any uncertain tax position. The Group applies significant judgment in identifying uncertainties over its income tax treatments. The Group determined, based on its assessment, in consultation with its tax counsel, that it is probable that its uncertain income tax treatments (including those for the subsidiaries) will be accepted by the taxation authorities.

Estimates and Assumptions

The key estimates and assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date that has a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities are discussed below.

Revenue and cost recognition. The Group's revenue recognition policies require management to make use of estimates and assumptions that may affect the reported amounts of revenue and costs. The Group's revenue and cost from real estate where performance obligation is satisfied over time and recognized based on the percentage of completion is measured principally on the basis of the estimated completion by reference to the actual costs incurred to date over the estimated total costs of the project.

For the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, the real estate sales recognized over time amounted to ₱5,512 million, ₱5,399 million and ₱8,729 million, respectively (see Note 21), while the related cost of real estate sales amounted to ₱2,701 million, ₱2,850 million and ₱4,406 million, respectively (see Note 22).

The Group also recognized revenue when control is passed on a certain point in time. The Group's revenue and cost of real estate sales were recognized upon transfer of control to the buyer. Real estate sales pertaining to this transaction amounted to ₱666 million, ₱1,114 million and ₱1,111 million for the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively (see Note 21). The related cost of sales amounted to ₱224 million, ₱322 million and ₱345 million for the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

Estimation of significant financing component. The Group's estimation of transaction price allocated to financing component makes use of estimates and assumptions that may affect the estimated amount of financing component. The financing component calculation prepared by management, which covers the calculation on whether the financing component of the Group's contract with customers is significant, is based on various inputs such as transaction price, cash discount, payment scheme, payment amortization table, discount rate, percentage of completion to the contract provision and projected percentage of completion schedule. In 2025 and 2024, the Group has assessed the impact of the financing component on revenue contracts is not material to the consolidated financial statements.

Fair value of financial instruments. When the fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded or disclosed in the consolidated statement of financial position cannot be derived from active markets, they are determined using internal valuation techniques using generally accepted market valuation models. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, estimates are used in establishing fair values. These estimates may include considerations of liquidity, volatility and correlation. Certain financial assets and liabilities were initially recorded at their fair values by using the discounted cash flow methodology.

The fair value disclosures of financial instruments is disclosed in Note 33.

Provision for expected credit losses of trade receivables. The Group uses a provision matrix to calculate ECLs for trade receivables other than installment contract receivables. The provision rates are based on days past due for groupings of various customer segments that have similar loss patterns.

The provision matrix is initially based on the Group's historical observed default rates. The Group will calibrate the matrix to adjust the historical credit loss experience with forward-looking information such as inflation and dollar index rates. At every reporting date, the historical observed default rates are updated and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analyzed.

The Group uses vintage analysis approach to calculate ECLs for installment contract receivables. The vintage analysis accounts for expected losses by calculating the cumulative loss rates of a given loan pool. It derives the probability of default from the historical data of a homogenous portfolio that share the same origination period. The information on the number of defaults during fixed time intervals of the accounts is utilized to create the PD model. It allows the evaluation of the loan activity from its origination period until the end of the contract period.

The assessment of the correlation between historical observed default rates, forecast economic conditions (inflation and interest rates) and ECLs is a significant estimate. The amount of ECLs is sensitive to changes in circumstances and of forecast economic conditions. The Group's historical credit loss experience and forecast of economic conditions may also not be representative of customer's actual default in the future.

Provision for impairment losses on receivables amounted to ₱29 million and ₱32 million in 2025 and 2024, respectively. Receivables written-off amounted to nil and ₱135 million in 2025 and 2024, respectively. The carrying value of trade receivables amounted to ₱28,529 million and ₱23,410 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively (see Note 8). The carrying value of installment contract receivables amounted to ₱22,031 million and ₱17,684 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively (see Note 8).

Evaluation of net realizable value of real estate inventories. The Group adjusts the cost of its real estate inventories to net realizable value based on its assessment of the recoverability of the inventories. NRV for completed real estate inventories is assessed with reference to market conditions and prices existing at the reporting date and is determined by the Group in light of recent market transactions. NRV in respect of real estate inventories under construction is assessed with reference to market prices at the reporting date for similar completed property, less estimated costs to complete construction and less estimated costs to sell. The amount and timing of recorded expenses for any period would differ if different judgments were made or different estimates were utilized. In evaluating NRV, recent market conditions and current market prices have been considered.

As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Group's real estate inventories which include subdivision land, condominium and residential units for sale amounted to ₱40,301 million and ₱40,555 million, respectively (see Note 9).

Estimation of useful lives of property and equipment and investment properties. The Group estimates the useful lives of its depreciable property and equipment and investment properties based on the period over which the assets are expected to be available for use. The EUL of the said depreciable assets are reviewed at least annually and are updated if expectations differ from previous estimates due to physical wear and tear and technical or commercial obsolescence on the use of these assets. It is possible that future results of operations could be materially affected by changes in these estimates brought about by changes in the factors mentioned above. A reduction in the EUL of the depreciable property and equipment and investment properties would increase depreciation expense and decrease noncurrent assets.

The carrying value of depreciable property and equipment amounted to ₱20,607 million and ₱14,233 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively (see Note 12). The carrying value of depreciable investment properties amounted to ₱71,392 million and ₱68,429 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively (see Note 11).

Impairment of nonfinancial assets. The Group assesses impairment on its nonfinancial assets (i.e., investment properties, property and equipment, right-of-use assets, investments in joint ventures and other noncurrent assets) and considers the following important indicators:

- Significant changes in asset usage;
- Significant decline in assets' market value;
- Obsolescence or physical damage of an asset;
- Significant underperformance relative to expected historical or projected future operating results; and
- Significant negative industry or economic trends

An impairment loss is recognized whenever the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount of an asset is the higher of its fair value less cost to sell and value in use. Recoverable amounts are estimated for individual assets or, if it is not possible, for the CGU to which the asset belongs, while value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life.

The carrying values of the Group's nonfinancial assets as of December 31, 2025 and 2024 are disclosed below.

Pension cost. The determination of the obligation and cost of pension benefits is dependent on the selection of certain assumptions used in calculating such amounts. Those assumptions include, among others, discount rates and salary increase rates (see Note 30). The cost of defined benefit pension plan and the present value of the pension liabilities are determined using actuarial valuations. Due to the complexity of the valuation, the underlying assumptions and its long-term nature, defined benefit liabilities are highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

In determining the appropriate discount rate, management considers the interest rates of government bonds that are denominated in the currency in which the benefits will be paid, with extrapolated maturities corresponding to the expected duration of the defined benefit liability. Future salary increases are based on expected future inflation rates and other relevant factors. The present value of the defined benefit obligation is determined by discounting the estimated future cash outflows using interest rates of Philippine government bonds with terms consistent with the expected employee benefit payout as of reporting date.

As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Group's net pension liabilities amounted to ₱757 million and ₱675 million, respectively (see Notes 17 and 30).

Leases - Estimating the incremental borrowing rate. The Group cannot readily determine the interest rate implicit in the lease, therefore, it uses its incremental borrowing rate (IBR) to measure lease liabilities. The IBR is the rate of interest that the Group would have to pay to borrow over a similar term, and with a similar security, the funds necessary to obtain an asset of a similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment. The IBR therefore reflects what the Group 'would have to pay', which requires estimation when no observable rates are available (such as for subsidiaries that do not enter into financing transactions) or when they need to be adjusted to reflect the terms and conditions of the lease (for example, when leases are not in the subsidiary's functional currency). The Group estimates the IBR using observable inputs (such as market interest rates) when available and is required to make certain entity-specific estimates (such as the subsidiary's stand-alone credit rating).

The Group's lease liabilities amounted to ₱3,718 million and ₱3,526 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively (see Notes 15, 17 and 34).

Recognition of deferred tax assets. Deferred tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that sufficient taxable income will be available against which the deductible temporary differences can be utilized. Significant management estimate is required to determine the amount of deferred tax asset that can be recognized, based upon the likely timing and level of future taxable income together with future tax planning.

Deferred tax assets recognized as of December 31, 2025 and 2024 amounted to ₱1,539 million and ₱1,436 million, respectively (see Note 27).

The Group has NOLCO amounting to ₱15 million and ₱291 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, that is available for offset against taxable income, which the related deferred tax asset has not been recognized. The related deferred tax assets amounted to ₱2 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively (see Note 27).

6. Operating Segments

Business Segments

The business segment is determined as the primary segment reporting format as the Group's risks and rates of return are affected predominantly by each operating segment.

Management monitors the operating results of its operating segments separately for the purpose of making decisions about resource allocation and performance assessment. Group financing (including interest income and interest expense) and income taxes are managed on a group basis and are not allocated to operating segments. The Group evaluates performance based on earnings before interest, income tax, depreciation and other income (losses) (EBITDA).

The financial information on the operations of these business segments as shown below are based on the measurement principles that are similar with those used in measuring the assets, liabilities, income and expenses in the consolidated financial statements which is in accordance with PFRS Accounting Standards except for EBITDA.

Cost and expenses exclude interest, taxes and depreciation.

The Group derives its revenue from the following reportable units:

Robinsons Malls - develops, leases and manages lifestyle centers all over the Philippines.

Residential Division - develops and sells residential condominium units, as well as horizontal residential projects in the Philippines.

Robinsons Offices - develops and leases out office spaces.

Robinsons Hotels and Resorts - owns and operates a chain of hotels in various locations in the Philippines.

Robinsons Logistics and Industrial Facilities - develops and leases out warehouse and logistics facilities.

Robinsons Destination Estates - focuses on strategic land bank acquisition and management, exploration of real estate-related infrastructure projects.

Chengdu Xin Yao (CDXY) is no longer presented as a reportable segment as it no longer qualifies as a separately reportable segment. The operating results are presented under Robinsons Destination Estates segment.

The financial information about the operations of these business segments is summarized as follows:

On October 20, 2015, the Chinese government awarded the Contract of Assignment of the Rights to the Use of State-Owned Land (the Contract) to the Group. In May 2016, the Masterplan had been completed and was submitted for approval to the Chinese government in the same month. The Chinese government approved the Masterplan in the first quarter of 2017 and construction activities has commenced (recognized as land use right and development cost).

Under the Contract, the Group is entitled to transfer, lease, mortgage all or part of the state-owned construction land use right to a third party. Upon receipt of the Certificate of State-owned Land Use Right Assignment, the land title will be subdivided into Individual Property Titles which will be issued to unit owners one year after completion of the development and turn-over of the units to the buyers. When all or part of the state-owned construction land use right is transferred, through sale of commercial units and high-rise condominium units to buyers, the rights and obligations specified in the Contract and in the land registration documents shall be transferred accordingly to the buyer. The use term will be the remaining years as of the date of transfer based on the original use term specified in the Contract.

When the use term under the Contract expires (residential: 70 years and commercial: 40 years) and the land user continues using the assigned land under the Contract, an application for renewal shall be submitted to the Chinese government not less than one (1) year prior to the expiration of the use term.

Prepaid expenses consist mainly of prepayments for taxes and insurance and cost to obtain contract in relation to the Group's real estate sales. The cost to obtain contracts which include prepaid commissions and advances to brokers/agents amounted to ₱239 million and ₱226 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively (Note 21).

Advances to lot owners consist of advance payments to lot owners which shall be applied against the acquisition cost of the real estate properties of residential projects.

Restricted cash pertains to cash in escrow for the purchase of land. These are deposited with accredited banks and are restricted for use until the Group satisfies the prescribed development and documentation requirements.

Asset held for sale pertains to investment in financial assets at FVOCI that have been reclassified as noncurrent assets held for sale in 2024. In January 2024, the Parent Company lost its significant influence in GoTyme Bank Corporation (GTBC) bank when its ownership was diluted from 20% to 19%. As a result, the Group accounted for its retained interest in GTBC as investment in financial assets at FVOCI which resulted in a gain of ₱730 million. The gain represents the difference between the fair value and the carrying amount of the investment. Subsequently, in August 2024, the Group entered into agreement to sell its remaining shares in GTBC, and the investment was presented and classified as noncurrent assets held for sale. In 2025, the asset held for sale was subsequently disposed at cost. No gain or loss was recognized.

Building and improvements pertains to offices and malls for leasing.

The construction in progress reclassified to their respective asset accounts in 2025 and 2024 amounted to ₱6,564 million and ₱9,376 million, respectively. The reclassifications in 2025 represent commercial and office buildings in Pagadian and Iloilo. The reclassifications in 2024 represent commercial, office buildings, and logistic facilities in Pasig, Cebu, Taytay, and Calamba. The remaining construction in progress represents new and expansion projects in various cities in Metro Manila and other parts of Luzon and Visayas regions. These normally take three (3) to five (5) years to construct until completion. In 2025, certain parcels of the land held for future development was reclassified to land amounting to ₱738 million and to subdivision land amounting to ₱42 million (see Note 9).

Borrowing costs capitalized amounted to ₱682 million, ₱909 million and ₱651 million for the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively. These amounts were included in the consolidated statements of cash flows under additions to investment properties. The capitalization rates used to determine the amount of borrowing costs eligible for capitalization for the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023 are 5.68%, 5.57% and 4.74%, respectively (see Note 16).

The aggregate fair value of the Group's investment properties amounted to ₱447.2 billion and ₱435.8 billion as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. The fair values of the investment properties were determined by independent professionally qualified appraisers and exceed their carrying values.

The following table provides the fair value hierarchy of the Group's investment properties as of December 31:

			Fair value measurement using
	Date of Valuation	Total	Quoted prices in active markets (Level 1)	Significant observable inputs (Level 2)	Significant unobservable inputs (Level 3)
			2025
Investment properties	Various	₱447,175,301,821	₱–	₱–	₱447,175,301,821
Investment properties	Various	₱435,795,251,589	₱–	₱–	₱435,795,251,589

The fair values of the land and land held for future development were measured through market data approach which provides an indication of value by comparing the subject asset with an identical or similar assets for which price information is available. This approach was used for the land as it is commonly used in the property market since inputs and data for this approach are available.

The fair values of the buildings (retail, office and warehouses) were measured through income approach using the discounted cash flow analysis. This approach converts anticipated future gains to present worth by projecting reasonable income and expenses for the subject property.

The construction in progress were measured at cost until such time the fair value becomes reliably measurable or construction is completed (whichever comes earlier).

The significant assumptions used in the valuation are discount rates of 8% - 11% and capitalization rates of 4.17% to 7.00%. The significant unobservable inputs to valuation of investment properties ranges from ₱750 to ₱400,000 per sqm.

Rental income derived from investment properties amounted to ₱22,709 million, ₱20,664 million and ₱18,690 million for the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively (see Note 21).

Except for contracts awarded, there are no contractual obligations to purchase, construct or develop investment properties or for repairs, maintenance and enhancements.

Contract liabilities (including noncurrent portion shown in Note 17) consist of collections from real estate customers which have not reached the equity threshold to qualify for revenue recognition and excess of collections over the goods and services transferred based on percentage of completion.

The movement in contract liabilities is mainly due to reservation of sales and advance payment of buyers less real estate sales recognized upon reaching the equity threshold from increase in percentage of completion. The contract liabilities account includes deposits from real estate buyers that have not met the revenue recognition threshold of 10% and these amounted to ₱3,739 million and ₱3,258 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

Performance obligations

Information about the Group's performance obligations are summarized below:

Real estate sales. The Group entered into contracts to sell with one identified performance obligation which is the sale of the real estate unit together with the services to transfer the title to the buyer upon full payment of contract price. The amount of consideration indicated in the contract to sell is fixed and has no variable consideration.

The sale of real estate unit may cover either the (i) commercial lot; (ii) serviced lot; (iii) serviced lot and house; and (iv) condominium unit. The Group concluded that there is one performance obligation in each of these contracts. The Group recognizes revenue from the sale of these real estate projects under pre-completed contract over time during the course of the construction.

On real estate sales from Chengdu Xin Yao, the revenue is recognized under the completed contract method. Under this method, all revenue and costs associated with the sale of the real estate inventories are recognized at a point in time only after the completion of the real estate projects.

Payment commences upon signing of the contract to sell and the consideration is payable in cash or under various financing schemes entered with the customer. The amount due for collection under the amortization schedule for each of the customer does not necessarily coincide with the progress of construction, which results to either a receivable or contract liability.

After the delivery of the completed real estate unit, the Group provides one-year warranty to repair minor defects on the delivered serviced lot and house and condominium unit. This is assessed by the Group as a quality assurance warranty and not treated as a separate performance obligation.

The transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligations (unsatisfied or partially satisfied) as at December 31 are as follows:

Within one year	₱4,759,203,236	₱2,366,728,502

The remaining performance obligations expected to be recognized within one year and in more than one year relate to the continuous development of the Group's real estate projects. The Group's condominium units are completed within three years and five years from start of construction while serviced lots and serviced lots and house are expected to be completed within two to three years from start of development.

The plan assets have diverse investments and do not have any concentration risk.
The management performs an asset-liability matching strategy annually. The overall investment policy and strategy of the Group's defined benefit plans is guided by the objective of achieving an investment return which, together with contributions, ensures that there will be sufficient assets to pay pension benefits as they fall due while also mitigating the various risk of the plans.

The overall expected rates of return on assets are based on the market expectations prevailing as at the reporting date, applicable to the period over which the obligation is settled.

The Group expects to contribute ₱63 million to the defined benefit pension plans in 2026.

The average duration of the defined benefit obligation of the Group as of December 31, 2025 and 2024 is 17.58 years and 21.50 years, respectively.

The principal assumptions used to determine the pension benefits of the Group follow:

Discount rate	6.23% to 6.38%	6.10% to 6.11%
Rate of salary increase	5.50%	5.50%

There are no unusual or significant risks to which the Plan exposes the Group. However, in the event a benefit claim arises under the Retirement Plan and the Retirement Fund is not sufficient to pay the benefit, the unfunded portion of the claim shall immediately be due and payable from the Group to the Retirement Fund.

The sensitivity analysis below has been determined based on reasonably possible changes of each significant assumption on the retirement benefit obligation as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, assuming all other assumptions were held constant.

It should be noted that the changes assumed to be reasonably possible at the valuation date are open to subjectivity, and do not consider more complex scenarios in which changes other than those assumed may be deemed to be more reasonable.

The balances below show the addition/reduction in pension obligation assuming assumptions are changed:

		Increase (decrease) on pension liabilities

Enterprise Risk Management Group (ERMG)
To systematize the risk management within the Group, the ERMG was created to be primarily responsible for the execution of the enterprise risk management framework. The ERMG's main concerns include:

a. recommending risk policies, strategies, principles, framework and limits;
b. managing fundamental risk issues and monitoring of relevant risk decisions;
c. providing support to management in implementing the risk policies and strategies; and
d. developing a risk awareness program.

Support groups have likewise been created to explicitly manage on a day-to-day basis specific types of risks like trade receivables, supplier management, etc.

Compliance with the principles of good corporate governance is also one of the objectives of the BOD. To assist the BOD in achieving this purpose, the BOD has designated a Compliance Officer who shall be responsible for monitoring the actual compliance with the provisions and requirements of the Corporate Governance Manual and other requirements on good corporate governance, identifying and monitoring control compliance risks, determining violations, and recommending penalties on such infringements for further review and approval of the BOD, among others.

Risk Management Policies
The main risks arising from the use of financial instruments are foreign currency risk, liquidity risk, interest rate risk and credit risk. The Group's policies for managing the aforementioned risks are summarized below.

Foreign currency risk. Foreign currency risk is the risk that the future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. Foreign currency risk arises from financial instruments that are denominated in United States Dollar (USD), Chinese Yuan (RMB), Singaporean Dollar (SGD), and Canadian Dollar (CND) which result primarily from movement of the Philippine Peso (PHP) against these foreign currencies.

The Group does not have any foreign currency hedging arrangements.

The table below summarizes the Group's exposure to foreign currency risk:

Sensitivity to foreign exchange rates is calculated on the Group's foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities, assuming a more likely scenario of foreign exchange rate of foreign currency-PHP that can happen within 12 months after reporting date using the same balances of financial assets and liabilities as of reporting date.

The Group does not expect the impact of the volatility on other currencies to be material.

Liquidity risk. Liquidity risk is the risk arising from the shortage of funds due to unexpected events or transactions. The Group manages its liquidity profile to be able to finance the capital expenditures and service the maturing debts. To cover the financing requirements, the Group intends to use internally generated funds and proceeds from debt and equity offerings.

The following table summarizes the maturity profile of the Group's financial assets and financial liabilities as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, based on contractual undiscounted cash flows. The table also analyses the maturity profile of the Group's financial assets in order to provide a complete view of the Group's contractual commitments. The analysis into relevant maturity groupings is based on the remaining period at the end of the reporting period to the contractual maturity dates.

Balances due within twelve (12) months equal their carrying amounts, as the impact of discounting is insignificant.

The Group seeks to manage its liquidity profile to be able to service its maturing debts and to finance capital requirements. The Group maintains a level of cash and cash equivalents deemed sufficient to finance operations. As part of its liquidity risk management, the Group regularly evaluates its projected and actual cash flows. It also continuously assesses conditions in the financial markets for opportunities to pursue fund-raising activities. Fund-raising activities may include bank loans and capital market issues both onshore and offshore.

Interest rate risk. Interest rate risk is the risk that the future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Group's exposure to the risk for changes in market interest rates relates primarily to the Group's long-term debt obligation with a floating interest rate.

The Group's policy is to manage its interest cost using a mix of fixed and variable rate debts, whenever it's advantageous to the Group.

The Group has no financial instruments with variable interest rates exposed to interest rate risk as of December 31, 2025 and 2024.

Credit risk. Credit risk is the risk that counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. The Group is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily from cash and cash equivalents and receivables).

The Group trades only with recognized, creditworthy third parties. It is the Group's policy that all customers who wish to trade on credit terms are subject to credit verification procedures.

In addition, receivable balances are monitored on an ongoing basis. Customers' credit risk is managed by each business unit subject to the Group's established policy, procedures and controls. Credit quality of a customer is assessed and individual credit limits are defined in accordance with this assessment. These measures result in the Group's exposure to impairment loss as not significant. For installment contract receivables, exposure to bad debt is not significant as title to real estate properties are not transferred to the buyers until full payment has been made and the requirement for remedial procedure is minimal given the profile of buyers.

Credit risk arising from rental income from leasing properties is primarily managed through a tenant selection process. Prospective tenants are evaluated on the basis of payment track record and other credit information. In accordance with the provisions of the lease contracts, the lessees are required to deposit with the Group security deposits and advance rentals which helps significantly reduce the Group's credit risk exposure in case of defaults by the tenants. For existing tenants, the Group has put in place a monitoring and follow-up system. Receivables are aged and analyzed on a continuous basis to minimize credit risk associated with these receivables. Regular meetings with tenants are also undertaken to assess paying capacity.

With respect to credit risk arising from the Group's financial assets, which comprise of cash and cash equivalents and receivables, the Group's exposure to credit risk arises from default of the counterparty, with a maximum exposure equal to the carrying amount of these instruments. Credit risk from balances with banks and financial institution is managed by the Group's treasury department. Investments are only made with approved and credit worthy counterparties and within the credit limits assigned to each counterparty.

a. Credit risk exposure

The table below shows the gross maximum exposure to credit risk of the Group as of December 31, 2025 and 2024 without considering the effects of collaterals and other credit risk mitigation techniques:

	₱41,964,430,050	₱38,052,981,942

The credit risk on installment contract receivables is mitigated because the corresponding title to the subdivision units sold under this arrangement is transferred to the buyers only upon full payment of the contract price. Applying the expected credit risk model did not result in the recognition of an impairment loss for all financial assets at amortized cost in 2025 and 2024.

b. Risk concentrations of the maximum exposure to credit risk

Concentrations arise when a number of counterparties are engaged in similar business activities or activities in the same geographic region or have similar economic features that would cause their ability to meet contractual obligations to be similarly affected by changes in economic, political or other conditions. Concentrations indicate the relative sensitivity of the Group's performance to developments affecting a particular industry or geographical location. Such credit risk concentrations, if not properly managed, may cause significant losses that could threaten the Group's financial strength and undermine public confidence. Given the Group's diverse base of counterparties, it is not exposed to large concentrations of credit risks.

c. Credit quality per class of financial assets

High grade cash and cash equivalents are short-term placements and working cash fund placed, invested, or deposited in foreign and local banks belonging to the top ten (10) banks, including an affiliate bank, in the Philippines in terms of resources, profitability and credit standing.

High grade accounts, other than cash and cash equivalents, are accounts considered to be of high value. The counterparties have a very remote likelihood of default and have consistently exhibited good paying habits. Receivable from installment contract receivables are considered high grade as title of the real estate property of the subject receivable passes to the buyer once fully paid. Standard grade accounts are active accounts with propensity of deteriorating to mid-range age buckets. These accounts are typically not impaired as the counterparties generally respond to credit actions and update their payments accordingly.

Substandard grade accounts are accounts which have probability of impairment based on historical trend. These accounts show propensity to default in payment despite regular follow-up actions and extended payment terms.

33. Fair Values of Financial Instruments

The carrying amount of cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables (except installment contract receivables), other receivables, restricted cash, receivables and payables to affiliated companies and accounts payable and accrued expenses are approximately equal to their fair values due to the short-term nature of the transaction.

Set out below is a comparison of carrying amounts and fair values of installment contract receivables, deposits from lessees and loans payable that are carried in the consolidated financial statements.

The fair values of installment contract receivables, utility deposits, retention payable, deposits from lessees, lease liabilities and loans payable are based on the discounted value of future cash flows using the applicable rates for similar types of loans and receivables as of reporting date. The discount rates used range from 5.48% to 6.08% as of December 31, 2025 and 6.27% to 6.39% as of December 31, 2024.

The fair value of equity investments at FVOCI is based on quoted price in active market.

Fair Value Hierarchy

The Group uses the following hierarchy for determining the fair value of financial instruments:

Level 1: - quoted (unadjusted) prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
Level 2: - other techniques for which all inputs which have a significant effect on the recorded fair value are observable, either directly or indirectly;
Level 3: - techniques which use inputs which have a significant effect on the recorded fair value that are not based on observable market data.

The fair value of installment contract receivables, utility deposits, retention payable, deposits from lessees, lease liabilities and loans payable disclosed in the consolidated financial statements is categorized within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy. The fair value of equity investment at FVOCI are disclosed in the consolidated financial statements is categorized within Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy. There has been no reclassification from Level 1 to Level 2 or 3 category.

34. Commitments and Contingencies

Operating Lease Commitments - Group as Lessor

The Group has entered into commercial property leases on its investment property portfolio. These noncancellable leases have remaining noncancellable lease terms of between one (1) and ten (10) years. All leases include a clause to enable upward revision of the rental charge on an annual basis based on prevailing market conditions. The lease contracts also provide for the percentage rent, which is a certain percentage of actual monthly sales or minimum monthly gross sales, whichever is higher.

Total rent income amounted to ₱22,709 million, ₱20,664 million and ₱18,690 million for the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively. Group as a Lessee

The Group has lease contracts for various parcels of land used in its operations. Leases of land generally have lease terms between 25 and 50 years. The Group's obligations under its leases are secured by the lessor's title to the leased assets. Generally, the Group is restricted from assigning and subleasing the leased assets and some contracts require the Group to maintain certain financial ratios. There are several lease contracts that include extension and termination options and variable lease payments.

In October 2018, the Group entered into a lease agreement for the lease of contagious land situated in Malolos, pursuant to Proclamation No. 832 dated July 17, 2014. The project shall involve the lease of the project site and utilization thereof by the Group for a mixed-use development. In November 2024, the Parent Company gained control over the asset subject of the lease. The lease commenced thereafter and the ₱100 million upfront fee was recognized as part of the ROU asset as of December 31, 2025 and 2024.

The lease period of the project site shall be for 25 years commencing on the 3rd project year counted from the commencement of the Construction Date and terminating on the date 25 years thereafter. The lease shall be automatically renewed for another 25 years upon mutual agreement by the parties. The upfront fee will be applied against the rent due starting on the 1st year of operation of the Parent Company in the said property. The construction of the leased property commenced in November 2024 and the related ROU assets and Lease liabilities were recognized accordingly.

Moreover, the Group has contractual obligations amounting to ₱2,395 million and ₱1,847 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively, for the completion and delivery of real estate units that have been presold.

The group has no capital commitments related to its investments in joint ventures.

Contingencies. The Group has various collection cases or claims against or from its customers and certain tax assessments, arising in the ordinary conduct of business which are either pending decision by the courts or being contested, the outcome of which are not presently determinable. In the opinion of management and its legal counsel, the eventual liability under these lawsuits or claims, if any, will not have a material or adverse effect on the Group's financial position and results of operations. The Group does not believe that such assessments will have a material effect on its operating results and financial condition. The information usually required by PAS 37, Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets, is not disclosed on the grounds that it can be expected to prejudice the outcome of pending assessments.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

The Stockholders and the Board of Directors
Robinsons Land Corporation
Mall Admin Office, Lower West Lane, Robinsons Galleria
EDSA corner Ortigas Avenue, Ugong Norte
Quezon City, Metro Manila

We have audited the accompanying parent company financial statements of Robinsons Land Corporation (the Parent Company), which comprise the parent company statements of financial position as at December 31, 2025 and 2024, and the parent company statements of comprehensive income, parent company statements of changes in equity and parent company statements of cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2025, and notes to the parent company financial statements, including material accounting policy information.

In our opinion, the accompanying parent company financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Parent Company as at December 31, 2025 and 2024, and its financial performance and its cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2025 in accordance with Philippine Financial Reporting Standards (PFRS) Accounting Standards.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with Philippine Standards on Auditing (PSAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Parent Company Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants in the Philippines (Code of Ethics), as applicable to the audits of the financial statements of public interest entities, together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to the audits of financial statements of public interest entities in the Philippines. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Parent Company Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these parent company financial statements in accordance with PFRS Accounting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of parent company financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the parent company financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Parent Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Parent Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Parent Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Parent Company Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the parent company financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with PSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these parent company financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with PSAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the parent company financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Parent Company's internal control.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Parent Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the parent company financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Parent Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the parent company financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the parent company financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Report on the Supplementary Information Required Under Revenue Regulations 15-2010

Revenue Regulations 15-2010 require the information to be presented in the notes to parent company financial statements. 4. Summary of Material Accounting Policies

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from Contracts with Customers. The Parent Company derives its real estate revenue from the sale of vertical and horizontal real estate projects. Revenue from contracts with customers is recognized when control of the goods or services are transferred to the customer at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Parent Company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. Except for the provisioning of water, electricity, and common use service area in its leasing portfolio wherein it is acting as agent, the Parent Company has generally concluded that it is the principal in its revenue arrangements.

The disclosures of significant accounting judgments, estimates and assumptions relating to revenue from contracts with customers are provided in Note 5.

The following specific recognition criteria must also be met before revenue is recognized:

Real estate sales - Performance obligation is satisfied over time. The Parent Company derives its real estate revenue from sale of lots, house and lot and condominium units. Revenue from the sale of these real estate projects under pre-completion stage are recognized over time during the construction period (or percentage of completion) since based on the terms and conditions of its contract with the buyers, the Parent Company's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use and the Parent Company has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

In measuring the progress of its performance obligation over time, the Parent Company uses input method. Input methods recognize revenue on the basis of the entity's efforts or inputs to the satisfaction of a performance obligation. Progress is measured based on actual resources consumed such as materials, labor hours expended and actual overhead incurred relative to the total expected inputs to the satisfaction of that performance obligation, or the total estimated development costs of the real estate project. The Parent Company uses the cost accumulated by the accounting department to determine the actual resources used. Input method excludes the effects of any inputs that do not depict the entity's performance in transferring control of goods or services to the customer.

Estimated development costs of the real estate project include costs of land, land development, building costs, professional fees, payments for permits and licenses. Revisions in estimated development costs brought about by increases in projected costs in excess of the original budgeted amounts, form part of total project costs on a prospective basis.

Any excess of collections over the total of recognized trade receivables and installment contract receivables is included in the "contract liabilities" account in the liabilities section of the parent statement of financial position.

The Parent Company determines whether a contract contains a significant financing component on an individual real estate contract by considering (1) the difference, if any, between the amount of promised considerations and the cash selling price of the promised goods or services; and (2) the effect of the expected length of time between when the entity transfers the promised goods or services to the customer and when the customer pays for those goods or services, and the prevailing effective interest rate (EIR). The Parent Company applied practical expedient by not adjusting the effect of financing component when the period when the entity transfers a promised good or service to a customer and when the customer pays for that good or service will be one year or less. For every individual real estate contract, the Parent Company determines whether its transaction price on sale of real estate recognized over time includes a significant financing component based on defined qualitative and quantitative metrics.

The calculation of financing component in a transaction price is based on various inputs such as transaction price, cash discount, payment scheme, payment amortization table, discount rate, percentage of completion to the contract provision and projected percentage of completion schedule.

Real estate sales – Performance obligation is satisfied at a point in time. The Parent Company also derives real estate revenue from sale of parcels of raw land and developed land. Revenue from the sale of these parcels of raw land are recognized at a point in time (i.e., upon transfer of control to the buyer) since based on the terms and conditions of its contract with the buyers, the Parent Company's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use but the Parent Company does not have an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date. The Parent Company is only entitled to payment upon delivery of the land to the buyer and if the contract is terminated, the Parent Company has to return all payments made by the buyer.

Rental income. The Parent Company leases its commercial real estate properties to others through operating leases. Rental income on leased properties is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term and may include contingent rents based on a certain percentage of the gross revenue of the tenants, as provided under the terms of the lease contract. Contingent rents are recognized as revenue in the period in which they are earned.

Rental income is not recognized when the Parent Company waives its right to collect rent and other charges under a lease concession. This is recognized as a rent concession and reported as a variable payment in the parent company statement of comprehensive income.

Amusement income. Revenue is recognized upon rendering of services or at a point in time.

Revenue from hotel operations. Revenue from hotel operations is recognized as services are rendered or over time, and when food and beverage are served. Revenue from banquets and other special events are recognized as the events take place or over time. Rental income on leased areas of the hotel is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Revenue from food and beverage are recognized when these are served. Other income from transport, laundry, valet and other related hotel services are recognized when services are rendered.

Interest income. Interest income is recognized as the interest accrues using the effective interest rate (EIR) method.

Dividend income. Dividend income is recognized when the Parent Company's right to receive the payment is established.

Other income. Other income is recognized when earned.

The contract for the commercial spaces leased out by the Parent Company to its tenants includes the right to charge for the electricity usage, water usage, air-conditioning charges and Common Usage Service Area (CUSA) like maintenance, janitorial and security services.

For electricity and water usage, the Parent Company determined that it is acting as an agent for the benefit of the lessees because the promise of the Parent Company to the lessees is to arrange for the electricity and water supply to be provided by utility companies. The utility and service companies, and not the Parent Company, are primarily responsible for the provisioning of the utilities while the Parent Company administers the leased spaces and coordinates with the utility and service companies to ensure that lesseess have access to these utilities.

For the provision of CUSA and air-conditioning of the buildings, the Parent Company acts as a principal because it retains the right to direct the service provider of maintenance, janitorial and security to the leased premises, and air-conditioning, respectively. The right to the services mentioned never transfers to the lessees and the Parent Company has the discretion to add a minimal fee to the CUSA and air-conditioning charges.

Costs Recognition

Cost of Real Estate Sales. The Parent Company recognizes costs relating to satisfied performance obligations as these are incurred taking into consideration the contract fulfillment assets such as land and connection fees. These include costs of land, land development costs, building costs, professional fees, permits and licenses. These costs are allocated to the saleable area, with the portion allocable to the sold area being recognized as costs of sales while the portion allocable to the unsold area being recognized as part of real estate inventories.

Contract costs include all direct materials and labor costs and those indirect costs related to contract performance. Expected losses on contracts are recognized immediately when it is probable that the total contract costs will exceed total contract revenue. Changes in contract performance, contract conditions and estimated profitability, including those arising from contract penalty provisions, warranties, contingencies, cost constructions, and final contract settlements which may result in revisions to estimated costs and gross margins are recognized in the year in which the changes are determined.

Contract liabilities. A contract liability is the obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Parent Company has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer. If a customer pays consideration before the Parent Company transfers goods or services to the customer, a contract liability is recognized when the payment is made or the payment is due (whichever is earlier). Contract liabilities are recognized as revenue when the Parent Company performs under the contract. The contract liabilities also include payments received by the Parent Company from the customers for which revenue recognition has not yet commenced.

Marketing fees and management fees. Marketing fees and management fees from administration and property management are recognized as expense when services are incurred.

Costs to obtain contract. The incremental costs of obtaining a contract with a customer are recognized as an asset if the Parent Company expects to recover them. The Parent Company has determined that commissions paid to brokers and marketing agents on the sale of pre-completed real estate units are deferred when recovery is reasonably expected and are charged to expense in the period in which the related revenue is recognized as earned. Costs incurred prior to obtaining contract with customer are not capitalized but are expensed as incurred.

Cost of hotel operations (part of cost in the parent company statement of comprehensive income). Cost of hotel operations pertains to expenses incurred in relation to sale of goods and rendering of services. These are recognized when a decrease in future economic benefits related to a decrease in an asset or an increase of a liability has arisen that can be measured reliably. These are recognized when incurred and measured at the amount paid or payable.

Contract fulfillment assets. Contract fulfillment costs are divided into: (i) costs that give rise to an asset; and (ii) costs that are expensed as incurred. When determining the appropriate accounting treatment for such costs, the Parent Company firstly considers any other applicable standards. If those standards preclude capitalization of a particular cost, then an asset is not recognized under PFRS 15.

If other standards are not applicable to contract fulfillment costs, the Parent Company applies the following criteria which, if met, result in capitalization: (i) the costs directly relate to a contract or to a specifically identifiable anticipated contract; (ii) the costs generate or enhance resources of the entity that will be used in satisfying (or in continuing to satisfy) performance obligations in the future; and (iii) the costs are expected to be recovered. The assessment of this criteria requires the application of judgment, in particular when considering if costs generate or enhance resources to be used to satisfy future performance obligations and whether costs are expected to be recoverable.

The Parent Company's contract fulfillment assets pertain to connection fees.

Amortization, de-recognition and impairment of capitalized costs to obtain a contract. Following the pattern of real estate revenue recognition, the Parent Company amortizes capitalized costs to obtain a contract to cost of sales over the expected construction period using percentage of completion. The amortization is included within general and administrative expenses. A capitalized cost to obtain a contract is derecognized either when it is disposed of or when no further economic benefits are expected to flow from its use or disposal.

At each reporting date, the Parent Company determines whether there is an indication that cost to obtain a contract maybe impaired. If such indication exists, the Parent Company makes an estimate by comparing the carrying amount of the assets to the remaining amount of consideration that the Parent Company expects to receive less the costs that relate to providing services under the relevant contract. In determining the estimated amount of consideration, the Parent Company uses the same principles as it does to determine the contract transaction price, except that any constraints used to reduce the transaction price will be removed for the impairment test.

Where the relevant costs or specific performance obligations are demonstrating marginal profitability or other indicators of impairment, judgment is required in ascertaining whether or not the future economic benefits from these contracts are sufficient to recover these assets. In performing this impairment assessment, management is required to make an assessment of the costs to complete the contract. The ability to accurately forecast such costs involves estimates around cost savings to be achieved over time, anticipated profitability of the contract, as well as future performance against any contract-specific performance indicators that could trigger variable consideration, or service credits. Where a contract is anticipated to make a loss, these judgments are also relevant in determining whether or not an onerous contract provision is required and how this is to be measured.

Costs and General and Administrative Expense. Costs and general and administrative expenses are recognized in the parent company statement of comprehensive income when decrease in future economic benefit related to a decrease in an asset or an increase in a liability has arisen that can be measured reliably.

Costs and expenses are recognized in the parent company statement of comprehensive income:

- On the basis of a direct association between the costs incurred and the earning of specific items of income;
- On the basis of systematic and rational allocation procedures when economic benefits are expected to arise over several accounting periods and the association can only be broadly or indirectly determined; or
- Immediately when expenditure produces no future economic benefits or when, and to the extent that, future economic benefits do not qualify or cease to qualify, for recognition in the parent company statement of financial position as an asset.

Direct operating expenses and general and administrative expenses are recognized as they are incurred.

Borrowing Costs
Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction, or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale, are capitalized as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.

Interest and other financing costs incurred during the construction period on borrowings used to finance property development are capitalized as part of "Property and equipment" and "Investment properties" accounts in the parent company's statement of financial position. Capitalization of borrowing costs commences when the activities to prepare the asset are in progress and expenditures and borrowing costs are being incurred. Capitalization of borrowing costs ceases when substantially all the activities necessary to prepare the asset for its intended use are complete. If the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its recoverable amount, an impairment loss is recorded.

Capitalized borrowing cost is based on applicable weighted average borrowing rate for those coming from general borrowings.

Debt Issue Costs
Transaction costs incurred in connection with the availment of long-term debt are deferred and amortized using EIR method over the term of the related loans.

Leases
The Parent Company assesses whether a contract is, or contains a lease, at the inception of a contract. This assessment involves the exercise of judgment about whether it depends on a specified asset, whether the Parent Company obtains substantially all the economic benefits from the use of the asset, whether the Parent Company has the right to direct the use of the asset.

Parent Company as Lessee

Except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets, the Parent Company recognizes a right-of-use (ROU) asset and a corresponding lease liability with respect to all lease agreements in which it is the lessee.

ROU assets. The Parent Company recognizes ROU assets at the commencement date of the lease (i.e., the date the underlying asset is available for use). ROU assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities. The cost of ROU assets includes the amount of lease liabilities recognized, initial direct costs incurred, lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received, and any estimated costs to be incurred in dismantling and removing the underlying asset, restoring the site on which it is located or restoring the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease, unless those costs are incurred to produce inventories. Unless the Parent Company is reasonably certain to obtain ownership of the leased asset at the end of the lease term, the recognized ROU assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of its estimated useful life and the remaining lease term of up to approximately 28 years. ROU assets are subject to impairment. Refer to the accounting policies in Impairment of nonfinancial assets section.

Lease liabilities. At the commencement date of the lease, the Parent Company recognizes lease liabilities measured at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees. The lease payments also include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Parent Company and payments of penalties for terminating a lease, if the lease term reflected the Parent Company exercising the option to terminate. The variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognized as expense in the period on which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Parent Company uses the incremental borrowing rate at the commencement date if the interest rate implicit to the lease is not readily determinable. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is remeasured if there is a modification, a change in the lease term, a change in the in-substance fixed lease payments or a change in the assessment to purchase the underlying asset.

Short-term leases. The Parent Company applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to its short-term leases of office space (i.e., those leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option). Lease payments on short-term leases are recognized as expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Parent Company as Lessor

Operating leases. Leases where the Parent Company does not transfer substantially all the risks and benefits of ownership of the assets are classified as operating leases. Lease payments received are recognized as income in the parent company statement of comprehensive income on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating operating leases are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognized over the lease term on the same basis as the rental income. Contingent rents are recognized as revenue in the period in which they are earned. The Parent Company accounts for a modification to an operating lease as a new lease from the effective date of the modification considering any prepaid or accrued lease payments relating to the original lease as part of the lease payments for the new lease.

Finance leases. Leases in which the Parent Company, as a lessor, transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an underlying asset to the lessee are classified as finance leases. At the commencement date, the finance lease is accounted for as a sale of underlying asset. The Parent Company shall recognize the following:

- Revenue at an amount equal to the net investment in the lease. The net investment in the lease being the fair value of the underlying asset, or if lower, the present value of the lease payments accruing to the lessor, discounted using market rate of interest.
- Cost of sale being the cost, or carrying amount if different, of the underlying asset less the present value of the unguaranteed residual value; and
- Selling profit or loss (being the difference between revenue and the cost of sale) in accordance with the Parent Company's policy for outright sales to which PFRS 15 applies. The lessor shall recognize selling profit or loss on a finance lease at the commencement date, regardless of whether the lessor transfers the underlying asset as described in PFRS 15.

Initial direct costs incurred in obtaining a finance lease are excluded from the initial measurement of the net investment in the lease. After the lease commencement, finance income is recognized over the lease term, based on a pattern reflecting a constant periodic rate of return on the remaining balance of the net investment in the lease. Lease payments received from the lessee are allocated between the finance income and a reduction to the net investment in the lease.

Fair Value Measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible to by the Parent Company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Parent Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 - Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable
- Level 3 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the parent company financial statements at fair value on a recurring basis, the Parent Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

External valuers are involved for valuation of significant assets, such as investment properties. Involvement of external valuers is decided upon annually by the Parent Company. Selection criteria include market knowledge, reputation, independence and whether professional standards are maintained.

The Parent Company, in conjunction with the external valuers, also compares each of the changes in the fair value of each asset with relevant external sources to determine whether the change is reasonable.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Parent Company has determined classes of assets on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

Financial Instruments

Financial Assets

Initial recognition and measurement. Financial assets are classified, at initial recognition, as subsequently measured at amortized cost, FVOCI, and fair value through profit or loss (FVPL).

The classification of financial assets at initial recognition depends on the financial asset's contractual cash flow characteristics and the Parent Company's business model for managing them. With the exception of trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component or for which the Parent Company has applied the practical expedient, the Parent Company initially measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at FVPL, transaction costs. Trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component or for which the Parent Company has applied the practical expedient are measured at the transaction price determined under PFRS 15. Refer to the accounting policies in section "Revenue from contracts with customers".

In order for a financial asset to be classified and measured at amortized cost or FVOCI, it needs to give rise to cash flows that are "solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI)" on the principal amount outstanding. This assessment is referred to as the SPPI test and is performed at an instrument level.

The Parent Company's business model for managing financial assets refers to how it manages its financial assets in order to generate cash flows. The business model determines whether cash flows will result from collecting contractual cash flows, selling the financial assets, or both.

Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place (regular way trades) are recognized on the trade date, i.e., the date that the Parent Company commits to purchase or sell the asset.

Subsequent measurement. For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in four categories:

- Financial assets at amortized cost (debt instruments)
- Financial assets at FVOCI with recycling of cumulative gains and losses (debt instruments)
- Financial assets designated at FVOCI with no recycling of cumulative gains and losses upon derecognition (equity instruments)
- Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets at amortized cost (debt instruments)
This category is the most relevant to the Parent Company. The Parent Company measures financial assets at amortized cost if both of the following conditions are met:

- The financial asset is held within a business model with the objective to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and
- The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are SPPI on the principal amount outstanding

Financial assets at amortized cost are subsequently measured using the EIR method and are subject to impairment. Interest income and impairment losses on reversals are recognized in the parent company statement of income. Gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss when the asset is derecognized, modified or impaired.

As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, this category includes cash and cash equivalents, receivables, restricted cash, under "Other current assets" account and refundable utility deposits included under "Other current and noncurrent assets" account.

Financial assets designated at FVOCI (equity instruments)
Upon initial recognition, the Parent Company can elect to classify irrevocably its equity investments as equity instruments designated at FVOCI when they meet the definition of equity under PAS 32 Financial Instruments: Presentation and are not held for trading. The classification is determined on an instrument-by instrument basis.

Gains and losses on these financial assets are never recycled to profit or loss. Dividends are recognized as other income in the parent company statement of comprehensive income when the right of payment has been established, except when the Parent Company benefits from such proceeds as a recovery of part of the cost of the financial asset, in which case, such gains are recorded in OCI. Equity instruments designated at FVOCI are not subject to impairment assessment.

As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, this category includes investments in equity instruments of affiliates under common control of the ultimate parent company (included under "Other noncurrent assets" account).

In 2024, the financial assets at FVOCI includes the equity shares of GoTyme Bank. Subsequently, in August 2024, the Company sold its remaining shares in GoTyme Bank to JG Summit Capital Services, Inc. Following this transaction, the investment was reclassified to Non-Current Asset Held for Sale included under "Other current assets" account (see Note 10).

Derecognition. A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognized (i.e., removed from the parent company statement of financial position) when:

- The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired; or
- The Parent Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and either (a) the Parent Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Parent Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset

When the Parent Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a passthrough arrangement, it evaluates if, and to what extent, it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Parent Company continues to recognize the transferred asset to the extent of its continuing involvement. In that case, the Parent Company also recognizes an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Parent Company has retained.

Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Parent Company could be required to repay.

Modification of Financial Assets. The Parent Company derecognizes a financial asset when the terms and conditions have been renegotiated to the extent that, substantially, it becomes a new asset, with the difference between its carrying amount and the fair value of the new asset recognized as a derecognition gain or loss in profit or loss, to the extent that an impairment loss has not already been recorded.

When the contractual cash flows of a financial asset are renegotiated or otherwise modified and the renegotiation or modification does not result in the derecognition of that financial asset, the Parent Company recalculates the gross carrying amount of the financial asset as the present value of the renegotiated or modified contractual cash flows discounted at the original EIR (or credit-adjusted EIR for purchased or originated credit-impaired financial assets) and recognizes a modification gain or loss in the parent company statement of comprehensive income.

Impairment of Financial Assets. The Parent Company recognizes an allowance for expected credit losses (ECLs) for all debt instruments not held at fair value through profit or loss. ECLs are based on the difference between the contractual cash flows due in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Parent Company expects to receive, discounted at an approximation of the original effective interest rate. The expected cash flows will include cash flows from the sale of collateral held or other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms.

ECLs are recognized in two stages. For credit exposures for which there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, ECLs are provided for credit losses that result from default events that are possible within the next 12-months (a 12-month ECL). For those credit exposures for which there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, a loss allowance is required for credit losses expected over the remaining life of the exposure, irrespective of the timing of the default (a lifetime ECL).

For trade receivables, the Parent Company applies a simplified approach in calculating ECLs. Therefore, the Parent Company does not track changes in credit risk, but instead recognizes a loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date. The Parent Company has established a provision matrix for rental and accrued rent receivables and receivables from hotel operations and a vintage analysis for installment contracts receivables that is based on its historical credit loss experience, adjusted for forward-looking factors specific to the debtors and the economic environment.

For cash and cash equivalents, the Parent Company applies the low credit risk simplification. The investments are considered to be low credit risk investments as the counterparties have investment grade ratings. It is the Parent Company's policy to measure ECLs on such instruments on a 12-month basis based on available probabilities of defaults and loss given defaults. The Parent Company uses the ratings published by a reputable rating agency to determine if the counterparty has investment grade rating. If there are no available ratings, the Parent Company determines the ratings by reference to a comparable bank.

For other financial assets such as receivables from affiliated companies and utility deposits, ECLs are recognized in two stages. For credit exposures for which there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, ECLs are provided for credit losses that result from default events that are possible within the next 12-months (a 12-month ECL). For those credit exposures for which there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition a loss allowance is required for credit losses expected over the remaining life of the exposure, irrespective of the timing of the default (a lifetime ECL).

The Parent Company considers a debt investment security to have low credit risk when its credit risk rating is equivalent to the globally understood definition of 'investment grade'.

The key inputs in the model include the Parent Company's definition of default and historical data of three years for the origination, maturity date and default date.

Determining the stage for impairment. At each reporting date, the Parent Company assesses whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk for financial assets since initial recognition by comparing the risk of default occurring over the expected life between the reporting date and the date of initial recognition. The Parent Company considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort for this purpose. This includes quantitative and qualitative information and forward-looking analysis.

The Parent Company considers a financial asset in default when contractual payments are 90 days past due. However, in certain cases, the Parent Company may also consider a financial asset to be in default when internal or external information indicates that the Parent Company is unlikely to receive the outstanding contractual amounts in full before taking into account any credit enhancements held by the Parent Company.

An exposure will migrate through the ECL stages as asset quality deteriorates. If, in a subsequent period, asset quality improves and also reverses any previously assessed significant increase in credit risk since origination, then the loss allowance measurement reverts from lifetime ECL to 12-months ECL.

Write-off of financial assets. A financial asset is written off when there is no reasonable expectation of recovering the contractual cash flows (e.g. when the debtor has been placed under liquidation or has entered into bankruptcy proceedings, or when the Parent Company has effectively exhausted all collection efforts).

Financial Liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement. Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at FVPL, loans and borrowings, payables, or as derivatives designated as hedging instruments in an effective hedge, as appropriate.

All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

Directly attributable transaction costs are documentary stamp tax, underwriting and selling fees, regulatory filing fee and other fees.

Subsequent measurement. The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

Loans and borrowings. This is the category most relevant to the Parent Company. After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognized as well as through the EIR amortization process.

Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included as finance costs in the statement of profit or loss.

As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, this category include accounts payable and accrued expenses (except statutory liabilities), short-term loans, loans payable, and payable to affiliated companies and deposits from lessees, which are both included under "Contract liabilities, deposit and other current liabilities" and "Contract liabilities, deposit and other noncurrent liabilities".

Derecognition. A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the parent company statement of comprehensive income.

Offsetting of Financial Instruments
Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the parent company statement of financial position if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Subdivision Land, Condominium and Residential Units for Sale (or Real Estate Inventories)
Subdivision land, condominium and residential units for sale in the ordinary course of business are carried at the lower of cost and net realizable value (NRV).

Cost includes land costs, costs incurred for development and improvement of the properties (i.e., planning and design costs, costs of site preparation, contractor's fees and other professional fees, property transfer taxes, construction overheads and other related costs. It also includes the cost of land use right (see Note 9).

Real estate inventories that are leased out at market rates to earn revenues to partly cover for expenses on the condition that the intent to sell in the ordinary course of business has not changed are accounted and presented as inventory. The rent income from inventories that are leased out is included in other income in the parent company statement of comprehensive income.

NRV is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less cost of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

The cost of inventory recognized in the parent company statement of comprehensive income is determined with reference to the specific costs incurred on the property sold and an allocation of any non-specific costs based on the relative size of the property sold.

Real estate sales cancellations are accounted for as modification of the contract (i.e., from non-cancellable to being cancellable). Revenue from sale of real estate and cost of real estate sales previously recognized shall be reversed in the period of cancellation and the real estate inventories shall be reinstated at cost. Income from forfeitures, except accounts covered by Maceda Law, is presented as "Others" under "Real estate operations" in the parent company statements of comprehensive income.

Other Assets
Other assets mainly include advances to contractors and suppliers, advances to land owners, prepaid expenses and assets held for sale.

Advances to contractors and suppliers, advances to lot owners. These are carried at cost less impairment losses, if any.

Prepaid expenses. These pertain to resources controlled by the Parent Company as a result of past events and from which future economic benefits are expected to flow to the Parent Company. With the exception of commission from residential sales, which is amortized using the percentage of completion, other prepaid expenses are amortized over the period of coverage.

Assets held for sale. These are classified as assets held for sale when their carrying value will be recovered principally through a sale transaction rather than through continued use (see Note 10). For an asset to be classified as held for sale:

- it must be available for immediate sale in its present condition, subject only to terms that are usual and customary for sales of such assets;
- its sale must be highly probable; and
- it must genuinely be sold, not abandoned.

At initial recognition, the carrying amount of the asset is measured at the lower of the carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell. Subsequent to initial recognitions, assets held for sale are measured at the lower of carrying amount and fair value less cost to sell. Fair value less cost to sell is the estimated selling price, less estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

In determining the recoverability of the assets held for sale, management considers whether those assets' selling price has declined. Also, management considers whether the estimated cost to sell to be incurred have increased. The excess of the carrying amount over the fair value less cost to sell or any impairment loss is recognized in the parent company statement of comprehensive income.

Any subsequent increase in fair value less costs to sell of an asset held for sale up to the cumulative impairment loss previously recognized is recognized in the parent company statement of comprehensive income.

Assets classified as held for sale are not subject to depreciation. Management believes that the carrying amounts will be recovered principally through a sale transaction.

An extension of the period required to complete the sale does not preclude an asset from being classified as held for sale if the delay is caused by events or circumstances beyond the control of the Parent Company and there is sufficient evidence that the Parent Company remains committed to its plan to sell the assets.

When there are changes to a plan of sale and the criteria are no longer met, the classification of the asset an asset held for sale ceases.

Deposits from lessees. These are measured initially at fair value. After initial recognition, customers' deposits are subsequently measured at amortized cost using EIR method.

The difference between the cash received and its fair value is deferred (included in the "Deposits and other liabilities" in the parent company statement of financial position) and amortized on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Investments in Subsidiaries, Associate and Joint Ventures
The Parent Company's investments in subsidiaries, associate and joint ventures are accounted for at cost less accumulated impairment losses, if any.

The Parent Company recognizes income from investments only to the extent that the Parent Company receives distributions from accumulated profits of the investees arising after the date of acquisition. Distributions received in excess of such profits are regarded as a recovery of investment and are recognized as a reduction of the cost of the investment.

Interest in Joint Operation
The Parent Company recognizes, in relation to its interest in a joint operation, its assets, including its share of any assets held jointly; liabilities, including its share of any liabilities incurred jointly; revenue from the sale of its share of the output arising from the joint operation; share of the revenue from the sale of the output by the joint operation; and expenses, including its share of any expenses incurred jointly.

The financial statements of the joint operation are prepared for the same reporting period as the Parent Company. Where necessary, adjustments are made to bring the accounting policies in line with the Parent Company.

Investment Properties
Investment properties - Land, land improvements, buildings and improvements and construction in Progress (CIP). Investment properties consist of properties that are held to earn rentals or for capital appreciation or both, and that are not occupied by the companies consolidated into the Parent Company. Investment properties, except for land, are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment in value. Land is carried at cost less any impairment in value. The carrying amount includes the cost of replacing part of an existing investment property at the time that cost is incurred if the recognition criteria are met and excludes the cost of day to day servicing of an investment property.

Investment properties are depreciated and amortized using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives (EUL) as follows:

	Years
Buildings	20 - 40
Building improvements	10
Land improvements	10

The EUL and depreciation method are reviewed periodically to ensure that the period and method of depreciation are consistent with the expected pattern of economic benefits from items of investment properties.

CIP is stated at cost. This includes cost of construction and other direct costs. Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the construction of investment properties are capitalized during the construction period. CIP is not depreciated until such time as the relevant assets are in the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management.

Expenditures incurred after the investment property has been put in operation, such as repairs and maintenance costs, are normally charged against income in the period in which the costs are incurred.

Investment properties are derecognized when either they have been disposed of or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefit is expected from its disposal. Any gain or loss on the retirement or disposal of an investment property is recognized in the profit and loss in the period of retirement or disposal.

Transfers are made to investment property when, and only when, there is a change in use, evidenced by the end of owner occupation, commencement of an operating lease to another party. Transfers are made from investment property when, and only when, there is a change in use, evidenced by commencement of owner occupation or commencement of development with a view to sell.

Transfers between investment properties, owner-occupied property and inventories do not change the carrying amount of the property transferred and they do not change the cost of the property for measurement or disclosure purposes.

Investment properties - Land held for future development. Land held for future development consists of raw land held by the Parent Company which will be developed into investment properties in the future. Land held for future development is carried at cost less any impairment in value. Transfers are made to investment properties when there is commencement of construction of commercial centers or office building on the land property. Transfers are made from land held for future development to either property and equipment or subdivision land, condominium and residential units for sale when, and only when, there is change in use, as evidenced by owner occupation or upon commencement of real estate development with a view to sell.

Land held for future development are derecognized when either they have been disposed of or when the land is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefit is expected from its disposal. Any gain or loss on the retirement or disposal of land held for future development is recognized in the profit and loss in the period of retirement or disposal.

Fair value disclosure. The Parent Company discloses the fair values of its investment properties in accordance with PAS 40. The Parent Company engages independent valuation specialist to assess the fair values of investment properties. The Parent Company's investment properties consist of land and building pertaining to land properties, retail (malls), office properties and industrial facilities. These are valued by reference to market-based evidence using comparable prices adjusted for specific market factors such as nature, location and condition of the property and income approach by reference to the value of income, cash flow or cost saving generated by the asset.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment in value. The cost of an item of property and equipment includes its purchase price and any cost attributable in bringing the asset to the intended location and working condition. Cost also includes interest and other charges on borrowed funds used to finance the construction of property and equipment to the extent incurred during the period of construction and installation.

Expenditures incurred after the fixed assets have been put into operation, such as repairs and maintenance, are normally charged to expenses in the period in which the costs are incurred.

In situations where it can be clearly demonstrated that the expenditures have resulted in an increase in the future economic benefits expected to be obtained from the use of an item of property and equipment beyond its originally assessed standard of performance, the expenditures are capitalized as an additional cost of property and equipment.

Depreciation commences once the assets are available for use and is calculated on a straight-line basis over the EUL as follow:

	Years
Buildings	20-40
Building improvements	10
Land improvements	5
Theater furniture and equipment	5
IT Equipment	3
Other equipment	2.5

Assets under construction are transferred to a specific category of property and equipment when the construction and other related activities necessary to prepare the property and equipment for their intended use are completed and the property and equipment are available for service. Other equipment includes china, glassware, silver and linen on stock used in hotel operations.

The EUL and depreciation method are reviewed and adjusted, if appropriate, at each financial year-end to ensure that the period and method of depreciation are consistent with the expected pattern of economic benefits from items of property and equipment.

An item of property and equipment is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in profit and loss in the period the asset is derecognized.

Impairment of Nonfinancial Assets

The Parent Company assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that the Parent Company's investment properties, property and equipment, right-of-use assets, investments in joint ventures, investment in subsidiaries, interest in joint operation, other nonfinancial assets may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the Parent Company makes an estimate of the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is calculated as the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's fair value less cost to sell and its value in use (VIU) and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or group of assets. Where the carrying amount of an asset exceeds the recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. In assessing VIU, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessment of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. Impairment losses of continuing operations are recognized in the parent company statement of comprehensive income in those expense categories consistent with the function of the impaired asset.

An assessment is made at each reporting date as to whether there is any indication that previously recognized impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If any such indication exists, the Parent Company makes an estimate of recoverable amount. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. If that is the case, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the recoverable amount. That increased amount cannot exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognized for the assets in prior periods, such reversal is recognized in the parent company statement of comprehensive income.

Equity
Capital stock is measured at par value for all shares issued. When the Parent Company issues more than one capital stock, a separate account is maintained for each class of stock and the number of shares issued.

When the shares are sold at premium, the difference between the proceeds at the par value is credited to "Additional paid-in capital" account. Direct costs incurred related to equity issuance are chargeable to "Additional paid-in capital" account. If additional paid-in capital is not sufficient, the excess is charged against retained earnings.

Retained earnings represent accumulated earnings of the Parent Company less dividends declared. The individual accumulated retained earnings of the subsidiaries are available for dividend distribution when they are declared by the subsidiaries as approved by their respective BOD.

Treasury Stock
Own equity instruments which are acquired (treasury stock) are recognized at cost and deducted from equity. No gain or loss is recognized in the profit and loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Parent Company's own equity instruments. Any difference between the carrying amount and the consideration, if reissued, is recognized in additional paid-in capital. Voting rights related to treasury shares are nullified for the Parent Company and no dividends are allocated to them respectively. When the shares are retired, the capital stock account is reduced by its par value and the excess of cost over par value upon retirement is debited to additional paid-in capital when the shares were issued and to retained earnings for the remaining balance.

Income Taxes

Current income tax. Current income tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amounts are those that are enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date in the countries where the Parent Company operates and generates taxable income.

Deferred income tax. Deferred income tax is provided using the liability method on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date. Deferred income tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- When the deferred income tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss
- In respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and interests in joint arrangements, when the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future

Deferred income tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences, the carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred income tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilized, except:

- When the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss

- In respect of deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and interests in joint arrangements, deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent that it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized

The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable income will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilized. Unrecognized deferred income tax assets are reassessed at each reporting date and are recognized to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable income will allow all as part of the deferred tax and to be recovered. The Parent Company does not recognize deferred income tax assets that will reverse during the income tax holiday (ITH).

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred income tax relating to items recognized outside profit or loss is recognized outside profit or loss. Deferred income tax items are recognized in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

Deferred income tax assets and deferred income tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

Pension Expense

The Parent Company has a noncontributory defined benefit plan. The net defined benefit liability or asset is the aggregate of the present value of the defined benefit liability at the end of the reporting period reduced by the fair value of plan assets (if any), adjusted for any effect of limiting a net defined benefit asset to the asset ceiling. The asset ceiling is the present value of any economic benefits available in the form of refunds from the plan or reductions in future contributions to the plan.

The cost of providing benefits under the defined benefit plan is actuarially determined using the projected unit credit method.

Defined benefit costs comprise the following:

- Service costs
- Net interest on the net defined benefit liability or asset
- Remeasurements of net defined benefit liability or asset

Service costs which include current service costs, past service costs and gains or losses on non-routine settlements are recognized as expense in profit or loss. Past service costs are recognized when plan amendment or curtailment occurs. These amounts are calculated periodically by independent qualified actuary.

Net interest on the net defined benefit liability or asset is the change during the period in the net defined benefit liability or asset that arises from the passage of time which is determined by applying the discount rate based on government bonds to the net defined benefit liability or asset. Net interest on the net defined benefit liability or asset is recognized as expense or income in profit or loss.

Remeasurements comprising actuarial gains and losses, return on plan assets and any change in the effect of the asset ceiling (excluding net interest on defined benefit liability) are recognized immediately in OCI in the period in which they arise. Remeasurements are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods.

Plan assets are assets that are held by a long-term employee benefit fund or qualifying insurance policies. Plan assets are not available to the creditors of the Parent Company, nor can they be paid directly to the Parent Company. Fair value of plan assets is based on market price information. When no market price is available, the fair value of plan assets is estimated by discounting expected future cash flows using a discount rate that reflects both the risk associated with the plan assets and the maturity or expected disposal date of those assets (or, if they have no maturity, the expected period until the settlement of the related liabilities). If the fair value of the plan assets is higher than the present value of the defined benefit liability, the measurement of the resulting defined benefit asset is limited to the present value of economic benefits available in the form of refunds from the plan or reductions in future contributions to the plan.

The Parent Company's right to be reimbursed of some or all of the expenditure required to settle a defined benefit liability is recognized as a separate asset at fair value when and only when reimbursement is virtually certain.

Termination benefit. Termination benefits are employee benefits provided in exchange for the termination of an employee's employment as a result of either an entity's decision to terminate an employee's employment before the normal retirement date or an employee's decision to accept an offer of benefits in exchange for the termination of employment.

A liability and expense for a termination benefit is recognized at the earlier of when the entity can no longer withdraw the offer of those benefits and when the entity recognizes related restructuring costs. Initial recognition and subsequent changes to termination benefits are measured in accordance with the nature of the employee benefit, as either post-employment benefits, short-term employee benefits, or other long-term employee benefits.

Employee leave entitlement. Employee entitlements to annual leave are recognized as a liability when they are accrued to the employees. The undiscounted liability for leave expected to be settled wholly within twelve months after the end of the annual reporting period is recognized for services rendered by employees up to the end of the reporting period.

Foreign Currency Transactions

The parent company financial statements are presented in Philippine Peso, which is also the Parent Company's functional currency. Each operating segment, the Parent Company determines its own functional currency and items included in the financial statements are measured using that functional currency.

Transactions and balances. Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded at their respective functional currency spot rates at the date the transaction first qualifies for recognition. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency rates of exchange at the reporting date. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions.

Earnings Per Share (EPS)

Basic EPS is calculated by dividing net income attributable to equity holders of the Parent Company by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year. Diluted EPS is computed by dividing net income attributable to equity holders of the Parent Company by the weighted average number of common shares issued and outstanding during the period after giving effect to assumed conversion of potential common shares.

Operating Segment
The Parent Company's operating businesses are organized and managed separately according to the nature of the products and services provided, with each segment representing a strategic business unit that offers different products and services and serves different markets. Financial information on business segments is presented in Note 6 to the parent company financial statements.

Provisions
Provisions are recognized when the Parent Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Where the Parent Company expects a provision to be reimbursed, the reimbursement is recognized as a separate asset but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. Where discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as an interest expense. Provisions are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate.

Contingencies
Contingent liabilities are not recognized in the parent company financial statements but are disclosed unless the possibility of an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote. Contingent assets are not recognized in the parent company financial statements but are disclosed when an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

Events After the Reporting Date
Post year-end events that provide additional information about the Parent Company's position at the reporting date (adjusting events) are reflected in the parent company financial statements. Post year-end events that are not adjusting events are disclosed in the parent company financial statements when material.

5. Significant Accounting Judgments and Estimates

The preparation of the parent company financial statements is in compliance with PFRS Accounting Standards. The estimates and assumptions used in Parent Company financial statements are based upon management's evaluation of relevant facts and circumstances as of the date of the parent financial statements. Future events may occur which will cause the assumptions used in arriving at the estimates to change. The effects of any change in judgments and estimates are reflected in the parent financial statements, as they become reasonably determinable. Actual results could differ from such estimates.

Judgments and estimates are continuously evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

Judgments
In the process of applying the Parent Company's accounting policies, management has made the following judgments, apart from those involving estimations, which has the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the parent company financial statements.

Existence of a contract. The Parent Company's primary document for a contract with a customer is a signed contract to sell. It has determined, however, that in cases wherein contract to sell are not signed by both parties, the combination of its other duly executed and signed documentation such as reservation agreement, official receipts, buyers' computation sheets and invoices, would contain all the criteria to qualify as contract with the customer under PFRS 15.

In addition, part of the assessment process of the Parent Company before revenue recognition is to assess the probability that the Parent Company will collect the consideration to which it will be entitled in exchange for the real estate property that will be transferred to the customer. In evaluating whether collectability of an amount of consideration is probable, an entity considers the significance of the customer's initial payments in relation to the total contract price. Collectability is also assessed by considering factors such as past history with the customer, age and pricing of the property. Management regularly evaluates the historical cancellations and back-outs if it would still support its current threshold of customers' equity before commencing revenue recognition.

Revenue recognition method and measure of progress. For the revenue from real estate sales in the Philippines, the Parent Company concluded that revenue is to be recognized over time because: (a) the Parent Company's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use and; (b) the Parent Company has an enforceable right for performance completed to date. The promised property is specifically identified in the contract and the contractual restriction on the Parent Company's ability to direct the promised property for another use is substantive. This is because the property promised to the customer is not interchangeable with other properties without breaching the contract and without incurring significant costs that otherwise would not have been incurred in relation to that contract. In addition, under the current legal framework, the customer is contractually obliged to make payments to the developer up to the performance completed to date. In addition, the Parent Company requires a certain percentage of buyer's payments of total selling price (buyer's equity), to be collected as one of the criteria in order to initiate revenue recognition. Reaching this level of collection is an indication of buyer's continuing commitment and the probability that economic benefits will flow to the Parent Company. The Parent Company considers that the initial and continuing investments by the buyer of about 10% on projects that are under development and construction demonstrate the buyer's commitment to pay. For certain inventories that have been fully completed and ready for occupancy, outright investment of the buyer of about 5% demonstrates the buyer's commitment to pay.

The Parent Company has determined that input method used in measuring the progress of the performance obligation faithfully depicts the Parent Company's performance in transferring control of real estate development to the customers.

Determining transaction price of sale of real estate. The Parent Company determines whether a contract contains a significant financing component on an individual real estate contract by considering (1) the difference, if any, between the amount of promised considerations and the cash selling price of the promised goods or services; and (2) the effect of the expected length of time between when the entity transfers the promised goods or services to the customer and when the customer pays for those goods or services and the prevailing effective interest rate. The Parent Company applied practical expedient by not adjusting the effect of financing component when the period when the entity transfers a promised good or service to a customer and when the customer pays for that good or service will be one year or less. For every individual real estate contracts, the Parent Company determines whether its transaction price on sale of real estate recognized over time include a significant financing component based on defined qualitative and quantitative metrics.

Effective January 1, 2024, the Parent Company adopted the PIC Q&A No. 2018-12-D. The Parent Company followed the allowed modified retrospective approach allowing it to adjust the beginning balance of equity / retained earnings in 2024. The adjustment on the 2024 beginning balance of equity / retained earnings is an increase of ₱410 million. As at December 31, 2025, and 2024, the Parent Company assessed that the overall impact of the requirement of PIC Q&A No. 2018-12-D pertaining to significant financing component is not material to the parent company financial statements.

Revenue and cost recognition. The Parent Company's real estate sales is recognized overtime and the percentage-of-completion is determined using input method measured principally based on total actual cost of resources consumed such as materials, labor hours and actual overhead incurred over the total expected project development cost. Actual costs also include incurred costs but not yet billed which are estimated by the project engineers. Expected project development costs include costs of land, land development, building costs, professional fees, depreciation of equipment directly used in the construction, payments for permits and licenses. Revisions in estimated development costs brought about by increases in projected costs in excess of the original budgeted amounts, form part of total project costs on a prospective basis and is allocated between costs of sales and real estate inventories.

Principal versus agent considerations. The contract for the mall retail spaces and office spaces leased out by the Parent Company to its tenants includes the right to charge for the electricity usage, water usage, air conditioning charges and CUSA like maintenance, janitorial and security services.

For electricity and water usage, the Parent Company determined that it is acting as an agent for the benefit of the lessees because the promise of the Parent Company to the lessees is to arrange for the electricity and water supply to be provided by utility companies. The utility and service companies, and not the Parent Company, are primary responsible for the provisioning of the utilities while the Parent Company, administers for a minimal fee, the leased spaces and coordinates with the utility and service companies to ensure that lessees have access to these utilities.

For the provision of air conditioning and CUSA, the Parent Company acts as a principal because it retains the right to direct the service provider of CUSA and air conditioning to the leased premises. The right to the services mentioned never transfers to the lessees and the Parent Company has the discretion to add a nominal fee to CUSA and air conditioning charges.

Provision for expected credit losses. The Parent Company applied the following judgments that significantly affect its assessment of expected credit losses for its financial assets:

Definition of default and credit-impaired financial assets. The Parent Company defines a financial instrument as in default, which is fully aligned with the definition of credit-impaired, when it meets one or more of the following criteria:

Quantitative criteria - for installment contract receivables, the customer receives a notice of cancellation and does not continue the payments.

Qualitative criteria - the customer meets 'unlikeliness to pay' criteria, which indicates the customer is in significant financial difficulty. These are instances where:

a. The customer is experiencing financial difficulty or is insolvent
b. The customer is in breach of financial covenant(s)
c. An active market for that financial asset has disappeared because of financial difficulties
d. Concessions have been granted by the Parent, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the customer's financial difficulty

e. It is becoming probable that the customer will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganization

The criteria above have been applied to the financial instruments held by the Parent Company and are consistent with the definition of default used for internal credit risk management purposes. The default definition has been applied consistently to model the Probability of Default (PD), Loss Given Default (LGD) and Exposure at Default (EAD) throughout the Parent Company's expected loss calculation.

Incorporation of forward-looking information. The Parent Company incorporates forward-looking information into both its assessment of whether the credit risk of an instrument has increased significantly since its initial recognition and its measurement of ECL.

To do this, the Parent Company considers a range of relevant forward-looking macro-economic assumptions for the determination of unbiased general industry adjustments and any related specific industry adjustments that support the calculation of ECLs. Based on the Parent Company's evaluation and assessment and after taking into consideration external actual and forecast information, the Parent Company formulates a 'base case' view of the future direction of relevant economic variables as well as a representative range of other possible forecast scenarios. This process involves developing two or more additional economic scenarios and considering the relative probabilities of each outcome. External information includes economic data and forecasts published by governmental bodies, monetary authorities and selected private-sector and academic institutions.

The base case represents a most-likely outcome and is aligned with information used by the Parent Company for other purposes such as strategic planning and budgeting. The other scenarios represent more optimistic and more pessimistic outcomes. Periodically, the Parent Company carries out stress testing of more extreme shocks to calibrate its determination of these other representative scenarios.

The Parent Company has identified and documented key drivers of credit risk and credit losses of each portfolio of financial instruments and, using an analysis of historical data, has estimated relationships between macro-economic variables and credit risk and credit losses.

Joint Control. The Parent Company entered into various joint ventures with Shang Properties, Inc., Hong Kong Land Group, DMCI Project Developers, Inc. and Double Dragon Properties Corp. The Parent Company considers that it has joint control over these arrangements since decisions about the relevant activities of the joint ventures require unanimous consent of the parties as provided for in the joint venture agreements and shareholders' agreements.

Determining whether it is reasonably certain that a renewal and termination option will be exercised – Parent Company as a lessee. The Parent Company has several lease contracts that include renewal and termination options. The Parent Company applies judgment in evaluating whether it is reasonably certain to exercise the option to renew or terminate the lease. That is, it considers all relevant factors that create an economic incentive for it to exercise the renewal or termination. After the commencement date, the Parent Company reassesses the lease term if there is a significant event or change in circumstances that is within its control and affects its ability to exercise (or not to exercise) the option to renew or terminate (e.g., a change in business strategy).

The Parent Company determines the lease term as the non-cancellable term of the lease, together with any periods covered by an option to renew the lease if it is reasonably certain to be exercised, or any periods covered by an option to terminate the lease, if it is reasonably certain not to be exercised.

The Parent Company did not include the option to renew nor the option to terminate the lease in the lease term as the Parent assessed that it is not reasonably certain that these options will be exercised.

Operating lease commitments – Parent Company as lessor. The Parent Company has entered into commercial, office and industrial property leases on its investment properties portfolio. Based on an evaluation of the terms and conditions of the arrangements, the Parent Company has determined that it retains all the significant risks and rewards of ownership of these properties and accounts for them as operating leases. In determining significant risks and benefits of ownership, the Parent Company considered, among others, the significance of the lease term as compared with the EUL of the related asset.

A number of the Parent Company's operating lease contracts are accounted for as noncancellable operating leases and the rest are cancellable. In determining whether a lease contract is cancellable or not, the Parent Company considers, among others, the significance of the penalty, including the economic consequence to the lessee (see Note 34).

Finance lease commitments – Parent Company as lessor. The Parent Company has entered into property leases on some of its real estate condominium unit property portfolio. The Parent Company has determined, based on an evaluation of the terms and conditions of the arrangements, particularly the bargain purchase option and minimum lease payments that the Parent Company has transferred all the significant risks and rewards of ownership of these properties to the lessee and accounts for them as finance leases (see Note 34).

Distinction among real estate inventories, land held for future development and investment properties. The Parent Company determines whether a property will be classified as real estate inventories, land held for future development and investment properties. In making this judgment, the Parent Company considers whether the property will be sold in the normal operating cycle (Real estate inventories), whether it will be retained as part of the Parent Company's strategic land banking activities for development or sale in the medium or long-term (Land held for future development) or whether it will be held to earn rentals or for capital appreciation (Investment properties). For land properties, the Parent Company considers the purpose for which the land was acquired.

Contingencies. The Parent Company is currently involved in various legal proceedings in the ordinary course of business. The estimate of the probable costs for the resolution of these claims has been developed in consultation with the internal and external counsel handling the defense on these matters and is based upon an analysis and judgment of potential results by the management. The Parent Company currently does not believe these proceedings will have a material effect on the Parent Company's financial position. It is possible, that future results of operations could be materially affected by changes in the judgment or in the effectiveness of the strategies relating to these proceedings (see Note 34).

Judgments made in determining taxable profit (tax loss), tax bases, unused tax losses, unused tax credits and tax rates applying paragraph 122 of PAS 1, Presentation of Financial Statements. Upon adoption of the Interpretation, the Parent Company has assessed whether it has any uncertain tax position. The Parent Company applies significant judgment in identifying uncertainties over its income tax treatments. The Parent Company determined, based on its assessment, in consultation with its tax counsel, that it is probable that its uncertain income tax treatments (including those for the subsidiaries) will be accepted by the taxation authorities.

Estimates and Assumptions

The key estimates and assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date that has a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities are discussed below.

Revenue and cost recognition. The Parent Company's revenue recognition policies require management to make use of estimates and assumptions that may affect the reported amounts of revenue and costs. The Parent Company's revenue and cost from real estate where performance obligation is satisfied over time and recognized based on the percentage of completion is measured principally on the basis of the estimated completion by reference to the actual costs incurred to date over the estimated total costs of the project.

For the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, the real estate sales recognized over time amounted to ₱5,512 million, ₱5,399 million and ₱8,729 million, respectively (see Note 21), while the related cost of real estate sales amounted to ₱2,701 million, ₱2,850 million and ₱4,406 million, respectively (see Note 22).

Estimation of significant financing component. The Parent Company's estimation of transaction price allocated to financing component makes use of estimates and assumptions that may affect the estimated amount of financing component. The financing component calculation prepared by management, which covers the calculation on whether the financing component of the Parent Company's contract with customers is significant, is based on various inputs such as transaction price, cash discount, payment scheme, payment amortization table, discount rate, percentage of completion to the contract provision and projected percentage of completion schedule. In 2025 and 2024, the Parent Company has assessed the impact of the financing component on revenue contracts is not material to the parent company financial statements.

Fair value of financial instruments. When the fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded or disclosed in the parent company statement of financial position cannot be derived from active markets, they are determined using internal valuation techniques using generally accepted market valuation models. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, estimates are used in establishing fair values. These estimates may include considerations of liquidity, volatility and correlation. Certain financial assets and liabilities were initially recorded at their fair values by using the discounted cash flow methodology.

The fair value disclosure on financial instruments is disclosed in Note 32.

Provision for expected credit losses of trade receivables. The Parent Company uses a provision matrix to calculate ECLs for trade receivables other than installment contract receivables. The provision rates are based on days past due for groupings of various customer segments that have similar loss patterns.

The provision matrix is initially based on the Parent Company's historical observed default rates. The Parent Company will calibrate the matrix to adjust the historical credit loss experience with forward-looking information such as inflation and dollar index rates. At every reporting date, the historical observed default rates are updated and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analyzed.

The Parent Company uses vintage analysis approach to calculate ECLs for installment contract receivables. The vintage analysis accounts for expected losses by calculating the cumulative loss rates of a given loan pool. It derives the probability of default from the historical data of a homogenous portfolio that share the same origination period. The information on the number of defaults during fixed time intervals of the accounts is utilized to create the PD model. It allows the evaluation of the loan activity from its origination period until the end of the contract period.

The assessment of the correlation between historical observed default rates, forecast economic conditions (inflation and interest rates) and ECLs is a significant estimate. The amount of ECLs is sensitive to changes in circumstances and of forecast economic conditions. The Parent Company's historical credit loss experience and forecast of economic conditions may also not be representative of customer's actual default in the future.

Provision for impairment losses on receivables amounted to ₱29 million and ₱32 million in 2025 and 2024, respectively. Receivables written-off amounted to nil and ₱135 million in 2025 and 2024, respectively. The carrying value of trade receivables amounted to ₱26,023 million and ₱21,202 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively (see Note 8). The carrying value of installment contract receivables amounted to ₱21,944 million and ₱17,609 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively (see Note 8).

Evaluation of net realizable value of real estate inventories. The Parent Company adjusts the cost of its real estate inventories to net realizable value based on its assessment of the recoverability of the inventories. NRV for completed real estate inventories is assessed with reference to market conditions and prices existing at the reporting date and is determined by the Parent Company in light of recent market transactions. NRV in respect of real estate inventories under construction is assessed with reference to market prices at the reporting date for similar completed property, less estimated costs to complete construction and less estimated costs to sell. The amount and timing of recorded expenses for any period would differ if different judgments were made or different estimates were utilized. In evaluating NRV, recent market conditions and current market prices have been considered.

As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Parent Company's real estate inventories which include subdivision land, condominium and residential units for sale amounted to ₱30,886 million and ₱31,092 million, respectively (see Note 9).

Estimation of useful lives of property and equipment and investment properties. The Parent Company estimates the useful lives of its depreciable property and equipment and investment properties based on the period over which the assets are expected to be available for use. The EUL of the said depreciable assets are reviewed at least annually and are updated if expectations differ from previous estimates due to physical wear and tear and technical or commercial obsolescence on the use of these assets. It is possible that future results of operations could be materially affected by changes in these estimates brought about by changes in the factors mentioned above. A reduction in the EUL of the depreciable property and equipment and investment properties would increase depreciation expense and decrease noncurrent assets.

The carrying value of depreciable property and equipment amounted to ₱20,223 million and ₱14,036 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively (see Note 11). The carrying value of depreciable investment properties amounted to ₱49,116 million and ₱52,578 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively (see Note 12).

Impairment of nonfinancial assets. The Parent Company assesses impairment on its nonfinancial assets (i.e., investment properties, property and equipment, right-of-use assets, investments in subsidiaries, associate and joint ventures and other nonfinancial assets) and considers the following important indicators:

- Significant changes in asset usage;
- Significant decline in assets' market value;

- Obsolescence or physical damage of an asset;
- Significant underperformance relative to expected historical or projected future operating results; and
- Significant negative industry or economic trends

An impairment loss is recognized whenever the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount of an asset is the higher of its fair value less cost to sell and value in use. Recoverable amounts are estimated for individual assets or, if it is not possible, for the CGU to which the asset belongs, while value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life.

The carrying values of the Parent Company's nonfinancial assets as of December 31, 2025 and 2024 are disclosed below.

Pension cost. The determination of the obligation and cost of pension benefits is dependent on the selection of certain assumptions used in calculating such amounts. Those assumptions include, among others, discount rates and salary increase rates (see Note 29). The cost of defined benefit pension plan and the present value of the pension liabilities are determined using actuarial valuations. Due to the complexity of the valuation, the underlying assumptions and its long-term nature, defined benefit liabilities are highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

In determining the appropriate discount rate, management considers the interest rates of government bonds that are denominated in the currency in which the benefits will be paid, with extrapolated maturities corresponding to the expected duration of the defined benefit liability. Future salary increases are based on expected future inflation rates and other relevant factors. The present value of the defined benefit obligation is determined by discounting the estimated future cash outflows using interest rates of Philippine government bonds with terms consistent with the expected employee benefit payout as of reporting date.

As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Parent Company's net pension liabilities amounted to ₱736 million and ₱669 million, respectively (see Notes 17 and 29).

Leases - Estimating the incremental borrowing rate. The Parent Company cannot readily determine the interest rate implicit in the lease, therefore, it uses its incremental borrowing rate (IBR) to measure lease liabilities. The IBR is the rate of interest that the Parent Company would have to pay to borrow over a similar term, and with a similar security, the funds necessary to obtain an asset of a similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment. The IBR therefore reflects what the Parent Company 'would have to pay', which requires estimation when no observable rates are available (such as for subsidiaries that do not enter into financing transactions) or when they need to be adjusted to reflect the terms and conditions of the lease (for example, when leases are not in the subsidiary's functional currency). The Parent Company estimates the IBR using observable inputs (such as market interest rates) when available and is required to make certain entity-specific estimates (such as the subsidiary's stand-alone credit rating).

The Parent Company's lease liabilities amounted to ₱6,364 million and ₱4,782 million as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively (see Notes 15, 17 and 34).

Recognition of deferred tax assets. Deferred tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that sufficient taxable income will be available against which the deductible temporary differences can be utilized. Significant management estimate is required to determine the amount of deferred tax asset that can be recognized, based upon the likely timing and level of future taxable income together with future tax planning.

Deferred tax assets recognized as of December 31, 2025 and 2024 amounted to ₱1,536 million and ₱1,434 million, respectively (see Note 27).

6. Operating Segments

Business Segments

The business segment is determined as the primary segment reporting format as the Parent Company's risks and rates of return are affected predominantly by each operating segment.

Management monitors the operating results of its operating segments separately for the purpose of making decision about resource allocation and performance assessment. Parent Company financing (including interest income and interest expense) and income taxes are managed on a group basis and are not allocated to operating segments. The Parent Company evaluates performance based on earnings before interest, income tax, depreciation and other income (losses) (EBITDA).

The financial information on the operations of these business segments as shown below are based on the measurement principles that are similar with those used in measuring the assets, liabilities, income and expenses in the parent company financial statements which is in accordance with PFRS Accounting Standards except for EBITDA.

Costs and expenses exclude interest, taxes and depreciation.

The Parent Company derives its revenue from the following reportable units:

Robinsons Malls – develops, leases and manages lifestyle centers all over the Philippines.

Residential Division – develops and sells residential condominium units, as well as horizontal residential projects in the Philippines.

Robinsons Offices – develops and leases out office spaces.

Robinsons Hotels and Resorts – owns and operates a chain of hotels in various locations in the Philippines.

Robinsons Logistics and Industrial Facilities – develops and leases out warehouse and logistics facilities.

Robinsons Destination Estates – focuses on strategic land bank acquisition and management, exploration of real estate-related infrastructure projects.

Chengdu Xin Yao (CDXY) is no longer presented as a reportable segment as it no longer qualifies as a separately reportable segment. The operating results are presented under Robinsons Destination Estates segment.

The financial information about the operations of these business segments is summarized as follows:

The aggregate fair value of the Parent Company's investment properties as of December 31, 2025 and 2024 amounted to ₱319.52 billion and ₱312.84 billion, respectively. The following table provides the fair value hierarchy of the Parent Company's investment properties as of December 31, 2025 and 2024:

			Fair value measurement using
	Date of Valuation	Total	Quoted prices in active markets (Level 1)	Significant observable inputs (Level 2)	Significant unobservable inputs (Level 3)
			2025
Investment properties	Various	₱319,521,030,102	₱–	₱–	₱319,521,030,102
			2024
Investment properties	Various	₱312,841,791,273	₱–	₱–	312,841,791,273

The fair values of the land held for future development were measured through market data approach which provides an indication of value by comparing the subject asset with an identical or similar assets for which price information is available. This approach was used for the land as it is commonly used in the property market since inputs and data for this approach are available.

The fair values of the buildings (retail, office and warehouses) were measured through income approach using the discounted cash flow analysis. This approach converts anticipated future gains to present worth by projecting reasonable income and expenses for the subject property.

The construction in progress were measured at cost until such time the fair value becomes reliably measurable or construction is completed (whichever comes earlier).

The significant assumptions used in the valuation are discount rate of 11% and capitalization rates of 5.50% to 7.00%. The significant unobservable inputs to valuation of investment properties ranges from ₱750 to ₱400,000 per sqm.

Rental income derived from investment properties amounted to ₱13,824 million, ₱13,647 million and ₱13,862 million for the years ended December 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively (see Note 21).

Performance obligations

Information about the Parent Company's performance obligations are summarized below:

Real estate sales. The Parent Company entered into contracts to sell with one identified performance obligation which is the sale of the real estate unit together with the services to transfer the title to the buyer upon full payment of contract price. The amount of consideration indicated in the contract to sell is fixed and has no variable consideration.

The sale of real estate unit may cover either the (i) commercial lot; (ii) serviced lot; (iii) serviced lot and house; and (iv) condominium unit. The Parent Company concluded that there is one performance obligation in each of these contracts. The Parent Company recognizes revenue from the sale of these real estate projects under pre-completed contract over time during the course of the construction.

Payment commences upon signing of the contract to sell and the consideration is payable in cash or under various financing schemes entered with the customer. The amount due for collection under the amortization schedule for each of the customer does not necessarily coincide with the progress of construction, which results to either a receivable or contract liability.

After the delivery of the completed real estate unit, the Parent Company provides one-year warranty to repair minor defects on the delivered serviced lot and house and condominium unit. This is assessed by the Parent Company as a quality assurance warranty and not treated as a separate performance obligation.

The transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligations (unsatisfied or partially satisfied) as at December 31 are as follows:

The remaining performance obligations expected to be recognized within one year and in more than one year relate to the continuous development of the Parent Company's real estate projects. Pension Plans

The Parent Company has funded, noncontributory, defined benefit pension plans covering all of its regular employees.

It provides benefits based on a number of month's salary for every year of service. Under the existing regulatory framework, Republic Act 7641 requires a provision for retirement pay to qualified private sector employees in the absence of any retirement plan in the entity, provided however that the employee's retirement benefits under any collective bargaining and other agreements shall not be less than those provided under the law. The law does not require minimum funding of the plan.

The pension funds are being administered and managed through JG Summit Multi-Employer Retirement Plan (the "Plan"), with Robinsons Bank Corporation (RBC) as Trustee. The plans provide for retirement, separation, disability and death benefits to their members. The Parent Company, however, reserves the right to discontinue, suspend or change the rates and amounts of their contributions at any time on account of business necessity or adverse economic conditions.

The retirement plan has an Executive Retirement Committee, which is mandated to approve the plan, trust agreement, investment plan, including any amendments or modifications thereto, and other activities of the Plan. Certain members of the BOD of the Parent Company are represented in the Executive Retirement Committee. RBC manages the plan assets based on the mandate as defined in the trust agreement.

31. Financial Risk Management Objectives and Policies

The Parent Company's principal financial instruments comprise loans payable, deposits from lessees, receivables from affiliated companies, payables to affiliated companies, utility deposits, receivables and cash and cash equivalents. The main purpose of these financial instruments is to raise fund for the Parent Company's operations. The Parent Company has various other financial assets and liabilities such as trade receivables and trade payables, which arise directly from its operations.

The main risks arising from the Parent Company's financial instruments are foreign currency risk, liquidity risk, interest rate risk and credit risk. The BOD reviews and agrees policies for managing each of these risks and these are summarized below, together with the related risk management structure.

Risk Management Structure

The Parent Company's risk management structure is closely aligned with that of the Ultimate Parent Company. The BOD of the Parent Company and the respective BOD of each subsidiary are ultimately responsible for the oversight of the Parent Company's risk management processes that involve identifying, measuring, analyzing, monitoring and controlling risks.

The risk management framework encompasses environmental scanning, the identification and assessment of business risks, development of risk management strategies, design and implementation of risk management capabilities and appropriate responses, monitoring risks and risk management performance, and identification of areas and opportunities for improvement in the risk management process.

Each BOD has created the board-level Audit Committee (AC) to spearhead the managing and monitoring of risks.

Audit Committee (AC). The AC shall assist the Parent Company's BOD in its fiduciary responsibility for the over-all effectiveness of risk management systems, and both the internal and external audit functions of the Parent Company.

Furthermore, it is also the AC's purpose to lead in the general evaluation and to provide assistance in the continuous improvements of risk management, control and governance processes.

The AC also aims to ensure that:

a. financial reports comply with established internal policies and procedures, pertinent accounting and audit standards and other regulatory requirements;
b. risks are properly identified, evaluated and managed, specifically in the areas of managing credit, market, liquidity, operational, legal and other risks, and crisis management;
c. audit activities of internal and external auditors are done based on plan, and deviations are explained through the performance of direct interface functions with the internal and external auditors; and
d. the Parent Company's BOD is properly assisted in the development of policies that would enhance the risk management and control systems.

Enterprise Risk Management Group (ERMG). To systematize the risk management within the Parent Company, the ERMG was created to be primarily responsible for the execution of the enterprise risk management framework. The ERMG's main concerns include:

a. recommending of risk policies, strategies, principles, framework and limits;
b. managing fundamental risk issues and monitoring of relevant risk decisions;
c. providing support to management in implementing the risk policies and strategies; and
d. developing a risk awareness program.

Support groups have likewise been created to explicitly manage on a day-to-day basis specific types of risks like trade receivables, supplier management, etc.

Compliance with the principles of good corporate governance is also one of the objectives of the BOD. To assist the BOD in achieving this purpose, the BOD has designated a Compliance Officer who shall be responsible for monitoring the actual compliance with the provisions and requirements of the Corporate Governance Manual and other requirements on good corporate governance, identifying and monitoring control compliance risks, determining violations, and recommending penalties on such infringements for further review and approval of the BOD, among others.

Risk Management Policies

The main risks arising from the use of financial instruments are foreign currency risk, liquidity risk, interest rate risk and credit risk. The Parent Company's policies for managing the aforementioned risks are summarized below.

Foreign currency risk. Foreign currency risk is the risk that the future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. Foreign currency risk arises from financial instruments that are denominated in United States Dollar (USD), Singaporean Dollar (SGD), and Canadian Dollar (CAD) which result primarily from movement of the Philippine Peso (PHP) against these foreign currencies.

The table below summarizes the Parent Company's exposure to foreign currency risk as of December 31, 2025 and 2024.

Sensitivity to foreign exchange rates is calculated on the Parent Company's foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities, assuming a more likely scenario of foreign exchange rate of USD-PHP that can happen within 12 months after reporting date using the same balances of financial assets and liabilities as of reporting date.

The Parent Company does not expect the impact of the volatility on other currencies to be material.

Liquidity risk. Liquidity risk is the risk arising from the shortage of funds due to unexpected events or transactions. The Parent Company manages its liquidity profile to be able to finance the capital expenditures and service the maturing debts. To cover the financing requirements, the Parent Company intends to use internally generated funds and proceeds from debt and equity proceeds.

The following table summarizes the maturity profile of the Parent Company's financial assets and financial liabilities at amortized cost as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, based on contractual undiscounted cash flows. The table also analyses the maturity profile of the Parent Company's financial assets in order to provide a complete view of the Parent Company's contractual commitments. The analysis into relevant maturity groupings is based on the remaining period at the end of the reporting period to the contractual maturity dates.

Balances due within twelve (12) months equal their carrying amounts, as the impact of discounting is insignificant.

The Parent Company seeks to manage its liquidity profile to be able to service its maturing debts and to finance capital requirements. The Parent Company maintains a level of cash and cash equivalents deemed sufficient to finance operations. As part of its liquidity risk management, the Parent Company regularly evaluates its projected and actual cash flows. It also continuously assesses conditions in the financial markets for opportunities to pursue fund-raising activities. Fund-raising activities may include bank loans and capital market issues both onshore and offshore.

Interest rate risk. Interest rate risk is the risk that the future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Parent Company's exposure to the risk for changes in market interest rates relates primarily to the Parent Company's long-term debt obligation with a floating interest rate.

The Parent Company's policy is to manage its interest cost using a mix of fixed and variable debt rate debts whenever it's advantageous to the Parent Company. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, 100% of the Parent Company's loans payable are at a fixed rate of interest.

The Parent Company has no financial instruments with variable interest rates exposed to interest rate risk as of December 31, 2025 and 2024.

Credit risk. Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. The Parent Company is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily from cash and cash equivalents and receivables).

The Parent Company trades only with recognized, creditworthy third parties. It is the Parent Company's policy that all customers who wish to trade on credit terms are subject to credit verification procedures.

In addition, receivable balances are monitored on an ongoing basis. Customers' credit risk is managed by each business unit subject to the Parent Company's established policy, procedures and controls. Credit quality of a customer is assessed and individual credit limits are defined in accordance with this assessment. These measures result in the Parent Company's exposure to impairment loss as not significant. For installment contract receivables, exposure to bad debt is not significant as title to real estate properties are not transferred to the buyers until full payment has been made and the requirement for remedial procedure is minimal given the profile of buyers

Credit risk arising from rental income from leasing properties is primarily managed through a tenant selection process. Prospective tenants are evaluated on the basis of payment track record and other credit information. In accordance with the provisions of the lease contracts, the lessees are required to deposit with the Parent Company security deposits and advance rentals which helps significantly reduce the Parent Company's credit risk exposure in case of defaults by the tenants. For existing tenants, the Parent Company has put in place a monitoring and follow-up system. Receivables are aged and analyzed on a continuous basis to minimize credit risk associated with these receivables. Regular meetings with tenants are also undertaken to assess paying capacity

With respect to credit risk arising from Parent Company's financial assets, which comprise cash and cash equivalents and receivables, the Parent Company's exposure to credit risk arises from default of the counterparty, with a maximum exposure equal to the carrying amount of these instruments. Credit risk from balances with banks and financial institution is managed by the Parent Company's treasury department. Investments are only made with approved and credit worthy counterparties and within the credit limits assigned to each counterparty.

a. Credit risk exposure

The table below shows the gross maximum exposure to credit risk of the Parent Company as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, without considering the effects of collaterals and other credit risk mitigation techniques.

	₱46,180,197,980	₱43,675,619,274

The credit risk on installment contracts receivables is mitigated because the corresponding title to the subdivision units sold under this arrangement is transferred to the buyers only upon full payment of the contract price. Applying the expected credit risk model did not result in the recognition of an impairment loss for all financial assets at amortized cost in 2025 and 2024.

b. Risk concentrations of the maximum exposure to credit risk

Concentrations arise when a number of counterparties are engaged in similar business activities or activities in the same geographic region or have similar economic features that would cause their ability to meet contractual obligations to be similarly affected by changes in economic, political or other conditions. Concentrations indicate the relative sensitivity of the Parent Company's performance to developments affecting a particular industry or geographical location. Such credit risk concentrations, if not properly managed, may cause significant losses that could threaten the Parent Company's financial strength and undermine public confidence.

Given the Parent Company's diverse base of counterparty, it is not exposed to large concentration of credit risks.

c. Credit quality per class of financial assets

The table below shows the credit quality by class of financial assets as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, gross of allowance for credit and impairment losses.

High grade cash and cash equivalents are short-term placements and working cash fund placed, invested, or deposited in foreign and local banks belonging to the top ten (10) banks, including an affiliated bank in the Philippines in terms of resources, profitability and credit standing.

High grade accounts other than cash and cash equivalents are accounts considered to be high value. The counterparties have a very remote likelihood of default and have consistently exhibited good paying habits. Receivable from installment contract receivables are considered high grade as title of the real estate property of the subject receivable passes to the buyer once fully paid. Standard grade accounts are active accounts with propensity of deteriorating to mid-range age buckets. These accounts are typically not impaired as the counterparties generally respond to credit actions and update their payments accordingly.

Substandard grade accounts are accounts which have probability of impairment based on historical trend. These accounts show propensity to default in payment despite regular follow-up actions and extended payment terms.

32. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying amounts of cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables (except installment contract receivables), other receivables, utility deposits, receivable and payable to affiliated companies and accounts payable and accrued expenses are approximately equal to their fair values due to the short-term nature of the transactions.

Set out below is a comparison of carrying amounts and fair values of installment contracts receivables, deposits from lessees and loans payable.

	Carrying amount	Fair value	Carrying amount	Fair value

The fair values of installment contract receivables, utility deposits, retention payable, deposits from lessees, lease liabilities and loans payable are based on the discounted value of future cash flows using the applicable rates for similar types of loans and receivables as of reporting date. The discount rates used range from 6.32% to 6.39% in December 31, 2025 and 6.32% to 6.39% in December 31, 2024.

The fair value of financial assets at FVOCI is based on quoted price in active market.

Fair Value Hierarchy

The Parent Company uses the following hierarchy for determining and disclosing the fair value of financial instruments by valuation technique:

Level 1: quoted (unadjusted) prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2: other techniques for which all inputs which have a significant effect on the recorded fair value are observable, either directly or indirectly

Level 3: techniques which use inputs which have a significant effect on the recorded fair value that are not based on observable market data.

The fair value of installment contract receivables, utility deposits, retention payable, deposits from lessees, lease liabilities and loans payable disclosed in the parent company financial statements is categorized within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy. The fair value of financial assets at FVOCI disclosed in the parent company financial statements is categorized within Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy. There has been no reclassification from Level 1 to Level 2 or 3 category.
