ROBINSONS LAND CORPORATION11. Item 9 – Other Matters*Robinsons Land, AIHC Break Ground on New FedEx Logistics Facility

(Manila, 20 May 2026; PSE Ticker: RLC) – Robinsons Land Corporation (RLC) and Asian Infrastructure Holdings Corp. (AIHC) have broken ground on a new built-to-suit logistics facility for FedEx at Clark International Airport, a key logistics and aviation hub in Pampanga, under their joint venture, RL Clark Logistix, Inc. (RCLX).

The groundbreaking ceremony was held on May 19, 2026, at Clark International Airport, bringing together leaders from the national government, Clark aviation and development agencies, and the private sector.

RCLX is a joint venture between Robinsons Land and AIHC, with Robinsons Land holding an 85% stake and AIHC holding the remaining 15%. The project is being developed in coordination with Base Conversion Development Authority (BCDA), Clark Development Corporation (CDC) and Luzon International Premiere Airport Development Corp. (LIPAD), the operator of Clark International Airport.

The development is planned on approximately 15-Hectare site and is expected to deliver a total gross floor area of close to 78,000 square meters. Completion is targeted for the first quarter of 2028.

For Robinsons Land, the project adds scale to its logistics and industrial expansion through Robinsons Logistix and Industrials, Inc. (RLX), its logistics and industrial facilities arm. The development strengthens RLX's presence in a corridor supported by cargo movement, aviation activity, and regional distribution links.

The upcoming facility also supports Robinsons Land's broader direction of expanding investment properties and building more diversified income streams. Through RLX, the company is widening its industrial footprint in a way that supports portfolio diversification and strengthens recurring income over time.

“This partnership reflects Robinsons Land's commitment to developing well-located, future-ready logistics facilities that support the growth requirements of world-class companies such as FedEx,” said Cora Ang Ley, Senior Vice President of Robinsons Land and General Manager of RLX. “Through RCLX, we are building in Clark with a long-term view of operational efficiency, network expansion, and the growing role of the Philippines in regional trade and logistics.”

Once completed, the facility will give Robinsons Land a large-format, built-to-suit logistics development in Clark, further deepening its presence in one of the country's most active industrial and transport corridors.
